Armytages Of Como:

Body at the Melbourne Club David Burke, 2009 Bertram Armytage son of a wealthy squatter a popular sportsman who rowed for Cambridge was the first Australian born member of an Antarctic expedition An expert horseman he was given charge of the ponies in Ernest Shackleton's great 1907-1909 expedition narrowly escaping the jaws of killer whales In London he was decorated by royalty but on coming home to Australia he went to his part time city residence the exclusive Melbourne Club put on his dinner suit and polar medals and at the age of 41 shot himself This mystery cum biography provides a new perspective on one of Shackleton's greatest expeditions Australian Women's Historical Photography Anne Maxwell, Lucy Van, 2024-07-02 Australian Women's Historical Photography Other Times Other Views examines the photographs produced by six talented women photographers against the historical backdrop of settler violence towards Indigenous Australians the First Women's Movement the Great War of 1914-1918 Australia's imperial occupation of New Guinea the final years of Chinese Nationalist Party rule in China and debates about photography's status as an art form Women's works from the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries have been down played or even ignored in existing accounts of Australia's cultural history and this study is aimed at rectifying this situation At the same time the book demonstrates why amateur works are just as important as commercial works to our understanding of the past Methodologically the book draws on scholarship from history art history anthropology sociology gender studies and cultural studies to create an interdisciplinary critical framework that will be of interest to a broad range of academic and archival researchers It is also a framework that is critically sensible of its own groundings in the postcolonial and feminist present thereby reflecting what is meaningful at any given historical moment Finally this book responds to the pronounced lack of visibility of Australian realist documentary and commercial women's works The few histories of Australian women's photography that exist pay more attention to modernist and contemporary works and when they do mention earlier women photographer's works they seldom go into much detail They also ignore the works of the earliest Indigenous women photographers women who traveled and made photographs abroad By presenting a carefully contextualized and detailed study of works by six Australian women photographers who worked in the late colonial era and whose works in all sorts of small and surprising ways chronicled the impacts of some of the periods more disturbing as well as enlightened events we will not only add to knowledge of Australian women's photography we will also broaden and enrich the frames of women's photography and Australian history more generally Index to Anita Selzer's 'The Armytages of Como: pastoral pioneers', 2009 The Armytages of Como Anita Selzer, 2003 Grand homes the opulent life of the squatocracy class conflict gentry and convict origins skulduggery human foibles and noble visions the true story of one of Australia's leading pastoral families centered around Como one of Australia's favourite historic homes The Boyds Brenda Niall, 2007 The Boyd family is Australia's most remarkable artistic dynasty This work traces the emergence of an extraordinary artistic tradition It places

Australia Lorinda Cramer, 2020 In gold rush Australia social identity was in flux gold promised access to fashionable new clothes a grand home and the goods to furnish it but could not buy gentility Needlework and Women's Identity in Colonial Australia explores how the wives mothers sisters and daughters who migrated to the newly formed colony of Victoria used their needle skills as a powerful claim to social standing Focusing on one of women's most common daily tasks the book examines how needlework's practice and products were vital in the contest for social position in the turmoil of the first two decades of the Victorian rush from 1851. Placing women firmly at the center of colonial history, it explores how the needle became a tool for stitching together identity. From decorative needlework to household making and mending, women's sewing was a vehicle for establishing, asserting, and maintaining social status. Interdisciplinary in scope, Needlework and Women's Identity in Colonial Australia draws on material culture, written primary sources, and pictorial evidence to create a rich portrait of the objects and manners that defined genteel goldfields living. Giving voice to women's experiences and positioning them as key players in the fabric of gold rush society, this volume offers a fresh critical perspective on gender and textile history.
