Anthropology James P. Spradley, David McGurdy, 1980      Anthropology--the Cultural Perspective James P. Spradley, David W. McCurdy, 1975      Anthropology and Cultural Studies Stephen Nugent, Cris Shore, 1997-10-20 The contributors chart a new agenda for anthropology in an increasingly shared terrain of globally interacting cultures and identities      Youth Cultures Vered Amit, Helena Wulff, 2022-11-30 First published in 1995 Youth Cultures critically studies an anthropologically neglected population the youth The book broadens the scope for analysing young people's behaviour by moving away from notions of resistance and deviance and offers a range of ethnographically based studies of different kinds of youth in varied national contexts From Nepal to Canada Europe the Solomon Islands and Algeria it addresses issues relating to globalisation in Third World cities ethnic diversity in European cities and consumption practices and places the lives of these young people in the contexts of wider cultures Youth Cultures contributes to the general concern in anthropology with rewriting culture even while it seeks to close particular gaps in studies on youth culture By challenging the limitation of previous youth research and acknowledging children and young adults as agents to be respected rather than objectified this book will be invaluable reading to students of anthropology sociology education psychology and cultural studies      Anthropological Investigations in Contemporary India: A cross-cultural perspective C.J. Sonowal, Milonjyoti Borgohain, 2024-04-30 Within this book readers will find insightful theoretical analyses and detailed micro level studies that broaden our understanding of pressing contemporary issues through an anthropological lens Each paper within the book contextualizes its findings within the larger societal framework providing a comprehensive view of the situations being examined This book's particular strength lies in its emphasis on decolonizing anthropological knowledge exploring the nuances of stigma from an anthropological perspective highlighting the significance of religion as an ethnic marker exploring the problems and prospects of writing indigenous ethnohistory of tribes and indigenous people illuminating food culture through an anthropological lens examining borderland markets and exploring the connection of biology and society within the realm of health issues      Anthropology Matters! Shirley Fedorak, 2007-02-01 This simple and accessible book highlights anthropology's relevance to students' everyday lives Introductory students will love it Todd Sanders University of Toronto      Sustainable Development - the Cultural Perspective Gerhard Banse, Gordon L. Nelson, Oliver Parodi, 2011 This current volume is a result of the Seventh and Eighth International Forum on Sustainable Technological Development in a Globalizing World The Seventh Forum was held June 9-12 2010 in Berlin The Karlsruhe Institute of Technology hosted the event which was organized around culture and sustainability What we each value as a society as a country in our culture is what we want to protect What is sustainable is only what we value This applies all the more to sustainable development which is planned for long time scales and therefore to go beyond individual sustainable technology solutions as well as economic and political cycles What we hold in high regard is the result of cultural influences Consequently we need cultural change in the sense of sustainable development in order to secure sustainability pathways in the long term The key question arising is whether and how this change can be brought about The following Introduction leads us into the specific discussion At the end of the Seventh Forum participants concluded that more specific case studies would be useful and recommended that the Eighth Forum provide a focus for case studies Since the remainder of the Eighth Forum held March 8 10 2011 in Melbourne Florida focused on Alternative Energy with oral papers not really appropriate as written papers it was decided to include the case studies in combination with those papers from Berlin to provide a holistic discussion of culture and sustainability That is the concept for this volume P 13 14 Cultural Anthropology, 2010 Explore the most fascinating creative dangerous and complex species alive today you and your neighbors in the global village With compelling photos engaging examples and select studies by anthropologists in far flung places the authors of CULTURAL ANTHROPOLOGY THE HUMAN CHALLENGE provide a holistic view of anthropology to help you make sense of today's world With this text you will discover the different ways humans face the challenge of existence the connection between biology and culture in the shaping of human beliefs and behavior and the impact of globalization on peoples and cultures around the world

