Katzenstein, Takashi Shiraishi, 2018-07-05 Have Japan's relative economic decline and China's rapid ascent altered the dynamics of Asian regionalism Peter Katzenstein and Takashi Shiraishi the editors of Network Power one of the most comprehensive volumes on East Asian regionalism in the 1990s present here an impressive new collection that brings the reader up to date This book argues that East Asia's regional dynamics are no longer the result of a simple extension of any one national model While Japanese institutional structures and political practices remain critically important the new East Asia now under construction is more than and different from the sum of its various national parts At the outset of a new century the interplay of Japanese factors with Chinese American and other national influences is producing a distinctively new East Asian region

Understanding the Dynamics of Global Inequality Alexander Lenger, Florian Schumacher, 2014-12-03 Despite the fact that the globalization process tends to reinforce existing inequality structures and generate new areas of inequality on multiple levels systematic analyses on this very important field remain scarce Hence this book approaches the complex question of inequality not only from different regional perspectives covering Africa Asia Europe Latin and Northern America but also from different disciplinary perspectives namely cultural anthropology economics ethnology geography international relations sociology and political sciences The contributions are subdivided into three essential fields of research Part I analyzes the socio economic dimension of global exclusion highlighting in particular the impacts of internationalization and globalization processes on national social structures against the background of theoretical concepts of social inequality Part II addresses the political dimension of global inequalities Since the decline of the Soviet Union new regional powers like Brazil China India and South Africa have emerged creating power shifts in international relations that are the primary focus of the second part Lastly Part III examines the structural and transnational dimension of inequality patterns which can be concretized in the rise of globalized national elites and the emergence of multinational networks that transcend the geographical and imaginative borders of nation states Contesting International Society in East Asia Barry Buzan, Yongjin Zhang, 2014-10-16 This book asks whether a regional international society exists in East Asia and why its existence matters to both regional and global orders

The Evolution of Regionalism in Asia Heribert Dieter, 2007-12-10 By combining the analysis of the three dimensions of integration this book enables readers to gain a broad understanding of the theory and practice of integration processes in Asia Business Innovation in Asia Dennis McNamara, 2009-09-10 The central concept of this volume knowledge networks refers to interactive linkages around nodes of tacit and codified knowledge embedded in Global Value Chains Such networks can be distinguished by the process or format of information exchange the organization of the networks within firms and by target market or product Northeast Asia Vinod K. Aggarwal, Min Gyo Koo, Seungjoo Lee, Chung-in Moon, 2008-09-26 Can regional mechanisms better institutionalize the increasing complexity of economic and security ties among the countries in Northeast Asia As the international state system undergoes dramatic changes in both security and economic relations in the wake of the end of the Cold War the Asian financial crisis and the attack of 9 11 this question is now at the forefront of the minds of both academics and policymakers Still little research has been done to integrate the analysis of security and economic analysis of changes in the region within a broader context that will give us theoretically informed policy insights Against this backdrop this book investigates the origins and evolution of Northeast Asia's new institutional architecture in trade finance and security from both a theoretical and empirical perspective Canada Among Nations, 2005 Andrew Fenton Cooper, Dane Rowlands, 2005 This text provides an in depth examination of the challenges confronting the new Canadian government as it charts a course in the turbulent world of international affairs The 3rd ASEAN Reader Ooi Kee Beng, 2015-08-24 Over the past two decades ISEAS has compiled abridged articles that analyse key aspects of Southeast Asia's development and the ASEAN process. The ASEAN Reader was published in 1992 just as the Cold War ended while The Second ASEAN Reader came in 2003 in the wake of the 1997 Asian crisis and the September 11 attacks in 2001. The past decade has not been spared its share of intense changes with the rise of China and India bringing new challenges to the region's power equation and the impact of the 2008 global financial crisis. Despite this, the momentum towards an integrated ASEAN community has been maintained. The articles in The Third ASEAN Reader study the trends and events of recent years and discuss the immediate future of Southeast Asia.

How Weak Regionalism in East Asia Works Well Luna Ge Lai, 2024-10-31. This book investigates the reasons why regionalism in East Asia has been much weaker than in Western Europe and North America. It focuses particularly on economic factors, examining the regional and global linkages of production networks. Through a focused exploration of regional and global production networks, it argues that East Asia was not as regionally concentrated as was Western Europe or North America, lacking a regionally oriented productional basis to support the institutional arrangement of East Asia as a stand-alone economic community. Moreover, the regional production networks of each national economy in the region are influenced by a different set of value-added components from different global and regional origins. This divergence in their positions accounts for the mushrooming of divergent initiatives and projects for regional institutional arrangement. Finally, the institutional choices of the states to join Comprehensive and Progressive Agreement for Trans-Pacific Partnership (CPTPP) and/or Regional Comprehensive Economic Partnership (RCEP) are found to be strongly influenced by the sectoral focuses and priorities of their economies. Demonstrating how the unique economic factors of each nation override other considerations for greater regional integration, this book will be a valuable resource to students and scholars of international trade, Asian politics, and economics.
