Anthropology And The Global Factory:

Anthropology and the Global Factory Frances Rothstein, Michael L. Blim, 1992 The world is fast becoming a global factory in which workers entrepreneurs and multinational corporations find themselves producing for the world capitalist market This collection of original essays explores in concrete anthropological detail the ways that people throughout the world have been drawn into this new international labor web Broad in scope and far reaching in their analyses the chapters in this book offer numerous examples of this new world order The case studies focus on industrialization in small scale workshops and informal work at home situations as well as multinational corporations Undertaken in every continent in core as well as peripheral regions the studies cover the perspectives of the workers the entrepreneurs and the corporations In this systematic view of the capitalization of the world economy the contributors demonstrate how new economic linkages are being formed between world markets and small scale entrepreneurs and home based local producers and how late developing regions attempt to gain economic sovereignty through the marketing of local product specialties At the same time the contributors investigations provide concrete evidence of local efforts to create culturally distinct and socially equitable lives showing how the spread of the world capitalist economy changes the everyday lives of people They point to ways in which people use their local traditions of kinship culture and community to resist and shape economic change to more satisfying local ends

The Global Factory Peter J. Buckley, 2018-02-23 This key new book synthesises Peter Buckley's work on the global factory the modern networked multinational enterprise The role of interfirm networks entrepreneurship and cooperation in the creation and management of global factories leads to a discussion of their governance internal knowledge transfer strategies and performance including their role in potentially combating societal failures Emerging country multinationals are examined as a special case of global factories with a focus on Indian and Chinese multinationals their involvement in tax havens and offshore financial centres the performance and processes of their acquisition strategies all seen as key aspects of globalisation

Encyclopedia of Social and Cultural Anthropology Alan Barnard, Jonathan Spencer, 1996. Providing a guide to the ideas, arguments, and history of the discipline, this volume discusses human social and cultural life in all its diversity and difference. Theory, ethnography, and history are combined in over 230 entries on topics.

Cosmopolitan Connections Mark-Anthony Falzon, 2004. This accessible book draws on anthropological fieldwork conducted in a number of sites to explore the relation between mobility, cosmopolitanism, and commerce. It is pioneering in that it looks at Székelys, a widespread group that has so far been largely ignored by anthropologists.

Youth and the State in Hungary Laszlo Kurti, 2002-07-20. Youth and the State in Hungary takes as its focus the nature of Hungary's youth movements over the last seventy years. In a detailed ethnographic study, Laszlo Kurti examines the lives of youth workers in the Csepel district of Budapest in the context of the wider political and economic transformations witnessed during the twentieth century. Kurti follows State-Youth relations from the inter-war capitalism that made peasants into workers through the post-war state socialism, Stalinism, and after to the reintroduction of capitalism in 1990. This time frame allows an exploration of the transformations and dilemmas of youth class, gender, and ethnicity as they develop across time. In the course of this study, two main themes emerge: the reproduction of class in youth culture across shifting socio-economic conditions and the mobilisation of youth movements in resistance to the state.

Youth and the State in Hungary challenges the orthodox equation of youth and resistance by arguing that youth mobilisation has in fact served the interests of the state. Nevertheless, there remains a genuine space for resistance and contestation in the reproduction of youth culture.

Gender in Cross-Cultural Perspective Adrienne E. Strong, Richard Powis, 2024-08-19. This fully updated new edition of Gender in Cross-Cultural Perspective carefully introduces and responds to changes in anthropological approaches to gender perspectives. With two new editors and new authors from the Global South and underrepresented communities, it combines theoretically and ethnographically based chapters to examine gender roles and ideology around the world. The book is divided thematically into five parts, with the editors opening each section with a succinct introduction to the principal issues. The book retains some of the classic chapters while offering new contributions and extended discussions throughout on methodology. It also has entirely new contributions that reflect more recent developments in the discipline, including more emphasis on LGBTQ communities, COVID, and migration. This new edition also features additional support for teaching and learning, including a film list and discussion questions that are now offered as supplemental online materials. The eighth edition of Gender in Cross-Cultural Perspective continues to be an essential resource for undergraduate and graduate