Anthropological Perspectives on Intangible Cultural Heritage Lourdes Arizpe, Cristina Amescua, 2013-06-04 A decade after the approval of the UNESCO 2003 Convention for the Safeguarding of Intangible Cultural Heritage ICH the concept has gained wide acceptance at the local national and international levels Communities are recognizing and celebrating their Intangible Heritage governments are devoting important efforts to the construction of national inventories and anthropologists and professionals from different disciplines are forming a new field of study The ten chapters of this book include the peer reviewed papers of the First Planning Meeting of the International Social Science Council's Commission on Research on ICH which was held at the Centro Regional de Investigaciones Multidisciplinarias UNAM in Cuernavaca Mexico in 2012 The papers are based on fieldwork and direct involvement in assessing and reconceptualizing the outcomes of the UNESCO Convention The report in Appendix 1 highlights the main points raised during the sessions Anthropological Perspectives On Kinship Ladislav Holy, 1996-10-20 This authoritative introductory text takes into account the changes in the conceptualisation of kinship brought about by new reproductive technologies and the growing interest in culturally specific notions of personhood and gender Holy considers the extent to which Western assumptions have guided anthropological study of kinship in the past In the process he reveals a growing sensitivity on the part of anthropologists to individual ideas of personhood and gender and encourages further critical reflection on cultural bias in approaches to the subject Cultural Perspectives on the Mathematics Classroom Steve Lerman, 2013-04-17 Mathematics teaching and learning have been dominated by a concern for the intellectual readiness of the child debates over rote learning versus understanding and recently mathematical processes and thinking The gaze into today's mathematics classroom is firmly focused on the individual learner Recently however studies of mathematics in social practices including the market place and the home have initiated a shift of focus Culture has become identified as a key to understanding the basis on which the learner appropriates meaning The chapters in this timely book attempt to engage with this shift of focus and offer original contributions to the debate about mathematics teaching and learning They adopt theoretical perspectives while drawing on the classroom as both the source of investigation and the site of potential change and development The book will be of fundamental interest to lecturers and researchers and to teachers concerned with the classroom as a cultural phenomenon

Being Scioto Hopewell: Ritual Drama and Personhood in Cross-Cultural Perspective Christopher Carr, 2022-01-05 This book in two volumes breathes fresh air empirically methodologically and theoretically into understanding the rich ceremonial lives the philosophical religious knowledge and the impressive material feats and labor organization that distinguish Hopewell Indians of central Ohio and neighboring regions during the first centuries CE The first volume defines cross culturally for the first time the ritual drama as a genre of social performance It reconstructs and compares parts of 14 such dramas that Hopewellian and other Woodland period peoples performed in their ceremonial centers to help the soul like essences of their deceased make the journey to an afterlife The second volume builds and critiques ten formal cross cultural models of personhood and the self and infers the nature of Scioto Hopewell people s ontology Two facets of their ontology are found to have been instrumental in their creating the intercommunity alliances and cooperation and gathering the labor required to construct their huge multicomunity ceremonial centers a relational collective concept of the self defined by the ethical quality of the relationships one has with other beings and a concept of multiple soul like essences that compose a human being and can be harnessed strategically to create familial like ethical bonds of cooperation among individuals and communities The archaeological reconstructions of Hopewellian ritual dramas and concepts of personhood and the self and of Hopewell people s strategic uses of these are informed by three large surveys of historic Woodland and Plains Indians narratives ideas and rites about journeys to afterlives the creatures who inhabit the cosmos and the nature and functions of soul like essences coupled with rich contextual archaeological and bioarchaeological taphonomic analyses The bioarchaeological taphonomic method of l anthropologie de terrain new to North American archaeology is introduced and applied In all the research in this book vitalizes a vision of an anthropology committed to native logic and motivation and skeptical of the imposition of Western world views and categories onto native peoples Ethnicity and Nationalism

Thomas Hylland Eriksen, 2002-07-20 New expanded edition of a classic anthropology title that examines ethnicity as a dynamic and shifting aspect of social relations Women Traders in Cross-Cultural Perspective Linda J.

Seligmann, 2002-03-01 This innovative volume studies women as economic political and cultural mediators of space gender value and language in informal markets Drawing on diverse methodologies multisited fieldwork linguistic analysis and archival research the contributors demonstrate how women move between and knit together household and marketplace activities This knitting together pivots on how household practices and economies are translated and transferred to the market as well as how market practices and economic principles become integral to the nature and construction of the household Exploring the cultural identities and economic practices of women traders in ten diverse locales Bolivia Ghana Hungary India Indonesia Mexico Morocco Nicaragua Peru and the Philippines the authors pay special attention to the effects of global forces national economic policies and nongovernmental organizations on women s participation in the market and the domestic sector The authors also consider the impact that women s economic and political activities in social movements public protests and more hidden kinds of subversive behavior have on state policy on the attitudes of different sectors of society toward female traders and on the dynamics of the market itself A final theme focuses on the cultural dimension of mediation Many women traders straddle cultural spheres and move back and forth between them Does this affect their participation in the market and their identities How do ties of ethnicity or acts of reciprocity affect the nature of commodity exchanges Do they create exchanges that are neither purely commodified nor wholly without calculation Or is it more often the case that ethnic commonalities and reciprocity merely mask the commodification of social and economic exchanges Does this straddling lead to the emergence of new kinds of hybrid identities and practices In considering these questions the authors specify the ways in which consumers contribute to identity formation among market women
