Building Bridges Carving Niches An Enduring Legacy Reprint 2000:

Building Bridges, Carving Niches Grace Loh, Chor Boon Goh, Teng Lang Tan, 2000 The ideals and thinking of Tan Chin Tuan were instrumental in the successful transformation of the traditional family bank into a modern economic institution This is the lasting legacy bequeathed by the merchant banker business leader institutional builder and public figure In writing this book the authors conducted numerous exclusive interviews with Tan and had exclusive access to his private papers and to many documents and materials hitherto unavailable to researchers This volume adds immensely to the limited literature on the history of local banks in Singapore BOOK JACKET British Business in Post-Colonial Malaysia, 1957-70 Nicholas J. White, 2004-08-02 This book explores the limits of the idea of neo colonialism the idea that in the period immediately after independence Malaya Malaysia enjoyed only a pseudo independence largely because of the entrenched and dominant position of British business interests allied to indigenous elites The author argues that although British business did indeed have a strong position in Malaysia in this period Malaysian politicians and administrators were able to utilise British business which was relatively weak vis a vis the Malaysian state for their own ends at the same time as indigenous businesses and foreign non British competitors were gathering strength In addition despite the commitment of both Conservative and Labour governments in the UK to preserving British influence worldwide through the Commonwealth relationship British firms in Malaysia received only limited support from the British post imperial state The Oxford Handbook of Business Groups Asli M. Colpan, Takashi Hikino, James R. Lincoln, 2010-08-06 Business groups large diversified often family controlled organizations with pyramidal ownership structure such as the Japanese zaibatsu the Korean chaebol and the grupos economicos in Latin America have played a significant role in national economic growth especially in emerging economies Earlier variants can also be found in the trading companies often set up in Britain which operated in Asia Africa and Latin America Business groups are often criticized as premodern forms of economic organization and occasionally as symptomatic of corrupt crony capitalism but many have shown remarkable resilience navigating and adjusting to economic and political turbulence international competition and technological change This Handbook provides a comprehensive analysis of business groups around the world It examines the adaptive and competitive capabilities of business groups and their evolutionary dynamics 16 individual country chapters deal with business groups from Asia to Africa the Middle East to Latin America while overarching chapters consider the historical and theoretical context of business groups With contributions from leading experts The Oxford Handbook of business groups provides a comprehensive empirically and theoretically rich guide for scholars and policy makers Strenuous Decades Chi-cheung Choi, Tomoko Shiroyama, Venus Viana, 2022-03-07 The movement of goods and passengers between port cities not only stimulates growth in coastal trading networks and centers but also inevitably changes the social and economic lives of people in these port cities and subsequently of their fellow compatriots farther inland Studies of port cities have focused on the interactive political and economic relationship between trading centers The center of attention in this book is socioeconomic life and cultural identity which are shaped by the movement of goods people knowledge and information particularly when the community faces a crisis Transnational studies focus on cross border connections between people institutions commodities and ideas with an emphasis on their global presence This book looks at the responses of different localities to the same global crisis It gathers a selection of the fifty papers presented at the conference on Coping with Transnational Crisis Chinese Economic and Social Lives in East Asian Port Cities 1850 1950 held in Hong Kong on June 7 11 2016 The period from the 1850s to the outbreak of war in the Pacific in the late 1930s encompasses two major transnational crises with significant impacts on the Chinese population in Southeast Asian port cities in terms of their way of living and the construction of their identity the emergence of bubonic plague in the 1880s and 1920s and the global economic crisis in the late 1920s and early 1930s The authors discuss the social and economic lives in various South East Asian port cities where many residents had to cope with these transnational crises They do so through examining institutional measurements rituals and festivals communication knowledge and information exchange as well as identity re construction In addition they explore how local communities responded to knowledge and information between the port cities and cities as well as inland locations The chapters in this book offer solid grounds for future comparisons not only based on a specific time or event but also on how society reacted over time space and various types of crises

