Anthropological Perspectives On Economic Development And Integration:

Anthropological Perspectives on Economic Development and Integration Norbert Dannhaeuser, Cynthia Werner, Cynthia Ann Werner, 2003-11-08 Addresses two recurrent themes in economic anthropology These are the process of economic development and the basis on which economic integration takes place The development theme is divided between papers that are concerned with the social and demographic impact of development and those that examine the recent post socialist transition

Economic Development, Integration, and Morality in Asia and the Americas Donald C. Wood, 2009-04-09 Explores economic development integration and morality in economic transactions in Asia and the America This title includes chapters that look at underground gambling behavior in China in light of that country s economic boom and retail store expansion and local socioeconomic effects in rural Mexico

Economic Action in Theory and Practice Donald C. Wood, 2010-08-18 Contains 14 chapters that focus on various aspects of economic organization and behaviour mostly based on empirical fieldwork conducted by the authors themselves This title takes a look at urban food provisioning in Cameroon and an investigation into entrepreneurial activities in the rapidly changing economy of Cairo

Economics of Religion Lionel Obadia, Donald C. Wood, 2011-10-25 Explores the fresh paradigms of religious economics and economies of religion under the scope of transdisciplinary and international perspectives This title examines and appraises some of the theoretical developments and methodological innovations in religious and social sciences

Political Economy, Neoliberalism, and the Prehistoric Economies of Latin America Ty Matejowsky, Donald C. Wood, 2012-10-24 Continues on going presentation of highly engaging anthropological research This title contains a range of broad based and localized topics economic anthropologists that explore from various critical perspectives It addresses questions of how political economy is articulated through processes of consumption production and evolution

Engaging with Capitalism Fiona McCormack, Kate Barclay, 2013-05-14 The volume addresses how capitalism has been very effective in generating wealth and technological innovation but has also been associated with social inequity and environmental damage Its inherent flaws have been highlighted by the escalation of ecological problems arising from growth oriented capitalism and various economic crises

The Informal Economy in Global Perspective Abel Polese, Colin C. Williams, Ioana A. Horodnic, Predrag Bejakovic, 2017-04-18 This book critically engages with how formal and informal mechanisms of governance are used across the world Specifically it analyzes how the governance mechanisms of formal institutions are questioned challenged and renegotiated through informal institutions Whilst there is an emerging body of scholarship focusing on informal practices this is scattered across a number of disciplines This edited collection by contrast fosters a dialogue on these issues moving away from monodisciplinary and normative methodologies that view informal institutions and practices simply as temporary economic phenomena In doing so the authors provide a wider understanding of how governance is composed of both the formal and the informal which complement each other but are also constantly in competition This novel approach will appeal to social scientists economists policy makers practitioners and anyone else willing to widen their understanding of how governance works      Production, Consumption, Business and the Economy Donald C. Wood, 2014-09-05 This volume is divided into four main sections these focus on commodities and their social meanings anthropological investigation of business systems and practices the economic importance of productive land in culture and society and a showcase of new research on the economic anthropology of Latin America      Qazaq Pastoralists in Western Mongolia Peter Finke, 2023-08-31 Taking the case of Qazaq Pastoralists in Western Mongolia this book looks at the universal human requirement to balance individual flexibility and strategies designed to make a living with the social expectations that impose particular rules of conduct but also enable mutual trust and cooperation to emerge Pastoralists in Western Mongolia have experienced dramatic changes in recent decades including the dismantling of the socialist economy a series of natural disasters and an emigration of roughly half of the local Qazaq minority to the newly independent state of Qazaqstan Four aspects illustrate the chances and challenges that people face First is the emergence of the market as the dominant mode of production and exchange a thorny way full of uncertainties Second is the individual household and its adaptation to the new economic system creating new opportunities as well as precarities and resulting in rapid social stratification Thirdly patterns of pastoral land allocation highlight problems of collective action and institutional fragmentation in the wake of a retreating state apparatus Finally social networks of mutual support and cooperation constitute a key component of pastoral livelihood but are under great pressure due to short time horizons and a lack of trust The first longitudinal analysis of the Qazaqs in Mongolia in English and a contribution to anthropological theories on human adaptability and decision making economic and social inequalities institutional change and the difficulty of deriving at cooperative solutions this book will be a standard work and of interest to academics in the field of Central Asian Studies Anthropology Human Geography and Development Studies      The Laissez-Faire Peasant Jovana Diković, 2025-01-14 In rural development studies there are two mainstream assumptions One holds that peasants are the victims of state rural development schemes the other that only planning can ensure change and prosperity in rural regions It is rarely considered that peasants are architects of their own and local wellbeing notions which are often in opposition to state plans for agriculture The Laissez Faire Peasant explores how rural development emerges on the ground The concept involves the manifestation of peasant worldviews in which autonomy in decision making freedom of action spontaneity and flexibility in everyday cooperation play a dominant role A role in which individual and local values generate a self regulating system that manages a range of economic social and political relationships The book examines manifestations of peasant autonomy both in response to and independent of state rural development policies through a multi sited ethnography of three Serbian villages It is shown how these factors impede state programs for rural development while enabling the spontaneous flourishing of local communities By focusing on the agency of rural residents the book finds that peasants are resilient and competent agents who do not need government plans to thrive Praise for The Laissez Faire

