Longacre, 2014-04-25 The talented William Dorsey Pender is a prime example of the advantage held by the Confederacy in junior level commanders during the opening months of the Civil War Pender a native North Carolinian graduated in the top half of the West Point class of 1856 One of the first Southern born officers to offer his services to the Confederacy Pender first came to prominence during the Seven Days Battles when a number of junior Confederate officers took bold action to counter the battlefield errors of some of their better known superiors Pender soon developed a reputation as Robert E Lee's favorite brigade commander After further capable service at Antietam Fredericksburg and Chancellorsville Pender was promoted to divisional command Arriving at Gettysburg on the first day of the battle Pender's troops from Georgia South Carolina and his own North Carolina played a major role in driving the veteran Union I Corps from the town Unfortunately Pender sustained what at first seemed a minor wound later in the battle and died of complications after the Confederate retreat back to Virginia The inability of the less populous Confederacy to replace key figures such as Pender was an important cause of the ultimate Southern defeat Indian War in the Pacific Northwest Lawrence Kip, 1999-01-01

Throughout the 1850s Native peoples of the inland Northwest actively resisted white encroachments into their traditional territories Tensions exploded in 1858 when nearly one thousand Palouses Spokanes and Coeur d Alenes routed an invading force commanded by Colonel Edward Steptoe In response Colonel George Wright mounted a large expedition into the heart of the Columbia Plateau to punish and subdue its Native peoples Opposing Wright's force was a loose confederacy of tribes led by the famous warrior Kamiakin Indian War in the Pacific Northwest is a vivid and valuable first person account of that aggressive and bloody military campaign Related by Lawrence Kip a young lieutenant serving under Wright it provides a rare glimpse of military operations and campaign life along the far western frontier before the Civil War Replete with colorful prose and acute observations his journal is also notable for its dramatic descriptions of clashes with Kamiakin's men and compelling portraits of leading figures on both sides of the Plateau Indian War The new introduction provides the historical and cultural background and aftermath of the conflict explores its effects on present day Native peoples of the Columbia Plateau and critically assesses Kip's observations and interpretations Also included in this Bison Books edition are two Native accounts of the conflict by Kamiakin and Mary Moses A WWII Soldier in the Pacific Robert Thobaben, 2025-06-30

Thobaben's memoir offers a personal and diverse perspective on WWII combat in the Pacific blending personal experience and interviews with veterans. Anyone familiar with WWII studies in the Pacific will recognize the name Eugene B Sledge. The author who corresponded with Sledge 30 years ago shared the experience of serving on Peleliu in the Palau Islands. Sledge was part of the 1st Marine Division which led the assault. Within six weeks the division was decimated suffering 60% casualties. The 81st Infantry Division was then deployed to secure the island followed by the 111st Infantry for cleanup operations. This memoir comes from a 111st Infantry member drawing from the author's diary and letters home. Thobaben's narrative starts on November 8 1943 as he embarked on a troop ship to Hawaii joining the Central Pacific Campaigns in the Gilbert and Marshall Islands as part of the 3rd Battalion's medical headquarters team. In addition to recounting his own experiences Thobaben has conducted interviews with servicemen and women from the Army Navy Marine and Air Corps over the years. His work encompasses a diverse range of perspectives to provide a comprehensive view of combat life in the Pacific during WWII some of which are featured in this unique account.
