Aesthetics and the Revolutionary City James Clifford Kent, 2018-09-22 Aesthetics and the Revolutionary City engages in alternative ways of reading foreign visual representations of Havana through analysis of advertising images documentary films and photographic texts It explores key narratives relating to the projection of different Havana imaginaries and focuses on a range of themes including pre revolutionary Cuba the dream of revolution and the metaphor of the city frozen in time The book also synthesizes contemporary debates regarding the notion of Havana as a real and imagined city space and fleshes out its theoretical insights with a series of stand alone important case studies linked to the representation of the Cuban capital in the Western imaginary The interpretations in the book bring into focus a range of critical historical moments in Cuban history including the Cuban Revolution and the Special Period and consider the ways in which they have been projected in advertising documentary film and photography outside the island

Imagining the Other Regis Tove Stella, 2007-04-30 Much has been written about Papua New Guinea over the last century and too often in ways that legitimated or served colonial interests through highly pejorative and racist descriptions of Papua New Guineans Paying special attention to early travel literature works of fiction and colonial reports laws and legislation Regis Tove Stella reveals the complex and persistent network of discursive strategies deployed to subjugate the land and its people

The Corporeal Image David MacDougall, 2005-10-10 In this book David MacDougall one of the leading ethnographic filmmakers and film scholars of his generation builds upon the ideas from his widely praised Transcultural Cinema and argues for a new conception of how visual images create human knowledge in a world in which the value of seeing has often been eclipsed by words In ten chapters MacDougall explores the relations between photographic images and the human body the body of the viewer and the body behind the camera as well as the body as seen in ethnography cinema and photography In a landmark piece he discusses the need for a new field of social aesthetics further elaborated in his reflections on filming at an elite boys school in northern India The theme of the school is taken up as well in his discussion of fiction and nonfiction films of childhood The book's final section presents a radical view of the history of visual anthropology as a maverick anthropological practice that was always at odds with the anthropology of words In place of the conventional wisdom he proposes a new set of principles for visual anthropology These are essays in the classical sense speculative judicious lucidly written and mercifully jargon free The Corporeal Image presents the latest ideas from one of our foremost thinkers on the role of vision and visual representation in contemporary social thought

Occidentalism : Images of the West James G. Carrier, 1995-04-13 This is an investigation of Western cultural identity It shows how people's images of themselves and others reflect the power that different groups in a society have to shape these images The contributors describe these images in Western academic writing popular Western culture and societies outside the West in this counterpart to Edward Said's Orientalism Occidentalism is an investigation of images of Western cultural identity Edward Said's Orientalism revolutionized

Western understanding of non Western cultures by showing how Western projected images shaped the Occidental of the Orient but those who follow Said have not until now reflected that understanding back onto Western societies Occidentalism shows how images of the West shape people s conceptions of themselves and others and how these images are in turn shaped by members of Western and non Western societies alike The contributors describe and explicate these images in a variety of areas from Western academic writing to popular Western culture from societies within and outside the West to show how power and conflict shape such conceptions

Dynamics Behind Persistent Images of "the Other" Vanessa Wijngaarden, 2016 In tourism strangers meet face to face What do Tanzanian Maasai and Western tourists think when they meet Using a combination of methods that has never been tried in anthropology or in the field of tourism studies this work provides novel theoretical insights into the images hosts and guests have of each other and how their views relate to the interactions they experience This compelling reflexive study uses video and Q method to contribute to the epistemology of anthropological research in tourism settings and the construction of a new more symmetrical anthropology Dissertation An important contribution to the growing field of the anthropology of tourism an example of intense and methodical fieldwork combined with theoretical acumen and deep reflexivity Prof Dr Walter E A van Beek Tilburg U Series Contributions to African Research Beitr ge zur Afrikaforschung Vol 76 Subject African Studies Tourism Studies Anthropology Sociology The Report: Papua New Guinea 2019 Oliver Cornock, Efforts to improve public governance are gradually bolstering confidence in Papua New Guinea s economy despite national performance being heavily dependent on the extractive industries Backed by macroeconomic development plans Prime Minister James Marape s administration is seeking to improve debt management reduce foreign exchange imbalances widen access to social services and provide greater employment opportunities

Human Emotion Recognition from Face Images Paramartha Dutta, Asit Barman, 2020-03-26 This book discusses human emotion recognition from face images using different modalities highlighting key topics in facial expression recognition such as the grid formation distance signature shape signature texture signature feature selection classifier design and the combination of signatures to improve emotion recognition The book explains how six basic human emotions can be recognized in various face images of the same person as well as those available from benchmark face image databases like CK JAFFE MMI and MUG The authors present the concept of signatures for different characteristics such as distance and shape texture and describe the use of associated stability indices as features supplementing the feature set with statistical parameters such as range skewedness kurtosis and entropy In addition they demonstrate that experiments with such feature choices offer impressive results and that performance can be further improved by combining the signatures rather than using them individually There is an increasing demand for emotion recognition in diverse fields including psychotherapy biomedicine and security in government public and private agencies This book offers a valuable resource for researchers working in these areas
