Anthropological Critique Of Development The Growth Of Ignorance:

An Anthropological Critique of Development Mark Hobart, 2002-05-03 Challenges the utopian view of Western knowledge as uniquely successful in its application to economic and social development The contributors offer an ethnographic critique using case studies from Europe Africa Asia and Latin America A Moral Critique of Development Ph Quarles van Ufford, Ananta Kumar Giri, 2003 In light of recent criticism of the development ideal this book comments on how international development might once again become a visionary project Gender Ironies of Nationalism Tamar Mayer, 2012-10-12 This book provides a unique social science reading on the construction of nation gender and sexuality and on the interactions among them It includes international case studies from Indonesia Ireland former Yugoslavia Liberia Sri Lanka Australia the USA Turkey China India and the Caribbean The contributors offer both the masculine and feminine perspective exposing how nations are comprised of sexed bodies and exploring the gender ironies of nationalism and how sexuality plays a key role in nation building and in sustaining national identity The contributors conclude that control over access to the benefits of belonging to the nation is invariably gendered nationalism becomes the language through which sexual control and repression is justified masculine prowess is expressed and exercised Whilst it is men who claim the prerogatives of nation and nation building it is for the most part women who actually accept the obligation of nation and nation building Tribal Communities in the Malay World Geoffrey Benjamin, 2003-08-01 The Malay World Alam Melayu spanning the Malay Peninsula much of Sumatra and parts of Borneo has long contained within it a variety of populations Most of the Malays have been organized into the different kingdoms kerajaan Melayu from which they have derived their identity But the territories of those kingdoms have also included tribal peoples both Malay and non Malay who have held themselves apart from those kingdoms in varying degrees In the last three decades research on these tribal societies has aroused increasing interest This book explores the ways in which the character of these societies relates to the Malay kingdoms that have held power in the region for many centuries past as well as to the modern nation states of the region It brings together researchers committed to comparative analysis of the tribal groups living on either side of the Malacca Straits in Indonesia Malaysia Thailand and Singapore New theoretical and descriptive approaches are presented for the study of the social and cultural continuities and discontinuities manifested by tribal life in the region African Intellectuals and the State of the Continent Olayiwola Abegunrin, Sabella Abidde, 2018-07-26 This festschrift is composed in honor of a distinguished scholar and Pan Africanist Professor Sulayman S Nyang whose career and intellectual pursuits spans more than 45 years much of it at Howard University Nyang's contributions to African affairs transcend the scope of the academic world as he served as First Secretary and Head of Chancery of the Gambian Embassy in Saudi Arabia from 1975 to 1977 and consultant to the World Bank and United Nations agencies In addition Professor Nyang served as the President of the Interfaith Conference of Metropolitan Washington DC and a member of the boards of many academic journals and organizations of Islamic Studies in the USA He has published copiously on a variety of issues affecting continental Africans Africans in the Diaspora and beyond He has published and collaborated on dozens of books and book chapters and more than 100 articles in referred journals

Village on the Edge Michael French Smith, 2002-06-30 Kragur village lies on the rugged north shore of Kairiru a steep volcanic island just off the north coast of Papua New Guinea In 1998 the village looked much as it had some twenty two years earlier when author Michael French Smith first visited But he soon found that changing circumstances were shaking things up Village on the Edge weaves together the story of Kragur villagers struggle to find their own path toward the future with the story of Papua New Guinea s travails in the post independence era Smith writes of his own experiences as well living and working in Papua New Guinea and trying to understand the complexities of an unfamiliar way of life To tell all these stories he delves into ghosts magic myths ancestors bookkeeping tourism the World Bank the Holy Spirits and the meaning of progress and development Village on the Edge draws on the insights of cultural anthropology but is written for anyone interested in Papua New Guinea

Living with Disasters Amites Mukhopadhyay, 2016-02-25 Studies land erosion and the islanders vulnerability and displacement in the disaster prone Sundarbans in east India Provided by publisher

Europe's Green Revolution and Others Since Jonathan Harwood, 2012-05-04 How best to foster agricultural development in the Third World has long been a subject of debate and from a European perspective the persistent failure to design peasant friendly technology is puzzling From the late 19th century for example various western European countries also underwent green revolutions in which systematic attempts were made to promote the adoption of technological innovation by peasant farmers This book focuses on the development of public sector plant breeding in Germany from the late nineteenth century through its fate under National Socialism Harwood uses this historical case study in order to argue that peasant friendly research has an important role to play in future Green Revolutions

