Art and Architecture of the Eighteenth Century in France Wend von Kalnein, Michael Levey, 1972 Art and Architecture of the Eighteenth Century in France Wend Graf Kalnein, 1972 French Architectural and Ornament Drawings of the Eighteenth Century Mary L. Myers, Metropolitan Museum of Art (New York, N.Y.), 1991 Architecture in France in the Eighteenth Century Wend Graf Kalnein, Wend von Kalnein, 1995-01-01 Architecture in France in the Eighteenth Century Wend von Kalnein French architecture of the eighteenth century which exhibited great technical ability and refined taste influenced architectural style throughout Europe This handsome book is a survey of the French architecture of the period It begins with the origins of the style moderne under the last years of Louis XIV discusses the end of Rococo and the return to antiquity and concludes with the Revolutionary architecture and the house of Madame R camier Kalnein describes the development of palace and hotel architecture by the two great architects de Cotte and Boffrand discussing such large urban projects as the reconstruction of Rennes and the Places Royales He traces the return to antiquity which began when the scholars of the Académie d'Architecture were sent to Rome the revolutionary architecture with its grand but never executed projects and the shift from neoclassicism to early romanticism Kalnein also examines the decorative arts of the period which became even more important than architecture in the Rococo period Focusing on such architects as Boffrand Gabriel and Redoux he shows how a study of their building decoration illuminates the evolution of style moderne the battle between Rococo and Neoclassicism and the dissemination of French styles throughout Europe Art and Architecture of the Eighteenth Century in France [by] Wend Graf Kalnein and Michael Levey Wend von Kalnein, 1972 Painting and Sculpture in France, 1700-1789 Michael Levey, 1993-01-01 Discusses the major painters and sculptors of the period during the last years of France's ancien régime a period that started with Watteau and the fête galante and closed with the revolutionary history paintings of David The Architecture of the French Enlightenment Allan Braham, 1989-01-01 Allan Braham's comprehensive treatment of this brilliant and complex period introduces the reader to the major buildings architects and architectural patrons of the day At the same time it explores the broader determinants of architectural production the rapid economic expansion of Paris and the main provincial centers and the increasing demand for improved public amenities theaters schools markets and hospitals This generously illustrated book provides a vivid commentary on society and manners in pre Revolutionary France The 17th and 18th Centuries Frank N. Magill, 2013-09-13 Each volume of the Dictionary of World Biography contains 250 entries on the lives of the individuals who shaped their times and left their mark on world history This is not a who's who Instead each entry provides an in depth essay on the life and career of the individual concerned Essays commence with a quick reference section that provides basic facts on the individual's life and achievements The extended biography places the life and works of the individual within an historical context and the summary at the end of each essay provides a synopsis of the individual's place in history All entries conclude with a fully annotated bibliography A History of Western Architecture David Watkin, 2005 The history of Western architecture from the earliest times in Mesopotamia and Egypt to the dramatic impact of CAD on architectural practice at the beginning of the 21st century Eighteenth-century French Drawings in New York Collections Perrin Stein, Mary Tavenor Holmes, Metropolitan Museum of Art (New York, N.Y.), 1999 François Boucher and the Art of Collecting in Eighteenth-Century France Jessica Priebe, 2021-11-29 While earlier studies have focused predominantly on artist François Boucher's artistic style and identity this book presents the first full length interdisciplinary study of Boucher's prolific collection of around 13 500 objects including paintings sculpture prints drawings porcelain shells minerals and other imported curios It discusses the types of objects he collected the networks through which he acquired them and their spectacular display in his custom designed studio at the Louvre where he lived and worked for nearly two decades This book explores the role his collection played in the development of his art his studio his friendships and the burgeoning market for luxury goods in mid eighteenth century France In doing so it sheds new light on the relationship between Boucher's artistic and collecting practices which attracted both praise and criticism from period observers The book will appeal to scholars working in art history museum studies and French history Architectural Space in Eighteenth-Century Europe Meredith Martin, 2017-07-05 Architectural Space in Eighteenth Century Europe Constructing Identities and Interiors explores how a diverse pan European group of eighteenth century patrons among them bankers bishops bluestockings and courtesans used architectural space and décor to shape and express identity Eighteenth century European architects understood the client's instrumental role in giving form and meaning to architectural space In a treatise published in 1745 the French architect Germain Boffrand determined that a visitor could judge the character of the master for whom the house was built by the way in which it is planned decorated and distributed This interdisciplinary volume addresses two key interests of contemporary historians working in a range of disciplines one the broad question of identity formation most notably as it relates to ideas of gender class and ethnicity