Another Colette:

Another Colette Lynne Huffer, 1992 The contradictions that arise from that construction Another Colette offers a revisionary reading of Colette in light of poststructuralist and feminist criticism particularly that of Derrida Lacan and Kristeva and makes a significant contribution to current questions regarding the relationship of gender sexuality and language In moving beyond the traditional gesture of reading the work of a woman writer as no more than her own experience the study argues for a Colette's Republic Patricia A. Tilburg, 2009 In France's Third Republic secularism was for its adherents a new faith a civic religion founded on a rabid belief in progress and the Enlightenment conviction that men and women could remake their world And yet with all of its pragmatic smoothing over of the supernatural edges of Catholicism the Third Republic engendered its own fantastical ways of seeing by embracing observation corporeal dynamism and imaginative introspection How these republican ideals and the new national education system of the 1870s and 80s the structure meant to impart these ideals shaped belle poque popular culture is the focus of this book The author reassesses the meaning of secularization and offers a cultural history of this period by way of an interrogation of several fraught episodes which although seemingly disconnected shared an attachment to the potent moral and aesthetic directives of French republicanism a village's battle to secularize its schools a scandalous novel a vaudeville hit featuring a nude celebrity and a craze for female boxing Beginning with the writer and performer Colette 1873 1954 as a point of entry this re evaluation of belle poque popular culture probes the startling connections between republican values of labor and physical health on the one hand and the cultural innovations of the decades preceding World War I on the other Colette and the Conquest of Self Laurel Cummins, 2005 The Intersecting Realities and Fictions of Virginia Woolf and Colette Helen Southworth, 2004 What might the author of Mrs Dalloway and A Room of One's Own have in common with the author of the Claudine series and The Pure and the Impure Resisting long held interpretations that Colette and Virginia Woolf had little in common Southworth shows here the links between the two famous writers both real and imagined Often cast in their diametrically opposed roles of elitist bluestocking and risque music hall performer critics have overlooked the many ways in which the lives and works of Woolf and Colette intersect This study provides a broad ranging introduction to the biographical stylistic and thematic ties that link the lives and works of Britain's and France's first ladies of letters of the early twentieth century Situating the two writers within an international network of artists and literati including Jacques Emile Blanche Radclyffe Hall and Una Troubridge Winnie de Polignac Gisele Freund Sylvia Beach and Adrienne Monnier Vita Sackville West and Violet Trefusis this study complicates conceptions of the differences national sexual cultural and intellectual which have kept these two women apart by placing these same differences at its center Southworth develops work already undertaken on Woolf's contacts with France and adds to the body of comparative work on Woolf and her contemporaries This study also highlights as yet unexplored connections between Colette and her British and American peers Southworth's book makes a significant contribution to gay and lesbian studies and the study of modernist culture It also demonstrates the potential of social network theory for literary studies

The Stolen Life of Colette Marceau Kristin Harmel, 2025-06-17 Kristin Harmel the New York Times bestselling author who is the best there is at sweeping historical drama Kelly Harms author of The Seven Day Switch returns with an electrifying new novel about two jewel thieves a priceless bracelet that disappears in 1940s Paris and a quest for answers in a decades old murder Colette Marceau has been stealing jewels for nearly as long as she can remember following the centuries old code of honor instilled in her by her mother Annabel take only from the cruel and unkind and give to those in need Never was their family tradition more important than seven decades earlier during the Second World War when Annabel and Colette worked side by side in Paris to fund the French Resistance But one night in 1942 it all went wrong Annabel was arrested by the Germans and Colette s four year old sister Liliane disappeared in the chaos of the raid along with an exquisite diamond bracelet sewn into the hem of her nightgown for safekeeping Soon after Annabel was executed and Liliane s body was found floating in the Seine but the bracelet was nowhere to be found Seventy years later Colette who has redistributed 30 million in jewels over the decades to fund many worthy organizations has done her best to put her tragic past behind her but her life begins to unravel when the long missing bracelet suddenly turns up in a museum exhibit in Boston If Colette can discover where it has been all this time and who owns it now she may finally learn the truth about what happened to her sister But she isn t the only one for whom the bracelet holds answers and when someone from her childhood lays claim to the diamonds she s forced to confront the ghosts of her past as never before Against all odds there may still be a chance to bring a murderer to justice but first Colette will have to summon the courage to open her own battered heart

