McGowan, 2016-04-29 The union of the two royal houses the Habsburgs and the Bourbons in the early seventeenth century illustrates the extent to which marriage was a tool of government in Renaissance Europe and festivals a manifestation of power and cultural superiority With contributions from scholars representing a range of disciplines this volume provides an all round view of the sequence of festivals and events surrounding the dynastic marriages which were agreed upon in 1612 but not celebrated until 1615 owing to the constant interruption of festivities by protestant uprisings The occasion inspired an extraordinary range of records from exchanges of political pamphlets descriptions of festivities visual materials the music of songs and ballets and the impressions of witnesses and participants The study of these remarkable sources shows how a team of scholars from diverse disciplines can bring into focus again the creative genius of artists painters architects and costume designers musicians and poets experts in equestrianism in pyrotechnics and in the use of symbolic languages Their artistic efforts were staged against a background of intense political diplomacy and continuing civil strife and yet the determination of Marie de Medici and her advisers and of the Duke of Lerma brought to a triumphant conclusion negotiations and spectacular commemorations whose legacy was to inform festival art throughout European courts for decades In addition to printed and manuscript sources the volume identifies ways of giving future researchers access to festival texts and studies through digitization making the book both an in depth analysis of a particular occasion and a blueprint for future engagement with digital festival resources London and the Emergence of a European Art Market, 1780-1820 Susanna Avery-Quash, Christian Huemer, 2019-08-06 Showcasing diverse methodologies this volume illuminates

London's central role in the development of a European art market at the turn of the nineteenth century. In the late 1700s, as the events of the French Revolution roiled France, London displaced Paris as the primary hub of international art sales. Within a few decades, a robust and sophisticated art market flourished in London. London and the Emergence of a European Art Market, 1780–1820 explores the commercial milieu of art sales and collecting at this turning point. In this collection of essays, twenty-two scholars employ methods ranging from traditional art historical and provenance studies to statistical and economic analysis. They provide overviews, case studies, and empirical reevaluations of artists, collectors, patrons, agents, and dealers; institutions, sales, and practices. Drawing from pioneering digital resources, notably the Getty Provenance Index, as well as archival materials such as trade directories, correspondence, stock books, and inventories, auction catalogs, and exhibition reviews, these scholars identify broad trends, reevaluate previous misunderstandings, and consider overlooked commercial contexts. From individual case studies to econometric overviews, this volume is groundbreaking for its diverse methodological range that illuminates artistic taste and flourishing art commerce at the turn of the nineteenth century.
