This is a work of fiction. While, as in all fiction, the literary perceptions and insights are based on experience, all names, characters, places, and incidents are either products of the author's imagination or are used fictitiously. No reference to any real person is intended or should be inferred.

The author wishes to extend a long overdue thanks to Ann Crowther, Mimi Fountain, Bettye Dew, Liz Darhansoff, Susan Cobb, and Linda Dunn for their invaluable assistance and friendship. And, as always, thanks to Louis Rubin, Rhoda and David Shapiro, Melba and John McCorkle, Dan and Claudia.

Some of the stories originally appeared, sometimes in slightly different versions, in the following periodicals, to whose editors grateful acknowledgment is made: "The First Union Blues" in Southern Magazine, "Crash Diet" in Cosmopolitan, "Waiting for Hard Times to End" and "Comparison Shopping" in The Southern Review, "Departures" in Atlantic Monthly, "Gold Mine" in The Greensboro Review, "Words Gone Bad" in New Virginia Review, "Man Watcher" in The Crescent Review, and "Carnival Lights" in Seventeen. Two stories also appeared in New Stories from the South.

you solve your own problems through deliberate analysis and positive change As the author states I see this book as a life manual intended to guide you in your quest to get what you want out of life and to feel good about yourself in the process Too often our natural tendencies drive us to look for a quick fix solution to a given problem that provides us with the most attractive short term benefit As the author states What I will propose in this book is that human behavior tends to favor making decisions based on obtaining short term benefits which rarely result in the person attaining their true goals This book explores the motivating factors that push us towards these short term decisions and the methods we can use to short circuit this behavior to improve our decision making process and thus the quality of our lives Book Prices Edward N.
