Another View of the Revolution in Military Affairs Jeffrey R. Cooper, 1994 In April 1994 the Army War College and the Strategic Studies Institute hosted the Fifth Annual Strategy Conference The theme of this year's conference was The Revolution in Military Affairs RMA Defining an Army for the 21st Century Jeffrey R Cooper presented the following paper as part of an opening panel which sought to define the RMA He urges defense planners to determine what strategic as opposed to operational benefits might be derived from the RMA He contends that making the internal reforms that will be required will be as challenging as coming to terms with the operational and strategic implications of the new technologies The first requirement is to understand the parameters and dynamics of this particular revolution in military affairs Mr Cooper puts the RMA in historical perspective by discussing the relationships among technology socioeconomic and political change and their implications for warfare during the Napoleonic era the mid 19th century and World Wars I and II He argues that in the past dramatic technological change affected warfare in different ways Mr Cooper warns that by using the RMA to define a technical legacy we make three errors First such an approach could lead to a fruitless search for a silver bullet technology on which to build the RMA Second the focus on technology could shift attention away from the critical issues of purpose strategy doctrine operational innovation and organizational adaptation Finally committing the first two errors will compound the problem by wasting very scarce defense resources on new programs and projects which may have little or nothing to do with the strategic situation Military professionals and defense planners alike need to remind themselves that while technology can provide new capabilities the strategic equation is not necessarily driven by technological innovation

Hawthorne's Redemption Gary P. Cranford, 2012-10 This book serves to feed human nature with both a religious and literary mood It may bring the reader a little closer to an understanding of life's complexities or it may challenge the reader's own philosophical self as he or she discovers the unraveling of Hawthorne's The editor of the book which has been composed from his memory of an unknown student's work claims to have unearthed a rare discovery that may unveil a mystery that has puzzled the best of minds in the literary field for many years In the words of its author his purpose is clear I have thought to publish my interpretations of Hawthorne's novel so that those critics in the field of literature who will may have additional cause for which to expound their intelligence either in trying to better understand this mystery or to salvage the old cherished ambiguities by which the public brain is presently intoxicated If I am correct in only a few of my impressions hopefully the main ones we shall have to reappraise Hawthorne as a literary prophet who hoped for and predicted a future time when mankind would look more favorable upon the creation man Both the author and editor send the reader on a journey into the mind and heart of an American icon which have too long been misunderstood and underappreciated He asks the reader to drink deep from the depths of his or her own intuitive awakenings and encourages each to rediscover the man who created The Scarlet Letter In so doing one may see the vexations and conflicts in his own life as a dark necessity to be endured as in the character of his beloved Hester who speaks to the heart of every human and in behalf of our own human nature Decisions and Orders of the National Labor Relations Board United States.