Memory in World Cinema Nancy J. Membrez, 2019-08-30 Film itself is an artifact of memory A blend of all the other fine arts film portrays and preserves human memory someone's memory faulty or not dramatically or comically in a documentary feature film or short Hollywood may dominate 80 percent of cinema production but it is not the only voice World cinema is about those other voices Drawn initially from presentations from a series of film conferences held at the University of Texas at San Antonio this collection of essays covers multiple geographical linguistic and cultural areas worldwide emphasizing the historical and cultural interpretation of films Appendices list films focusing on memory and invite readers to explore the films and issues raised Missing Persons Bruce Piasecki, 2015-02-09 An unpretentious tactical and sure footed examination of the events that shaped his own life Jay Parini author of the best selling historical novel The Last Station Bruce Piasecki's book on business strategy Doing More With Less the New Way to Wealth was an immediate success becoming a New York Times USA Today and Wall Street Journal bestseller Indeed Doing More With Less is not just a clever book title it explains the core philosophy of a man who propelled from an impoverished and fatherless childhood became an internationally sought after resource for the world's largest corporations from Toyota and Wal Mart to Shell and Suncor Energy Those who helped and shaped Dr Piasecki are the focus of his latest work Missing Persons A Life of Unexpected Influences Indeed in this set of 70 vignettes Piasecki channels his poetic side a side that was first noticed at Cornell when his little known book of poems was published under the title Stray Prayers in 1973 The memoir one part autobiography one part creative non fiction and written in vignette form recounts the author's formative relationships and experiences with intimacy and longing Meet his mother and father his interracial brothers and sisters his early and late business partners his lovers his daughter and his wife It is told in a unique third person narrative that provides intrigue for the reader as they follow the protagonist through loss passion self invention a litany of fears and dreams each revealed in eloquent prose Through his uniquely informed perspective Bruce allows us to understand the power of memory and how it influences us The simplicity that made Doing More With Less a bestseller makes this new work not only compelling but also life affirming Missing Persons explores the meaning and power of memory and offers an opportunity for the reader to pause reflect and recount the myriad of influences in their own lives Maternal Pasts, Feminist Futures Lynne Huffer, 1998 This book examines the relations among nostalgia gender and foundational philosophies through a critique of the lost mother as a ground for thinking about sexual difference More specifically the author critiques the nostalgic tendencies of feminist theory arguing that an emancipatory system of thought must move beyond a maternally oriented structure Through close readings of works by Maurice Blanchot Luce Irigaray Julia Kristeva and Nicole Brossard the book elucidates the many dimensions of nostalgic paradigms literary psychoanalytic epistemological ontological and sociopolitical This critique ultimately confronts postmodernism and especially the burgeoning field of performative theory as an intellectual paradigm that claims to subvert systems of meaning Analyzing the writings of J L Austin Judith Butler and Irigaray the author argues that despite its antinostalgic structure performative theory provides an inadequate model for understanding the connections among language identity and the social bonds that constitute the ethical and political sphere Asserting through the example of performative theory that a critique is not enough the book examines the possibility of a constructive model that is both non nostalgic and informed by ethical constraints One such model is offered through a reading of the Quebecois writer Nicole Brossard which explores her work in relation to the question of lesbian writing Demystifying nostalgia Brossard not only uncovers and subverts the structures through which a concept of origins is produced but also provides a different visionary way of thinking about the relationship between subjectivity and language Finally the book argues for further feminist work on the relationship between narrative and ethics a field whose future lies in the elaboration of a bridge between the moral commitments of ethical theory and the fractured realities that find their expression in literary forms
