Mastering Whole Family Assessment in Social Work Fiona Mainstone, 2014-01-21 How do you balance the needs of children adults and their families when carrying out social work assessments With tools and frameworks that make sense of the interface between adult problems and children s safety this guide will help social workers generate high quality assessments that consider the well being of both adults and children

The Handbook of Child and Adolescent Clinical Psychology Alan Carr, 2013-01-11 This second edition of the hugely successful Handbook of Child and Adolescent Clinical Psychology incorporates important advances in the field to provide a reliable and accessible source of practical advice Beginning with a set of general conceptual frameworks for practice the book gives specific guidance on the management of problems commonly encountered in clinical work with children and adolescents drawing on best practice in the fields of clinical psychology and family therapy In six sections thorough and comprehensive coverage of the following areas is provided frameworks for practice problems of infancy and early childhood problems of middle childhood problems in adolescence child abuse adjustment to major life transitions Each chapter dealing with specific clinical problems includes detailed discussion of diagnosis classification epidemiology and clinical features as well as illustrative case examples This book will be invaluable both as a reference work for experienced practitioners and an up to date evidence based practice manual for clinical psychologists in training The Handbook of Child and Adolescent Clinical Psychology is one of a set of three handbooks published by Routledge which includes The Handbook of Adult Clinical Psychology Edited by Alan Carr Muireann McNulty and The Handbook of Intellectual Disability and Clinical Psychology Practice Edited by Alan Carr Gary O Reilly Patricia Noonan Walsh and John McEvoy Communicating with Children and Adolescents Anne Bannister, Annie Huntington, 2002 This text places action methods in a theoretical technical and political framework and documents examples of good practice Discussion of the application of action methods to work with young people focuses on differing issues and populations Putting Analysis into Assessment, Second Edition Emma Sawyer, Ruth Dalzell, 2011-10-31 The essential guide to improving assessment practice in child care social work

Child Protection and Mental Health Services Nicky Stanley, 2003-09-10 This book examines interprofessional work with families in which mothers have a mental health problem and where there are also concerns about child protection Breakdowns in interprofessional collaboration issues of risk and resources are all addressed Mothers views and experiences are contrasted with professional perspectives The Child's World Jan Horwath, Janet Anne Basarab-Horwath, 2010 Rev ed of The child s world assessing children in need 2001 Parenting and Disability Olsen, Richard, Clarke, Harriet, 2003-04-16 This book reports on the first substantial UK study of parenting disability and mental health which examines the views of parents and children in 75 families It provides a comprehensive review of relevant policy issues explores the barriers to full participation in parenting that disabled parents face examines the complex ways in which broader social issues interact with disability and advocated measures to support disabled parents and their families Family Matters Peter Reder, Mike McClure, Anthony Jolley, 2005-08-19 Family Matters focuses on research and clinical material which bridges the traditional gap between child and adult mental health Rather than considering child and adult problems separately the authors address the often complex interactions between the two covering such topics as The implications of childhood trauma in later life The impact of parental mental health problems on children How interactions within a family can affect the mental health of all individuals within the family The authors review existing research and cover their own recent studies and practical experience and put forward new theoretical models to underpin their recommendations for changes in practice such as liaison initiatives between child and adult services and specialised services to treat adolescents parenting breakdown and perinatal psychiatric illness The findings and recommendations in Family Matters have important implications for the organisation and funding of mental health and related services and staff training and should be read by all those in professions concerned with child and adult mental health including psychiatrists family therapists psychotherapists nurses health visitors and social workers and health service managers      Children's needs - parenting capacity Hedy Cleaver,Ira Unell,Jane Aldgate,Great BritainDepartment for Education,2011-10-12 This second edition of Children s needs parenting capacity updates the original exploration of the research literature in the light of legal and policy changes in England and findings from more recent national and international research The edition has also been expanded to cover parental learning disabilities and how it may impact on parenting and children s health and development The findings show that these parenting issues affect children differently depending on their age and individual circumstances While some children grow up apparently unscathed others exhibit emotional and behavioural disorders This knowledge can inform practitioners undertaking assessments of the needs of children and their families and effective service responses This publication is essential reading for practitioners managers and policy makers concerned with improving the outcomes for children and families who are experiencing such problems      International Perspectives on Child and Adolescent Mental Health N. Singh,Dee Pang,A. Singh,2000-06-01 There has been a major shift in the way we conceptualize and provide services to children and adolescents with mental health needs We are moving away from the traditional disorder oriented model of treatment to a child centered family focused service delivery system that mandates mental health services in the context of the child s family and social ecology This new system of care has spawned many variations of the model including wraparound services multisystemic treatment MST futures planning and person centred planning As systems of care are different across countries and cultures it is imperative that we share our knowledge and make explicit the lessons we have learned in our attempts to provide services to children and adolescents which focus on improving their quality of life rather than merely treating their psychiatric disorders and psychological problems There is an urgent need to evaluate the various treatments being offered to children and adolescents with mental health needs Empirical data on outcomes will determine the funding and delivery of services As such the latest research on treatment outcomes needs to be disseminated so that new and validated treatment methods can be implemented rapidly      The Child's World Janet Anne Basarab-Horwath,2001-01-01 Written for professionals involved in the assessment of children in need this book is a comprehensive guide to recent developments in research and practice It looks at the policy framework for assessment the actual process of assessment how to assess the developmental needs of children and how to assess their parents and family s capacity to meet those needs The contributors are experts from a range of fields and the guide which was developed by the NSPCC and is published in association with them is designed to facilitate productive joint agency work Key topics covered include ecological perspectives on the child and the family attachment theory and child development assessing families where the parents have a learning disability working with children and families from minority ethnic groups the effect of sexual abuse within the family on the assessment process assessment prior to birth Originally commissioned by the Department of Health and outlining the developments and theory underpinning their Framework for the Assessment of Children in Need and their Families this book will be essential reading for qualified and trainee social workers and those completing the Post Qualifying Award in Child Care It will also be an indispensable guide for psychologists teachers health visitors and any other professionals and qualifying professionals involved in the assessment of children in need Good Practice in Working with Violence Hazel Kemshall,Jacki Pritchard,1999 Approaching the issue from a practitioner s viewpoint Good Practice in Working with Violence focuses on working with perpetrators of violence that has resulted in both physical and psychological harm Drawing on the experiences of contributors from a range of backgrounds the book discusses the challenges involved in working with violence and its effects Relevant for a variety of practice settings Good Practice in Working with Violence is a comprehensive guide to the techniques and skills required for good practice in assessing and managing violence