Conflict Transformation in Central Asia Christine Bichsel, 2009-01-13 This book deals with irrigation disputes and conflict transformation in Central Asia It analyzes aid projects which seek to transform inter community conflicts between Kyrgyzstan Uzbekistan and Tajikistan in the Ferghana Valley addressing both the practicalities of aid and the discourses within which notions of these practicalities are formed

De-Westernizing Communication Research Georgette Wang, 2010-12-14 The rise of postmodern theories and pluralist thinking has paved the way for multicultural approaches to communication studies and now is the time for decentralization de Westernization and differentiation This trend is reflected in the increasing number of communication journals with a national or regional focus Alongside this proliferation of research output from outside of the mainstream West there is a growing discontent with communication theories being Westerncentric Compared with earlier works that questioned the need to distinguish between the Western and the non Western and to build Asian communication theories there seems to be greater assertiveness and determination in searching for and developing theoretical frameworks and paradigms that take consideration of and therefore are more relevant to the cultural context in which research is accomplished This path breaking book moves beyond critiquing Westerncentrism in media and communication studies by examining where Eurocentrism has come from how is it reflected in the study of media and communication what the barriers and solutions to de centralizing the production of theories are and what is called for in order to establish Asian communication theories Terrorism in Africa John Davis,2012-07-10 The study Terrorism in Africa The Evolving Front in the War on Terrorism represents a research endeavor aimed at increasing scholarly discourse on the ever expanding threat of terrorism and terrorist related violence in the region It offers the most wide ranging analysis of the sub national and transnational terrorists groups that have made Africa the second most violent region in the world Additionally the study expands the coverage of the multiple dynamics that indicate why terrorist related violence continues to increase in the region and closes with regional solutions to the threat of terrorism This collection of essays offers a comprehensive analysis of the states terrorist groups and critical issues that have increased the specter of terrorism in Africa The study is divided into three themes 1 the diversity of the terrorist threat among states in the region 2 the regional dynamics and the local response to terrorism and 3 regional solutions to the threat of terrorism in Africa

More than the Soil Jonathan Rigg,2014-09-25 More than the Soil focuses on the social cultural economic and technological processes that have transformed rural areas of Southeast Asia The underlying premise is that rural lives and livelihoods in this region have undergone fundamental change No longer can we assume that rural livelihoods are founded on agriculture nor can we assume that people envisage their futures in terms of farming The inter penetration of the rural and urban and the degree to which rural people migrate between rural and urban areas and shift from agriculture to non agriculture raises fundamental questions about how we conceptualise the rural Southeast Asia and the households to be found there Political Change in Thailand Kevin Hewison,2002-09-11 This book provides an assessment of approaches to studying Thai politics the various forces reshaping the forms of political activity and their roles in the fluid contemporary political environment This volume will be of particular interest to those who require an understanding of the complex and rapidly changing political realities of contemporary Thailand Political Change in Thailand will be of particular interest to those who require an understanding of the complex and rapidly changing political realities of contemporary Thailand

Intercultural Encounters Wim M. J. van Binsbergen,2003 This book brings together fifteen essays investigating aspects of interculturality Like its author it operates at the borderline between social anthropology and intercultural philosophy It seeks to make a contribution to intercultural philosophy by formulating with great precision and painful honesty the lessons deriving from extensive intercultural experiences as an anthropologist Its culminating section presents an intercultural philosophy revolving on the tenet cultures do not exist The kaleidoscopic nature of intercultural experiences is reflected in the diversity of these texts Many belong to a field that could be described as meta anthropology others are more clearly philosophical occasionally they spill over into belles lettres ancient history and comparative cultural and religious studies The ethnographic specifics supporting the arguments are diverse deriving from various African situations in which the author has conducted participatory field research Tunisia Zambia Botswana and South Africa International Politics of HIV/AIDS

