Peregrine,Melvin Ember,2003-05-31 The Encyclopedia of Prehistory with regionally organized entries on each major archaeological tradition is a comprehensive overview of human history from two million years ago to the historic period Prepared under the auspices and with the support of the Human Relations Area Files and an internationally distinguished advisory board the Encyclopedia is organized regionally with entries on each major archaeological tradition written by noted experts in the field and edited by Peter N Peregrine and Melvin Ember The volumes follow a standard format and employ comparable units of description and analysis making them easy to use and compare Volume 1 focuses on Africa Volume 2 focuses on Arctic and Sub Arctic Volume 3 focuses on East Asia and Oceania Volume 4 focuses on Europe Volume 5 focuses on Middle America Volume 6 focuses on North America Volume 7 focuses on South America Volume 8 focuses on South Southwest Asia Volume 9 is the index volume

Archaeology of Prehistoric Native America Guy E. Gibbon,2022-01-26 First published in 1998 Did prehistoric humans walk to North America from Siberia Who were the inhabitants of the spectacular Anasazi cliff dwellings in the Southwest and why did they disappear Native Americans used acorns as a major food source but how did they get rid of the tannic acid which is toxic to humans How does radiocarbon dating work and how accurate is it Written for the informed lay person college level student and professional Archaeology of Prehistoric Native America An Encyclopedia is an important resource for the study of the earliest North Americans including facts theories descriptions and speculations on the ancient nomads and hunter gathers that populated continental North America Miscellaneous Collected Papers 11-14 University of Utah. Department of Anthropology,Kent C. Day,1962 Proceedings RMRS. ,1998 The History of Anthropology Regna Darnell,2021-10 This volume on the history of anthropology emphasizes schools of theory institutional connections social networks and collaborative research with North American Indigenous communities Regna Darnell a fifty year veteran of the field brings unsurpassed historicist and presentist interpretations of the discipline s legacy The Ethnographer's Magic and Other Essays in the History of Anthropology George W. Stocking,1992 George Stocking has been widely recognized as the premier historian of anthropology ever since the publication of his first volume of essays Race Culture and Evolution in 1968 As editor of several publications including the highly acclaimed History of Anthropology series he has led the movement to establish the history of anthropology as a recognized research specialization In addition to the study Victorian Anthropology his work includes numerous essays covering a wide range of anthropological topics The eight essays collected in The Ethnographer's Magic consider the emergence of anthropology since the late nineteenth century as an academic discipline grounded in systematic fieldwork Drawing extensively on unpublished manuscript materials the essays focus primarily on Franz Boas and Bronislaw Malinowski the leading figures in the American and the British academic fieldwork traditions According to George Marcus of Rice University the essays represent the most informative and insightful writings on Malinowski and Boas and their legacies that are yet available Beyond their biographical material the essays here touch upon major themes in the history of anthropology its powerfully mythic aspect and persistent strain of romantic primitivism the contradictions of its relationship to the larger sociopolitical sphere its problematic integration of a variety of natural scientific and humanistic inquiries and the tension between its scientific aspirations and its subjectively acquired data To provide an overview against which to read the other essays Stocking has also included a sketch of the history of anthropology from the ancient Greeks to the present For this collection Stocking has written prefatory commentaries for each of the essays as well as two more extended contextualizing pieces An introductory essay Retrospective Prescriptive Reflections places the volume in autobiographical and historiographical context the Afterword Postscriptive Prospective Reflections reconsiders major themes of the essays in relation to the recent past and present situation of academic anthropology

Aleutian Islands, Aleutian Peninsula Debris Removal, 1980 Northwest Anthropological Research Notes Roderick Sprague, A Preliminary Bibliography of Washington Archaeology Roderick Sprague Pendejo Cave Richard S. MacNeish, Jane G. Libby, Jane G. Liddy, 2003 This account of the archaeology of a cave in southern New Mexico makes a dramatic contribution to the ongoing debate over how long human beings have lived in the Americas The findings presented here show that human settlement may go back as far as 75 000 years before the present whereas the long accepted Clovis dates showed humans only about 12 000 years ago MacNeish and his colleagues subjected the cave its environs and its contents to rigorous interdisciplinary investigation The first section of this volume comprises their reports on the changing environment of the area The second section concentrates on the excavation of the cave's layers presenting the results of radiocarbon dating and describing the evidence of human occupation including friction skin prints and human hair The third section discusses the cultural implications of the materials recovered and suggests how the ancient peoples may have exploited the changing environment and developed different ways of life throughout the Americas before the time of Clovis man No serious discussion of early inhabitants in the New World can disregard the findings presented in this monumental work of scholarship

The Global History of Paleopathology Jane E. Buikstra, Charlotte Roberts, 2012-06-07 The first comprehensive global history of the discipline of paleopathology HISTORIES OF MAIZE John Staller, Robert Tykot, Bruce Benz, 2006-05-15 Histories of Maize is the most comprehensive reference source on the botanical genetic archaeological and anthropological aspects of ancient maize published to date Arctic Anthropology ,1968 Case Studies in Environmental Archaeology Elizabeth Reitz,C. Margaret Scarry,Sylvia J. Scudder,2008 This book highlights studies addressing significant anthropological issues in the Americas from the perspective of environmental archaeology The book uses case studies to resolve questions related to human behavior in the past rather than to demonstrate the application of methods Each chapter is an original or revised work by an internationally recognized scientist This second edition is based on the 1996 book of the same title The editors have invited back a number of contributors from the first edition to revise and update their chapter New studies are included in order to cover recent developments in the field or additional pertinent topics
