Racism Albert J. Wheeler, 2005 Of all mankind's vices racism is one of the most pervasive and stubborn Success in overcoming racism has been achieved from time to time but victories have been limited thus far because mankind has focused on personal economic gain or power grabs ignoring generosity of the soul This bibliography brings together the literature
Antiracism John Solomos, 2024-11-18 While there has been a wealth of research and conversation about the role of racism in shaping our social political and economic structures antiracism its highly publicized counterpart has been very little studied discussed or debated Veteran race scholar John Solomos argues in this slim intervention that we urgently need to refocus research and activist agendas to address this gap in knowledge The core questions addressed in the book include what does antiracism mean in the contemporary environment How do states political institutions and civil society define and practise antiracism What is the role of alliances across race class and gender in shaping possible futures beyond racism Moving beyond the valuable work which has already uncovered the ways in which race and racism are made and remade these questions cut to how to develop meaningful political and policy initiatives framed by antiracist ideas and values If we hope to make sense of the evolution of contemporary racisms in the world around us in order to tackle them head on antiracism needs to be better understood
Racism and Antiracism Peter Braham, Ali Rattansi, Richard Skellington, 1992-04-21 This key text explores the nature and extent of racial discrimination and the successes and failures of equal opportunities programmes A successful balance of important recent articles and substantial contributions specially written for the volume it presents analyses of institutional racism in immigration law housing social work employment training and the criminal justice system The contributors explore changes over time and examine the interwoven strands of race class and gender that form the pattern of disadvantage They then discuss the formulation implementation and outcomes of equal opportunities policies in the local state and the private sector rigorously investigating both liberal and radical approaches Resources in Education, 2001-10 Danger in the Field Geraldine Lee-Treweek, Stephanie Linkogle, 2000 This text analyses the experience of different forms of danger in various qualitative research settings Complete with researchers accounts it encompasses physical emotional ethical and professional danger The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells, 1993 Social Research Methods Clive Seale, 2004 Bringing together many of the core classic and contemporary works in social and cultural research methods this book gives students direct access to methodological debates and examples of practical research across the qualitative quantitative divide The book is designed to be used both as a collection of readings and as an introductory research methods book in its own right Topics covered include research methodology research design data collection and preparation analyzing data mixing qualitative and quantitative methods validity and reliability methodological critique postmodernism post structuralism and critical ethnography political and ethical aspects of research philosophy of social science reporting research Each section is preceded by a short introduction placing the readings in context This reader text also includes features such as discussion questions and practical exercises Radicalism, Anti-Racism and Representation Alastair Bonnett, 2023-02-14 First published in 1993 Radicalism Anti Racism and Representation is a study set within a wider political context for the discussion of racial representation and anti racism The second half of the book is devoted to interview based exploration of the ambiguities and political characteristics of race equality consciousness amongst public educators It is shown that there is no one anti racism Different ideals and assumptions have been arrived at within different historical and geographical contexts It is suggested that this intellectual plurality provides a resource for those wishing to rethink anti racism in the light of its contemporary malaise The study also explores and explains the development of self critical reflexive anti racist and radical consciousness amongst educators The book provides the first sociological study of anti racism Indeed it is the first to provide a substantive critique of anti racism from outside the New Right It is also the first to look at this phenomenon geographically and to compare anti racism in multiracial and white areas This book will be of interest to students of human geography sociology history ethnic studies and race studies Introduction To Race Relations Barry Troyna, 2003-09-02 This is the second edition of the textbook on race and ethnic relations which has been adopted by academic and vocational courses and which is designed to be a straightforward introduction to this field of study It retains all the original features but reflects on events over the years since its original publication incorporating accounts of developments in the UK and USA Suggestions for further readings are revised in the light of the latest research Theories of Race and Racism Les Back, John Solomos, 2022-05-17 Theories of Race and Racism A Reader provides an overview of historical and contemporary debates in this vital and ever evolving field of scholarship and research Combining contributions from seminal thinkers leading scholars and emergent voices this reader provides a critical reflection on key trends and developments in the field. The contributions to this reader provide an overview of key areas of scholarship and research on questions of race and racism. It provides a novel perspective by bringing together readings on the key theoretical and historical processes in this area: the development of diverse theoretical viewpoints, the analysis of antisemitism, the role of colonialism and postcolonialism, feminist perspectives on race and the articulation of new accounts of the contemporary conjuncture. The contributions to this reader include classic works by the likes of W E B DuBois, Stuart Hall and Frantz Fanon as well as timely pieces by contemporary scholars including Orlando Patterson, Patricia Hill Collins and Paul Gilroy. By bringing together a broad range of diverse accounts, Theories of Race and Racism: A Reader engages with various key areas of interest and is an invaluable guide for students and instructors seeking to explore issues of race and racism.

