deliberations on determinism also played an important role in the formation of Islamic theology as the creedal statements of Islamic doctrines define belief in predestination as one of the essential articles of creed while asserting that human agents possess some form of will defined as irada al juz iyya the minor will in the Arabic lexicon Evidently the creed of mainstream Islam necessitates that the two concepts are reconciled or at least a conceivable argument is provided to support the notion that predestination could indeed coexist with free will Arguments for coexistence constructed on scriptural revelation and Prophetic tradition were proposed by various Muslim theologians from the formative period to contemporary times during which several theological schools emerged due to a number of significant differences in views This book is primarily based on an examination and analysis of the theological arguments proposed by mainstream Islamic theologians and Fethullah G len a contemporary Muslim scholar and his theoretical framework on the reconciliation of predestination and free will The methodology of this project includes comparative and detailed analysis of arguments put forward by formative classical and contemporary Islamic scholars and examination of arguments proposed by Western theologians and philosophers with an objective to establish the similarities and differences in the theoretical frameworks of scholars from different schools traditions and faiths The main argument of this book is based on the theological premises proposed by Fethullah G len and mainstream Sunni theologians that support the coexistence of predestination and free will

Creation's Beauty as Revelation L. Clifton Edwards, 2014-03-05 With an interdisciplinary approach Edwards utilizes literature aesthetics world religions and continental philosophy as avenues into the theology of natural beauty This is an epistemological look at our aesthetically charged knowing of God through nature Emphasizing our embodied experience of the world Edwards examines the phenomenon of perceptual beauty while questioning traditional notions of God's metaphysical beauty Drawing upon Michael Polanyi's philosophy of science Edwards explores the human aesthetic and religious interface with the natural world This philosophical approach is then linked to the poetic Polanyi's tacit knowledge and Jean Luc Marion's saturated phenomena give support to Wordsworth's pregnant vision of the natural world This approach culminates in a re-envisioning of John Ruskin's typology of natural beauty Ruskin's vision of the world can be adapted toward an understanding of natural revelation Edwards brings this Romantic theology back across the Atlantic in dialogue with American nature writers and the uniquely American experience of wilderness and frontier

On the Origin of Consciousness Scott D. G. Ventureyra, 2018-11-29 Have you ever thought about how self consciousness self awareness originated in the universe Understanding consciousness is one of the toughest nuts to crack In recent years scientists and philosophers have attempted to provide an answer to this mystery The reason for this is simply because it cannot be confined to solely a materialistic interpretation of the world Some scientific materialists have suggested that consciousness is merely an illusion in order to insulate their worldviews Yet consciousness is the most fundamental thing we know even more so than the external world since we require it to perceive or think about anything Without it reasoning would be impossible Dr Scott Ventureyra in this ground breaking book explores the idea of the Christian God and Creation in order to tackle this most difficult question He demonstrates that theology has something significant to offer in reflection of how consciousness originated in the universe He also makes a modest claim that the Christian conception of God and Creation provide a plausible account for the origin of self consciousness He integrates philosophy theology and science in an innovative way to embark on this exploration God & Culture D. P. Wagenfuhr, 2020-05-22 Christian ecotheology runs the risk of making God himself a resource for human exploitation as a means to species survival The world of climate change soil depletion and mass species extinction reveals a frightening conclusion humans act as cosmic parasites The problem is not with the world talk of climate change blames the symptoms displayed by the victim but with human epistemology Humans are systematically incapable of rightly perceiving reality and so must socially construct reality The end of this epistemological problem is necessary ecological devastation by the development of civilization In Plundering Eden Wagenfuhr traces ecological problems to their root cause in the broken imagination and argues that reconciliation with God the Creator through Jesus Christ is the only means to ecological healing through a renewed kenotic imagination expressed in the creation of an alternate environment that reveals the kingdom of