The Transformation of Southeast Asia Marc Frey, 2003-08-26 Providing the basis for a reconceptualization of key features in Southeast Asia s history this book examines evolutionary patterns of Europe s and Japan s Southeast Asian empires from the late 19th century through to the 1960s Japanese Firms in Contemporary Singapore Hiroshi Shimizu, 2008 This pioneering work discusses the role of Japan in the economic development of Singapore since 1965 by looking at the nature and extent of the value added activities of Japanese multinational corporations MNCs in the manufacturing construction and retailing sectors Japan s economic presence and influence were very strong in Singapore during this period The city state was a major recipient of Japanese foreign direct investment in Asia and was also an important overseas customer for Japanese manufacturing and construction firms In this book Hiroshi Shimizu examines the value added activities of Japanese multinational corporations in Singapore drawing on case studies of leading companies such as Minebea Pokka Corporation Kikkoman Bridgestone and Isetan He uses this information to analyse Japanese foreign direct investment in Singapore as part of an Asian or global strategy explaining competition and co operation between Japanese MNCs and local firms and evaluating various factors that led to a decline of Japan and the rise in the importance of China in Singapore particularly since the late 1990s A Matter of Risk Kam Hing Lee, 2012 The insurance industry in Malaysia is a large and important sector of the economy in terms of capitalization business turnover assets and the number of employees Insurance companies played a crucial role in early Western economic expansion into Malaya underwriting shipping mining and plantation ventures to protect entrepreneurs from excessive risk

The scope of the insurance business later broadened to cover fire risks motor insurance and workmen s compensation while war risk coverage helped ensure that the economy continued to function during the 1940s and 1950s After independence the social and political environment of independent Malaysia offered new opportunities for the insurance industry A Matter of Risk shows how insurance companies established themselves in an unfamiliar environment marketed new products responded to diverse demands and safeguarded market share and profit against competition Local firms faced a major challenge as overseas insurance companies moved from running agency offices to setting up of branches taking over or collaborating with existing companies and eventually incorporating themselves as local companies The study looks at the role of tariff associations and insurance trade organizations such as the Persatuan Insurans Am Malaysia Malaysian General Insurance Association in maintaining order in the industry through self regulation

New Asian Emperors George T. Haley,Usha C. V. Haley,ChinHwee Tan,2012-11-26 Southeast Asia has a population of more than half a billion yet its economy is dominated by about 40 families most of Overseas Chinese descent Their conglomerates span sectors as diverse as real estate telecommunications hotels industrial goods computers and sugar plantations New Asian Emperors shows how and why Overseas Chinese companies continue to dominate the region and have extended their reach in East Asia despite the Asian financial and SARS crises of the past decade The authors base their conclusions on in depth structured interviews spanning a decade with the often elusive Overseas Chinese CEOs including Li Ka shing Stan Shih Victor Fung Stephen Riady and Sukanto Tanoto as well as on the strategic information that their companies use The analysis of the New Asian Emperors present day management techniques and practices draws on the history culture and philosophical perspectives of the Overseas Chinese in Southeast Asia In the midst of today s global economic crisis this book also takes a fresh look at the role and management practices of the Overseas Chinese as they continue to create some of Asia s wealthiest and most successful companies New Asian Emperors explains The sources and characteristics of Overseas Chinese management Whether Overseas Chinese management practices will spread in the same way that Japanese management did in the 1970s Whether Western management technologies have found themselves outmaneuvered in Asia s post crisis arena The Overseas Chinese managers strategies for the informational black hole of Southeast Asia and what Western managers can learn from them The New Asian Emperors unique strategic perspectives and management styles revealed through exclusive in depth interviews The implications for successfully co operating and competing with the Overseas Chinese of Southeast Asia New Asian Emperors offers key insights into the Overseas Chinese and the important role that cultural roots play in their dominance of Southeast Asian business Singapore ,2006

Business Groups in East Asia Sea-Jin Chang,2006-03-02 The 1997 Asian Crisis principally affected Thailand Indonesia Malaysia and Korea as well as other East Asian countries heavily dependent on intra regional trade Banks and other financial institutions quickly become insolvent and heavily indebted industrial firms went bankrupt Many of these firms were affiliated with the business groups of this region yet most groups did not immediately collapse indeed they proved remarkably robust some surviving and even prospering This book examines these East Asian business groups and their subsequent restructuring following the Asian Crisis East Asian nations embarked on very different trajectories to this common external shock The Asian Crisis affected the inter relationships among the socio cultural environment the state and the market of each country quite differently and had distinct effects on the operations of these countries business groups This slow yet divergent pattern of development provides evidence against theories of rapid global convergence Yet East Asian business groups face an uncertain future Foreign investors influence has increased substantially since the crisis as East Asian governments had to accommodate their demands to keep attracting foreign capital Governments supervise banks more closely and have loosened restrictions on mergers and hostile takeovers further strengthening the discipline of the market Various entry barriers that had inhibited foreign multinationals from competing in national markets were lifted exposing business groups to intensified foreign competition Under these new conditions business groups in East Asia should reconfigure their business structures and adjust their corporate governance systems to regain momentum for further growth Business groups will continue to be important vehicles for the sustained future growth of this region and this book presents a substantial amount of new data on this which will be of interest to academics