and two the role played by different spatial environments in the production not merely the reflection of identity at defining historical and cultural moments By combining contemporary critical analysis with a historically specific approach the book's contributors situate ideas of space and the self within the visual and material remains of interiors in eighteenth century Europe In doing so they offer compelling new insight not only into this historical period but also into our own French Art of the Eighteenth Century Heather Eleanor MacDonald, 2016-01-01 Since 2004 the Dallas Museum of Art has been the repository of the renowned collection of eighteenth century French art assembled by the late Michael Rosenberg The long term loan of these masterpieces greatly enhances the collection of European art at the Museum and the series of scholarly lectures funded by the Foundation the Michael L Rosenberg Lecture Series gives a powerful boost to its European art program Those lectures presented by top scholars in the field of European art history are re presented in this volume 15th-18th Century French Drawings in the Metropolitan Museum of Art Metropolitan

Museum of Art (New York, N.Y.), Jacob Bean, 1986 Furnishing the Eighteenth Century Dena Goodman, Kathryn Norberg, 2007 Publisher description European Art of the Eighteenth Century Daniela Tarabra, 2008 The Art Through the Century series introduces readers to important visual vocabulary of Western art Back cover Femininity and Masculinity in Eighteenth-century Art and Culture Gillian Perry, 1994 Focusing on the visual arts and written texts this book explores the nature of femininity and masculinity in 18th century Britain and France The activities and collective conditions of women as producers of art and culture are investigated together with analysis of representation and the ways in which it might be gendered This illustrated book should make an important contribution to debates on representation constructions of sexuality and women as producers French Eighteenth-century Painting David Wakefield, 1984 The Oxford History of Western Art Martin Kemp, 2000 The Oxford History of Western Art is the new authority on the development of visual culture in the West over the last 2700 years from the classical period to the end of the twentieth century OHWA is an innovative and challenging reappraisal of how the history of art can be presented and understood None of the currently available general histories of art offers the wealth of perspectives and cross media references of this book Through a carefully devised modular structure readers are given insights not only into how and why works of art were created but also how works in different media relate to each other across time Here uniquely is not the simple linear story of art but a rich series of stories told from varying viewpoints The founding principle of the book has been to use carefully selected groupings of pictures to give readers a sense of the visual texture of the various periods and episodes covered The 167 illustration groups supported by explanatory text and picture captions create a sequence of visual tours not merely a procession of individually great works viewed in isolation but juxtapositions of significant images that powerfully convey a sense of the visual environments in which works of art need to be viewed in order to be understood and appreciated The aim throughout has been to make the shape and nature of these visual presentations a stimulating and rewarding experience allowing readers to become active participants in the process of interpretation and synthesis Another key feature of the narrative is the re definition of traditional period boundaries Rather than relying on conventional labels such as Medieval Renaissance Baroque etc five major phases of significant historical change are established that unlock longer and more meaningful continuities The art of classical antiquity from c 600 BC to the fall of Rome in AD 410 The establishment of visual culture in Europe from 410 to 1527 the sack of papal Rome European visual regimes from 1527 to 1770 The era of revolutions 1770 to 1914 Modernism and after 1914 to 2000 This new framework shows how the major religious and secular functions of art have been forged sustained transformed revived and revolutionized over the ages how the institutions of Church and State have consistently aspired to make art in their own image and how the rise of art history itself has come to provide the dominant conceptual framework within which artists create patrons patronize collectors collect galleries exhibit dealers deal and art historians write The text has been written by a team of 50 specialist authors working under the direction of Professor Martin Kemp one of the UK's most distinguished art historians. Whilst bringing their own expertise and vision to their sections, each author was also asked to relate their text to a number of unifying themes and issues including written evidence, physical contexts, patronage, viewing and reception techniques, gender and racial issues, centres and peripheries, media and condition, the notion of art and current presentations. Though the coverage of topics focuses on European notions of art and their transplantation and transformation in North America, space is also given to cross-fertilizations with other traditions including the art of Latin America, the Soviet Union, India, Africa and Afro-Caribbean, Australia and Canada. Professor Kemp and his team similarly deal generously with the applied arts and reproductive media such as photography and prints. The result is a vibrant, vigorous and revolutionary account of Western art, serving both as an inspirational introduction for the general reader and an authoritative source of reference and guidance for students.