Raciolinguistics John R. Rickford, 2016. Raciolinguistics reveals the central role that language plays in shaping our ideas about race. This team of leading scholars working both within and beyond the United States shares powerful, much-needed research to help us understand the increasingly vexed relationships between race, ethnicity and language in our rapidly changing world.

An Introduction to the Study of Education David Matheson, 2014-09-15. This fully updated fourth edition of An Introduction to the Study of Education provides a comprehensive and reflective introduction to the study of education, inviting students to question what education is, who it is for and what purpose it serves. Taking the reader from the early years through to lifelong learning, it examines all forms of education and learning. This new edition includes ten completely new chapters and a step-by-step guide to essay writing. There is also a companion website to accompany the book, featuring additional chapters which can be visited at www.routledge.com/cw/matheson. This fully updated fourth edition provides a full exploration of the historical, sociological, philosophical and psychological roots of education, a clear focus on the individual levels of education: preschool, compulsory, post-compulsory and lifelong learning, the latest debates within special educational needs, an in-depth examination of learning styles, insights into the historical development of education and the role of and background to research in education, a focus on current educational practice and diversity across the United Kingdom and Ireland. Written in a clear and accessible style, this is the essential core text for all beginning students on undergraduate and postgraduate courses in Education Studies and all those interested in education today, where it came from and where it is going.

South Asians Overseas Colin Clarke, Ceri Peach, Steven Vertovec, 1990-10-26. Offers essays relating to the South Asian diaspora which occurred after slavery's end in the British Empire.

Everyday Antiracism Mica Pollock, 2010-07-19. Which acts by educators are racist and which are antiracist? How can an educator constructively discuss complex issues of race with students and colleagues? In Everyday Antiracism, leading educators deal with the most challenging questions about race in school, offering invaluable and effective advice. Contributors including Beverly Daniel Tatum, Sonia Nieto and Pedro Noguera describe concrete ways to analyze classroom interactions that may or may not be racial, deal with racial inequality and diversity and teach to high standards across racial lines Topics range from using racial incidents as teachable moments and responding to the n word to valuing students home worlds dealing daily with achievement gaps and helping parents fight ethnic and racial misconceptions about their children Questions following each essay prompt readers to examine and discuss everyday issues of race and opportunity in their own classrooms and schools For educators and parents determined to move beyond frustrations about race Everyday Antiracism is an essential tool Race in the 21st Century John Hartigan (Jr.),2015 What is the state of race relations in the U S Are we making progress toward ending racial discrimination and prejudice What exactly does race mean In Race in the 21st Century Ethnographic Approaches Second Edition John Hartigan Jr takes an anthropological look at such questions by introducing students to the study of race through qualitative methods In the first text to take an explicitly ethnographic approach Hartigan summarizes and explains the current state of social science knowledge on race in the U S motivating students to think through essential questions about race in relation to their own lives In contrast with many texts Race in the 21st Century focuses not on essential differences between racial or ethnic groups but rather on the commonalities Hartigan concentrates on the particular contexts in which people actively engage and respond to racial meanings and identities In this way he encourages readers to think critically about the meaning of race The second edition of Race in the 21st Century features a new chapter Postracial America which examines contentious arguments about whether or how race still matters in the U S today It engages students fully in the important question of what postracial America might mean or look like Racism and Equal Opportunity Policies in the 1980s Richard Jenkins,John Solomos,1989 This edition first published in 1989 looks at the problems of racism and equal opportunity in employment and government policies towards them in Britain It brings together a group of specialist contributors and covers the major areas of debate including the law policies towards unemployment job training and the labour market the role of the public and private sectors the role of trade unions the gap between policies and pronouncements on equal opportunity and their implementation and the related issue of sectarian discrimination in Northern Ireland It looks at the future prospects for equal opportunities and provides conclusions for policy In particular it aims to address important topics such as the assumptions underlying policies and whether they realistically reflect reality the actual effect of legislation and the relationship between power disparities in society as a whole and racial inequality
