Anti-slavery poems. Songs of labor and reform John Greenleaf Whittier, 1888 Anti-Slavery Poems John Greenleaf Whittier, 2015-06-20 Anti Slavery Poems Songs of Labor and Reform Volumes I II and III By John Greenleaf Whittier The French ship Le Rodeur with a crew of twenty two men and with one hundred and sixty negro slaves sailed from Bonny in Africa April 1819 On approaching the line a terrible malady broke out an obstinate disease of the eyes contagious and altogether beyond the resources of medicine It was aggravated by the scarcity of water among the slaves only half a wine glass per day being allowed to an individual and by the extreme impurity of the air in which they breathed By the advice of the physician they were brought upon deck occasionally but some of the poor wretches locking themselves in each other's arms leaped overboard in the hope which so universally prevails among them of being swiftly transported to their own homes in Africa To check this the captain ordered several who were stopped in the attempt to be shot or hanged before their companions The disease extended to the crew and one after another were smitten with it until only one remained unaffected Yet even this dreadful condition did not preclude calculation to save the expense of supporting slaves rendered unsalable and to obtain grounds for a claim against the underwriters thirty six of the negroes having become blind were thrown into the sea and drowned Speech of M Benjamin Constant in the French Chamber of Deputies June 17 1820 Corpse after corpse came up Death had been busy there Where every blow is mercy Why should the spoiler spare Corpse after corpse they cast Sullenly from the ship Yet bloody with the traces Of fetter link and whip Gloomily stood the captain With his arms upon his breast With his cold brow sternly knotted And his iron lip compressed Are all the dead dogs over Growled through that matted lip The blind ones are no better Let's lighten the good ship Hark from the ship's dark bosom The very sounds of hell The ringing clank of iron The maniac's short sharp yell The hoarse low curse throat stifled The starving infant's moan The horror of a breaking heart Poured through a mother's groan
