

The background of the book cover is a composite of two historical photographs. The top half shows a large, white, snow-covered mountain peak under a clear sky. The bottom half, which is tinted blue, shows a large sailing ship, likely the Terra Nova, navigating through a field of ice floes in the Antarctic. Two figures are visible in the foreground of the blue-tinted section, appearing to be working on the ice or the ship.

Frank Hurley, Charles Lason

Antarctic Eyewitness South With Mawson And Shackletons Argonauts:

Frank Hurley's Antarctica Helen Ennis, 2010 Frank Hurley is best known for his stunning Antarctic photographs Here Helen Ennis discusses some of his most famous images and the conditions in which they were taken Uniquely Hurley's own words are sprinkled throughout as facsimiles from his diaries written during both the Mawson and Shackleton expeditions For Hurley image making and exploration went hand in hand and he sought out exalted experiences through physical struggle through relationships with the natural world and through story telling This book brings to life his passion for photography and for making art and his own spirit of survival Antarctic Eyewitness Frank Hurley, Charles Laseyron, 2002

This volume offers accounts of two of the 19th century expeditions that took place in the so called heroic era of Antarctic exploration The first is Sir Douglas Mawson's 1911-14 Australasian Antarctic Expedition The other is Ernest Shackleton's unsuccessful attempt to cross the Antarctic continent from 1914-16 and the extraordinary survival of his entire party after the expedition's ship Endurance was crushed and sunk in the pack ice Chronicled in black and white images by the Australian photographer Frank Hurley these two narratives are combined within this double volume There is also an introduction by journalist and historian Tim Bowden Antarctica in Fiction Elizabeth Leane, 2012-06-29 This first comprehensive exploration of literary responses to Antarctica maps the far south as a space of the imagination The Littoral Zone CA. Cranston, Robert Zeller, 2007 In this the first collection of ecocritical essays devoted to Australian contexts and their writers Australian and USA scholars settlers invaders temporary visa holders comment on the transliteration of sea land and interior through the works of major and minor authors and through their own experience with the bioregion The littoral zone is the starting point in this fresh approach to reading literature and is organised around the natural environment rainforest desert mountains coast islands Antarctica There's the beach where sexual and spiritual crises occur the Wheatbelt area the most visible clearance line on the planet desert literature camel trekking and the transformation of a salt flat into an inland island New Age literature that appropriates Aborigines and their cultures as the healing poultice for an ailing and dispirited West a re-examination of pastoralism and the feet of millions of sheep that have done unspeakable damage to soils an inquiry into whether Judith Wright's work can persuade us to rejoice in the world an investigation of the Limestone Plains home of the bush capital and the bogong moth of bananas cane toads and the Great Barrier Reef in tropic Queensland of national parks and guesthouses where the mountains meet the sea a discursive approach to temperate islands that covers sealing Soldier Settlement and sea country pastoral and finally to Antarctica where an initial utopian approach gives way to an emphasis on its stark timeless icescape as a minimalist backdrop for human dramas The author's terrain is no less grand in its scope poets playwrights novelists and non-fiction writers are discussed across the broad range of contexts that constitutes the littoral zone known as Australia Hoosh Jason C. Anthony, 2012-11-01 Antarctica the last place on Earth is not famous for its cuisine Yet it is famous for stories of heroic expeditions in which hunger was the one spice everyone carried At the dawn of Antarctic cuisine cooks improvised under inconceivable hardships castaways ate seal blubber and penguin breasts while fantasizing about illustrious feasts and men seeking the South Pole stretched their rations to the breaking point Today Antarctica's kitchens still wait for provisions at the far end of the planet's longest supply chain Scientific research stations serve up cafeteria fare that often offers more sustenance than style Jason C Anthony a veteran of eight seasons in the U S Antarctic Program offers a rare workaday look at the importance of food in Antarctic history and culture Anthony's tour of Antarctic cuisine takes us from hoosh a porridge of meat fat and melted snow often thickened with crushed biscuit and the scurvy ridden expeditions of Shackleton and Scott through the twentieth century to his own preplanned three hundred meals plus snacks for a two person camp in the Transantarctic Mountains The stories in Hoosh are linked by the ingenuity good humor and indifference to gruel that make Anthony's tale as entertaining as it is enlightening Screening Nature Anat Pick,Guinevere Narraway,2013-11-01 Environmentalism and ecology are areas of rapid growth in academia and society at large Screening Nature is the first comprehensive work that groups together the wide range of concerns in the field of cinema and the environment and what could be termed posthuman cinema It comprises key readings that highlight the centrality of nature and nonhuman animals to the cinematic medium and to the language and institution of film The book offers a fresh and timely intervention into contemporary film theory through a focus on the nonhuman environment as principal register in many filmic texts Screening Nature offers an extensive resource for teachers undergraduate students and more advanced scholars on the intersections between the natural world and the worlds of film It emphasizes the cross cultural and geographically diverse relevance of the topic of cinema ecology "Terra Incognita" Virginia Hyde,Earl G. Ingersoll,2010 Terra Incognita D H Lawrence at the Frontiers edited by Virginia Crosswhite Hyde and Earl G Ingersoll is a collection of nine essays by scholars from five countries They show ways in which Lawrence explored not only remote regions of the earth but also consciousness and human relations The book also considers implications of terms like frontier boundary and place It gives readings that are the first to utilize new texts and research in the final prose volumes of the Cambridge Lawrence Edition This includes all the essays Lawrence wrote in America about Southwestern and Mexican Indians Mornings in Mexico and Other Essays 2009 Writers are Michael Hollington Judith Ruderman Edina Pereira Crunfli Tina Ferris Virginia Crosswhite Hyde Jack Stewart Keith Cushman Julianne Newmark and Paul Poplawski In addition to the essays the book contains eight pages of color illustrations It will interest both general readers and scholars of Lawrence and of twentieth century literature Publisher's website Frank Hurley: A Photographer's Life Alasdair McGregor,2019-02-01 Photographer filmmaker writer adventurer Controversial passionate audacious Frank Hurley was an extraordinary Australian possibly most famous for his Antarctic photographs captured alongside expeditioners Sir Douglas Mawson and Sir Ernest Shackleton From the early twentieth century until his death in 1962 Hurley created a stunning visual archive that chronicled the major events of the twentieth century and Australia's achievements both home and overseas This book and the Hurley

Collection in the National Library of Australia make clear this outstanding contribution and the lengths to which the man would go in order to convey the gravity of events For Hurley image making and exploration went hand in hand and he sought out experiences as a pioneer documentary film maker official photographer in two world wars early aviator and adventure and story seeker in both the natural environment and in rapidly disappearing non western worlds In this readable definitive and wonderfully illustrated re issued biography Alasdair McGregor describes Hurley s life and character in all its richness
