Historical Dictionary of Golf Bill Mallon, Randon Jerris, 2011-01-21 Golf has been called the greatest of all games but it has also been derided by none other than Mark Twain as nothing more than a good walk spoiled Traditional teaching holds that golf originated in Scotland around the 15th century However there is historical evidence of games similar to golf being played in the low countries of Europe back in the 13th century Over the many centuries of golf's evolution the balls used have changed greatly as have the clubs the holes the courses and the entire game itself The Historical Dictionary of Golf presents a comprehensive history of the game through a chronology an introductory essay a bibliography photos and over 300 cross referenced dictionary entries on places teams terminology and people including Arnold Palmer Greg Norman Lee Trevino Jack Nicklaus Annika Sorenstam Lorena Ochoa Phil Mickelson and of course Tiger Woods Appendixes of the members of the World Golf Hall of Fame the Major Championships of Golf the International Team Events and the Professional Tour Awards are also included Making the Masters David Barrett, 2012-03-21 Contested the second weekend in April each year since 1934 the Masters is the world's most prestigious golf tournament and most watched tournament on television Tickets are in such demand that even the waiting list is closed and players value the title above all others In Making the Masters award winning golf writer David Barrett focuses his attention on how the Masters was conceived how it got off the ground in 1934 and how it fully established itself in 1935 The key figure in the tournament's creation and success was Bobby Jones who was a living legend after winning the Grand Slam in 1930 and immediately retiring at the age of twenty eight He went on to found Augusta National and sought a high profile tournament for his new course But nearly as important was Clifford Roberts a banker friend of Jones who not only embraced Jones's vision but became his right hand man in working to bring that vision to reality Barrett explores how Jones and Roberts built the Masters from scratch creating a golf institution embellished by the often surprising details of what that entailed as they were trying to establish a golf club and golf tournament in tough economic times It also vividly chronicles the events of the 1934 and 1935 Masters with Gene Sarazen's spectacular victory in 1935 providing the climax Set against the backdrop of golf and America in the 1930s the book provides an informative and entertaining read for fans of the Masters and students of golf history Forthcoming Books Rose Army, 2002 Books In Print 2004-2005 Ed Bowker Staff, Staff Bowker, Ed, 2004 The Americana Annual Alexander Hopkins McDannald, 1969 An encyclopedia of current events
