Anti Group Destructive Forces In The Group And Their Creative Potential:

The Anti-Group Morris Nitsun, 2014-09-19 The anti group is a major conceptual addition to the theory and practice of group psychotherapy. It comprises the negative disruptive elements which threaten to undermine and even destroy the group but when contained have the potential to mobilise the group's creative processes. Understanding the anti group gives therapists new perspectives on the nature of relationships and alternative strategies for managing destructive behaviour.

Beyond the Anti-Group Morris Nitsun, 2014-11-27 Beyond the Anti group survival and transformation builds on the success of Morris Nitsun's influential concept of the Anti group taking it into new domains of thought and practice in the current century. The concept focuses on anxiety and hostility within towards and between groups as well as the destructive potential of groups. In Beyond the Anti group Morris Nitsun continues his inquiry into the clinical implications of the anti group but also explores the concept beyond the consulting room in settings as wide ranging as cultural and environmental stress in the 21st century, the fate of public health services and the themes of contemporary art. Groups are potentially destructive but also have the capacity for survival, creativity and transformation. Focusing on the interplay between the two, Morris Nitsun explores the struggle to overcome group impasse and dysfunction and to emerge stronger. By tracking this process in a range of cultural settings, the author weaves a rich tapestry in which group psychotherapy, organizational process and the arts come together in unexpected and novel ways. The author draws on group analysis and the Foulkesian tradition as his overall discipline but within a critical frame that questions the relevance of the approach in a changing world, highlighting new directions and opportunities. Readers of Beyond the Anti group Survival and Transformation will be stimulated by the depth, breadth and creativity of the author's analysis and by the excursion into new fields of inquiry. The book offers new impetus for psychotherapists, group analysts and group practitioners in general, students of group and organizational processes and those working on the boundary between psychotherapy and the arts.

Supervision of Art Psychotherapy Joy Schaverien, Caroline Case, 2007-05-07 Supervision of Art Psychotherapy will be an inspiration for advanced practitioners and students in training. It is the first book to formulate a unique theoretical base to current practice in art psychotherapy supervision. A central theme is the nature of the image in supervision, defining its difference from other forms of supervision in the mental health professions. Clinical practice is brought to life through vivid vignettes from diverse settings with a variety of client groups. Part I establishes a theoretical base, introducing innovations in practice and addressing complex clinical issues in child and adult work. Topics include the narrative of imagery in supervision, enchantment, ambivalence, a topographical approach, engagement in supervision, and working with the network in art psychotherapy with children. Part II focuses on supervision in groups, addressing training, difference, and peer group, image consultation, as well as supervision of experienced practitioners. Part III explores theory related to purposes and challenges in supervision and research. A vital contribution to the literature in the context of Continuing Professional Development, this volume establishes the image as central in the supervision of art psychotherapists. It brings the experience of the artist in the psychotherapist into the frame, provoking questions about the meaning of images and image making in supervision.

Balancing Acts Hazel Johns, 2002-09-11 This book examines the philosophy and constructs of counselling training and the means by which students and trainers manage the complex demands placed upon them during the training process. The three main sections of the book explore key aspects of being trainers: the pressures and stresses involved, issues of gender and power, the complexities of co-training, elements of training, academic and voluntary settings, negotiated and reflective learning, assessment issues arising from the functions of groups, experiences of being trainees, first-hand accounts from practitioners of the challenges they faced in their training. The counsellors, trainers, and supervisors who share their research and experience as reflective practitioners provide a clear analysis of the balancing act involved in any adult learning.
