Routine Activity and Rational Choice Ronald V. Clarke,Marcus Felson,2017-10-23 Two new criminological approaches are defined and applied to categories of crime in Routine Activity and Rational Choice now available in paperback Routine activity analyzes the criminal event and avoids motivations and psychology as topics for discussion whereas rational choice approaches crime as purposive behavior designed to meet the offender s commonplace needs such as money status sex and excitement These conceptual models are both employed to analyze such crimes as drunk driving gun use kidnapping and political violence This volume discusses the relationship of these theories to more traditional approaches to crime studies The Advances in Criminological Theory series encourages theory construction and validation in the articles and themes selected for publication It also furthers the free exchange of ideas propositions and postulates Following publication of the first volume Michael J Lynch of Florida State University asserted that Advances in Criminological Theory is to be applauded as an attempt to revive criminological theory by providing an accessible outlet Contributions to this volume include Pierre Tremblay Searching for Suitable Co offenders Raymond Paternoster and Sally Simpson A Rational Choice Theory of Corporate Crime Richard B Felson Predatory and Dispute related Violence Gordon Trasler Conscience Opportunity Rational Choice and Crime Ezzat A Fattah The Rational Choice Opportunity Perspectives as a Vehicle for Integrating Criminological and Victimological Theories Patricia L Brantingham and Paul J Brantingham Environment Routine and Situation Maurice Cusson A Strategic Analysis of Crime Richard W Harding Gun Use in Crime Rational Choice and Social Learning Theory

Behind the Bars Frederick John Desroches,1996 Bank robbers Who are they Where do they come from What motivates individuals to commit these crimes Behind the Bars Experiences in Crime examines these questions in this intriguing study of the life situations relationships and value systems of people who commit serious crimes Based on eight years of research with law enforcement officials the media and interviews with more than eighty Canadian and American bank robbers Behind the Bars goes behind the facelessness of the crime itself and into the hearts and minds of the offenders Meet an ex police officer drug addicts compulsive gamblers a senior citizen two con authors an exotic dancer family men informants and career criminals Their strikingly candid stories will inspire a great range of emotions but most of all they will provide greater understanding of criminal behaviour Frederick J Desroches humanizes the offender by shedding significant light on the social and economic conditions of offenders on the dynamics of criminal partnerships and on the problems many of these men experience and bring on themselves Desroches balances the passion of criminals stories with thematic and theoretical overviews of specific issues to create an exciting account that will capture the attention and imagination of any reader who has ever wondered why criminals commit crimes

The Crime that Pays Frederick John Desroches,2005 The Crime That Pays is a study of higher level drug syndicates and organized criminals who have achieved huge incomes and status in their deviant occupation Based on interviews with drug couriers drug investigators and 70 higher level drug traffickers the book describes the characteristics of offenders their modus operandi the entrepreneurial aspects of organized crime and the significance of friendship kinship race and ethnicity in the development of criminal networks Most of the dealers in this study operated at the wholesale level for years had realized huge profits and lived extravagant lifestyles For many their arrest occurred only after the police had undertaken a sophisticated and proactive criminal investigation that took years to complete Included in the text are an analysis of the police strategies used to combat drug trafficking and the social policy implications from this and other research studies The book includes original research both on the RCMP and on higher level drug trafficking Also included are analyses of Canadian drug laws and a critique of social policy relating to drug use and drug trafficking

Everybody Does It! Thomas Gabor,1994-01-01 Gabor

s analysis probes the whys and wherefores of crime and reveals why some people are labeled and processed as criminals while others are not Case studies raise crucial questions about law enforcement

Policing Problem Places Anthony Allan Braga, David Weisburd, 2010 Both those who study crime and those who fight it agree that crime is not spread evenly across city landscapes Rather clusters of crime a few hot spots host a vastly disproportionate amount of criminal activity Even within the most crime ridden neighborhoods crime concentrates at a few locations while other areas remain relatively crime free So if police focus their limited resources at these problem places a practice known as hot spots policing they will be better positioned to lower citywide crime rates and do it more efficiently In Policing Problem Places Anthony A Braga and David L Weisburd demonstrate that hot spots policing is a powerful and cost effective approach to crime prevention While putting police officers where crime happens most is an old and well established idea in practice it is often avoided or not properly implemented Braga and Weisburd draw on rigorous scientific evidence to show how police officers should use problem oriented policing and situational crime prevention techniques to address the place dynamics situations and characteristics that cause a spot to be hot But the benefits of hot spots policing do not end with conserving public dollars and police resources Illustrating how policing problem places can benefit police community relations especially in minority neighborhoods where residents have long suffered from high crime and poor police service Braga and Weisburd show how police can make efforts to develop positive and collaborative relationships with residents and avoid the indiscriminant enforcement tactics that undermine the legitimacy of the police A vital resource for police departments everywhere Policing Problem Places offers a blueprint for rethinking what police should do and how they should do it

Rethinking Homicide Terance D. Miethe, Wendy C. Regoeczi, Kriss A. Drass, 2004-01-19 Using multiple data sources and methods this book involves a micro historical analysis of the nature of change and stability in homicide situations over time It focuses on the homicide situation as the unit of analysis and explores similarities and differences in the context of homicide for different social groups For example using Qualitative Comparative Analysis we investigate whether various social groups e g men vs women teenagers vs adults strangers vs intimates Blacks vs Whites kill under qualitatively different circumstances and if so what are the characteristics of these unique profiles The analysis of over 400 000 US homicides is supplemented with qualitative analysis of narrative accounts of homicide events to more fully investigate the structure and process underlying these lethal situations Our findings of unique and common homicide situations across different time periods and social groups are then discussed in terms of their implications for criminological theory and public policy