Hakan Seckinelgin, 2007-08-07 This book examines the global governance of the HIV AIDS epidemic interrogating the role of this international system and global discourse on HIV AIDS interventions The geographical focus is Sub Saharan Africa since the region has been at the forefront of these interventions There is a need to understand the relationship between the international political environment and the impact of resulting policies on HIV AIDS in the context of people s lives Hakan Seckinelgin points out a certain disjuncture between this governance structures and the way people experience the disease in their everyday lives Although the structure allows people to emerge as policy relevant target groups and beneficiaries the articulation of needs and design of policy interventions tends to reflect international priorities rather than people s thinking on the problem In other words he argues that while the international interventions highlight the importance attributed to the HIV AIDS problem the nature of the system does not allow interventions to be far reaching and sustainable Offering a critical contribution to the understanding of the problems in HIV AIDS in Sub Saharan Africa International Politics of HIV AIDS will be invaluable to students and researchers of health international politics and development Reforming Land and Resource

Use in South Africa Paul Hebinck, Charlie Shackleton, 2010-11-23 This book debates the emergent proprieties of rural and peri urban South Africa since land and agrarian reforms were initiated after the transition to democracy in 1994 It explores how these reforms have broadened options for the use of land and natural resources Reform minded policies in South Africa have assumed that if access to land and other natural resources is less problematic the use of these resources would be intensified which in turn would alter the structure and dynamic of rural and urban poverty Reforming Land and Resource Use in South Africa examines in detail and from several disciplinary perspectives whether and how this has occurred and if not why not A key argument that this collection pursues is whether land reform has resulted in transformed use of natural i e land crops cattle rangeland wild products etc and other strategic resources labour knowledge institutions networks etc and the value communities and household place on them The contributions explore a combination of new or alternative meanings of land including a look beyond crops and cattle per se to include the collection and selling of wild products as well as a discussion of how land for agriculture has become redefined by land reform beneficiaries as urban land for settlement and urban employment opportunities in addition to urban based agricultural activities Unlike most analyses and commentaries on land reform this book pursues an analysis of land reform dynamics at various levels of aggregation National and regional level analyses of poverty and the ramifications of the property clause are combined with analyses at disaggregate levels such as the land reform project or village The book will be of interest to both researchers and policy makers with an interest in rural development and social change Indian Art Worlds in Contention Helle Bundgaard, 2013-11-05 This beautifully illustrated book explores the opinions of artists critics and others involved with arts or crafts arguing for a theory that considers the different discursive formations and related strategic practices of an art world Focusing on Orissan patta paintings in India the author examines the local regional and national discourses involved In so doing the text demonstrates that while painters local discourses are characterised by pragmatism the discourses of regional and especially national elites are concerned with the exegesis of local paintings and their association with the great Sanskrit tradition A central theme of the study focuses on the awards given for skill in craft making and their changing significance as they pass from national and regional elites to local painters It is shown how certain key actions by local painters result from a clash between local discourses on the one hand and regional and national discourses on the other

Social Welfare and Religion in the Middle East Rana Jawad,2009-07-29 The original analysis in this book presents a new and comprehensive narrative of social welfare in the Middle East through an examination of the role of religious welfare

Diasporas and Diplomacy Marie Gillespie,Alban Webb,2013-01-03 Diasporas and Diplomacy analyzes the exercise of British soft power through the BBC s foreign language services and the diplomatic role played by their diasporic broadcasters The book offers the first historical and comparative analysis of the corporate cosmopolitanism that has characterized the work of the BBC s international services since the inception of its Empire Service in 1932 from radio to the Internet A series of empirically grounded case studies within a shared analytical framework interrogate transformations in international broadcasting relating to colonialism and corporate cosmopolitanism diasporic and national identities public diplomacy and international relations broadcasters and audiences The book will be of interest to students and scholars of sociology and anthropology media and cultural studies journalism history politics international relations as well as of research methods that cross the boundaries between the Social Sciences and Humanities It will also appeal to broadcast journalists and practioners of strategic communication

A Matter of Mutual Survival Günter Burkard,Michael Fremerey,2008 This volume contains a collection of articles based on empirical social science research in forest margin communities around the Lore Lindu National Park in Central Sulawesi Indonesia It refers to a worldwide and particularly topical issue i e the declining forest resources and man s role in the observed processes of nature degradation However it refrains from rather simplistic protectionist approaches which boil down to a separation between man and nature in order to avoid the depletion of natural resources Instead the approach adopted regards the existence or development of co evolutionary potentials both in nature and human society as a precondition for the establishment of a sustainable equilibrium in the interaction between man and nature