Peasant Anthropologists and missionaries claim to love their peasants Economists and planners claim to help them Both look down Dikovi brilliantly proposes a new approach which might be called humanomics It gives respect looking up from where people actually live Deirdre Nansen McCloskey University of Illinois at Chicago This is an ethnographically rich and conceptually original study of post socialist peasantry and rural development in Serbia Jovana Dikovi draws a complex picture of the post socialist peasants as autonomous and resilient subjects motivated by the visions of rural development anchored in their local lifeworlds Agnieszka Joniak L thi University of Fribourg In her excellent study Jovana Dikovi challenges the narrative about Serbian peasants usually viewed as downtrodden and exploited underdogs in need of governmental help In this careful case study these peasants represent an entrepreneurial self reliant and individualistic social group that can survive and thrive even in the conditions of modern and technologically advanced capitalism Ivan Jankovi Institut auf dem Rosenberg Health, Money, Commerce, and Wealth Donald C. Wood, Raja Swamy, 2024-05-30 Exploring the interconnectedness and uncertainty of today s economic world this volume thoughtfully considers core themes current trends and possibilities for the future Dimensions of Ritual Economy Patricia Ann McAnany, 2008-05-05 Increasingly economists have acknowledged that a major limitation to economic theory has been its failure to incorporate human values and beliefs as motivational factors This book explores how values and beliefs structure the dual processes of provisioning and consuming In the Shadow of Tungurahua A.J. Faas, 2022-10-14 In the Shadow of Tungurahua is about villagers learning to co live with an active volcano while adapting to disasters largely produced by a protean state s attempts to settle and govern its rural margins It s also about people responding creatively to cooperate confront hardships and craft new futures through locally derived disaster recovery projects and politics Hidden Hands in the Market Peter Luetchford, Geert De Neve, Jeffery Pratt, 2008-09-01 Engages with a range of alternative ethical perspectives and the initiatives to which they give rise This book features case studies that covers a range of places commodities and initiatives including Fair Trade and organic production activism in Hungary Fair Trade coffee in Costa Rica and handicrafts made in Indonesia A Magpie's Tale Anna Odland Portisch, 2023-01-13 Telling the story of the author s time living with a Kazakh family in a small village in western Mongolia this book contextualizes the family s personal stories within the broader history of the region It looks at the position of the Kazakh over time in relation to Tsarist Russian Soviet Chinese and Mongolian rule and influence These are stories of migration across generations bride kidnappings and marriage domestic violence and alcoholism adoption and family and how people have coped in the face of political and economic crisis poverty and loss and perhaps most enduringly how love and family persist through all of this The Dirty Side of the Garment Industry Nikolay Anguelov, 2015-09-04 When thinking about lowering or changing consumption to lower carbon footprints the obvious offenders come easily to mind petroleum and petroleum products paper and plastic even food But not clothes Although the clothing industry is the second largest polluter after agriculture most consumers do not think of clothes as a source of environmen      Towards a Culture of Participation? Julia Vorhölter, 2009 Although participation and empowerment constitute prominent ideals in international development cooperation most development interventions are still patronizing and conducted in a top down manner This book argues that one reason for the unsuccessful implementation of participation and empowerment relates to the cultures and internal structures of development organizations A theoretical model explicates how organizational culture influences an organization's approach to participatory development This model is applied to an ethnographic case study of a South African development organization      Magical Capitalism Brian Moeran, Timothy de Waal Malefyt, 2018-07-16 This volume of essays examines the ways in which magical practices are found in different aspects of contemporary capitalist societies From contract law to science by way of finance business marketing advertising cultural production and the political economy in general each chapter argues that the kind of magic studied by anthropologists in less developed societies shamanism sorcery enchantment the occult is not only alive and well but flourishing in the midst of so called modernity Modern day magicians range from fashion designers and architects to Donald Trump and George Soros Magical rites take place in the form of political summits the transformation of products into brands through advertising campaigns and the biannual fashion collections shown in New York London Milan and Paris Magical language in the form of magical spells is used by everyone from media to marketers and all others devoted to the art of spin While magic may appear to be opposed to systems of rational economic thought Moeran and Malefyt highlight the ways it may in fact be an accomplice to it      Vietnam's Socialist Servants Minh T. N. Nguyen, 2014-08-27 Since Vietnam introduced economic reforms in the mid 1980s domestic service has become an established sector of the labour market and domestic workers have become indispensable to urban life in the rapidly changing country This book analyzes the ways in which the practices and discourses of domestic service serve to forge and contest emerging class identities in post reform Vietnam Drawing on a rich and diverse range of qualitative data including ethnographies interviews and narratives it shows that such practices and discourses are rooted in cultural notions of gender and rural urban difference and enduring socialist structures of feeling which in turn clash with the realities of growing differentiation Domestic workers experiences reveal negotiations with class boundaries actively set by the urban middle class who seek distinction through emerging notions and practices of domesticity These boundaries are nevertheless riddled with gender and class anxiety on the side of the latter partly because of the very struggles and contestations of the domestic workers More broadly Minh T N Nguyen links the often invisible intimate dynamics of class formation in the domestic sphere with wider political economic processes in a post socialist country embarking on marketization while retaining the political control of a party state As a pioneering ethnographic study of domestic service in Vietnam today this book will be of great interest to students and scholars of Southeast Asian culture society social anthropology gender studies human geography and development studies      Exploring Creativity Brian Moeran, Bo T. Christensen, 2013-03-21 Under the guidance of Moeran and Christensen the authors in this volume examine evaluative practices in the creative industries by exploring the processes surrounding the conception design manufacture appraisal and use of creative goods They describe the editorial choices made by different participants in a creative world as they go about conceiving composing or designing performing or making selling and assessing a range of cultural products The study draws upon ethnographically rich case studies from companies as varied as Bang and Olufsen Hugo Boss and Lonely Planet in order to reveal the broad range of factors guiding and inhibiting creative processes Some of these constraints are material and technical others are social or defined by aesthetic norms The authors explore how these various constraints affect creative work and how ultimately they contribute to the development of creativity
