man or a woman of sorrow a recipient of much unbearable pain      Chekhov Selected Stories Anton Chekhov, 2025-03-04

Anton Chekhov's short stories were some of the most influential in modern literature. Relying on subtlety and clever characterization rather than explicit action, his sketches of Russian life bring out comedy, tragedy, and all aspects of human nature. This beautiful pocket edition features some of Chekhov's most celebrated stories, including Vanka, The Lady with a Dog, and Sleepy. It is presented with gilded page edges, foil cover embossing, and patterned endpapers, making a wonderful collectible edition for any lover of classic literature.

Short Story Paul March-Russell, 2009-05-15 This new general introduction emphasises the importance of the short story to an understanding of modern fiction. In twenty succinct chapters, the study paints a complete portrait of the short story, its history, culture, aesthetics, and economics. European innovators such as Chekhov, Flaubert, and Kafka are compared to Irish, New Zealand, and British practitioners such as Joyce, Mansfield, and Carter, as well as writers in the American tradition from Hawthorne and Poe to Barthelme and Carver. Fresh attention is paid to experimental, postcolonial, and popular fiction, alongside developments in Anglo-American, Hispanic, and European literature. Critical approaches to the short story are debated and reassessed, while discussion of the short story is related to contemporary critical theory. In what promises to be essential reading for students and academics, the study sets out to prove that the short story remains vital to the emerging culture of the twenty-first century.

The Classic Short Story, 1870-1925 Florence Goyet, 2014-01-13 The ability to construct a nuanced narrative or complex character in the constrained form of the short story has sometimes been seen as the ultimate test of an author's creativity. Yet during the time when the short story was at its most popular, the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries, even the greatest writers followed strict generic conventions that were far from subtle. This expanded and updated translation of Florence Goyet's influential La Nouvelle 1870-1925: Description d'un genre son apogée (Paris 1993) is the only study to focus exclusively on this classic period across different continents. Ranging through French, English, Italian, Russian, and Japanese writing, particularly the stories of Guy de Maupassant, Henry James, Giovanni Verga, Anton Chekhov, and Akutagawa Ryunosuke, Goyet shows that these authors were able to create brilliant and successful short stories using the very simple tools of brevity of that period. In this challenging and far-reaching study, Goyet looks at classic short stories in the context in which they were read, at the time cheap newspapers and higher-end periodicals. She demonstrates that despite the apparent intention of these stories to question bourgeois ideals, they mostly affirmed the prejudices of their readers. In doing so, her book forces us to re-think our preconceptions about this forgotten genre.
