Assimilation Blues Black Families In White Communities Who Succeeds And Why:

The Impact of Racism on African American Families Paul C. Rosenblatt, 2016-03-03 In spite of the existence of statistics and numerical data on various aspects of African American life including housing earnings assets unemployment household violence teen pregnancy and encounters with the criminal justice system social science literature on how racism affects the everyday interactions of African American families is limited How does racism come home to and affect African American families If a father in an African American family is denied employment on the basis of his race or a wife is demeaned at work by racist slurs how is their family life affected Given the lack of social science literature responding to these questions this volume turns to an alternative source in order to address them literature Engaging with novels written by African American authors it explores their rich depictions of African American family life showing how these can contribute to our sociological knowledge and making the case for the novel as an object and source of social research As such it will appeal to scholars and students of the sociology of the family race and ethnicity cultural studies and literature

Assimilation Blues: Black Families In White Communities, Who Succeeds And Why Beverly Daniel Tatum, 2000-01-07 What does it mean to be Black in a white middle class community Is it the ultimate symbol of success Or will one pay in isolation alienation rootlessness What price must one pay for paradise Is the price too high Beverly Daniel Tatum a renowned authority on the psychology of racism interviewed Black families in depth to identify the sacrifices and achievements necessary to survive and prosper in a white community For the Black citizens of Sun Beach dual income households religious affiliation and extended families help maintain stability But with assimilation comes an insidious hidden racism subtly communicated when Black children aren't called on in class and revealed more fully in incidents of racial name calling By listening to the individual voices of these children and their parents Dr Tatum skillfully probes the complex questions of identity that arise for a visible people rendered invisible by their surroundings

Handbook of the Sociology of Racial and Ethnic Relations Pinar Batur, Joe R. Feagin, 2018-06-11 The study of racial and ethnic relations has become one of the most written about aspects in sociology and sociological research In both North America and Europe many traditional cultures are feeling threatened by immigrants from Latin America Africa and Asia This handbook is a true international collaboration looking at racial and ethnic relations from an academic perspective It starts from the principle that sociology is at the hub of the human sciences concerned with racial and ethnic relations

Handbook of Race, Racism, and the Developing Child Stephen M. Quintana, Clark McKown, 2008-07-10 Filling a critical void in the literature Race Racism and the Developing Child provides an important source of information for researchers psychologists and students on the recent advances in the unique developmental and social features of race and racism in children's lives Thorough and accessible this timely reference draws on an international collection of experts and scholars representing the breadth of perspectives theoretical traditions and empirical approaches in this field

current and pressing issues policies and practices that affect the experience and representations of race naming and belonging in American culture politics and racial justice efforts Many chapters adopt an intersectional approach when covering topics such as race as a choice white racial identity US Census categories transracial adoption and the experiences of people of color also marginalized by faith and sexual orientation Handbook of the Sociology of Racial and Ethnic Relations Hernan Vera, Joe R Feagin, 2007-08-03 The study of racial and ethnic relations has become one of the most studied aspects in sociology and sociological research In both North America and Europe many traditional cultures are feeling threatened by immigrants from Latin America Africa and Asia Sociology is at the hub of the human sciences concerned with racial and ethnic relations Since this discipline is made of multiple paradigms and methodological orientations it has been able to make relevant contributions to disciplines ranging from individual psychology social psychology and psychiatry to economics anthropology linguistics cultural studies health care delivery and education Diversity and Inclusion

Challenges for Leaders of International Schools Barker, Megel Ricardo, Hammer, Liam Leslie, 2024-12-02 Leaders of international schools face complex challenges when it comes to facilitating diversity and inclusion within their communities With students faculty and staff from a wide range of cultural linguistic and socio economic backgrounds school leaders must create an environment where everyone feels valued respected and included This challenge is increased by various cultural expectations differing educational norms and the need to balance global perspectives within local communities Effective leadership in these schools requires a better understanding of the diverse needs of the community a commitment to equity and the ability to implement policies and practices that promote inclusion across all levels of the school environment Diversity and Inclusion Challenges for Leaders of International Schools offers solutions for academic leaders to improve diversity equity and inclusion within their schools Through examples from international schools and educational platforms it examines the challenges faced by educators across various cultures and communities This book covers topics such as discrimination student protection and educational policy and reform and is a useful resource for policymakers educators sociologists academicians researchers and scientists Cultural Diversity and Families Bahira Sherif Trask, Raeann R Hamon, 2007-01-18 Cultural Diversity and Families Expanding Perspectives breaks new ground by investigating how concepts of cultural diversity have shaped the study of families from theoretical and applied perspectives Authors Bahira Sherif Trask and Raeann R Hamon move the dialogue about culturally diverse families to a new level by topically discussing the issues affecting culturally diverse families rather than organizing the information by racial and or ethnic groups Key Features Investigates the impact of cultural diversity on the study of families In order to transcend simplistic categorizations that have juxtaposed White families in opposition to families of color and vice versa this book delineates the increasing cultural diversity of American families and examines the impact of these demographic changes for the social sciences Emphasizes the full range of cultural aspects The book consciously emphasizes cultural aspects not just ethnicity but also socioeconomic status gender religion etc over racial impacts on family life so as not to reinforce the myth that race is a biological truth By sharing unique family experiences across groups the book enhances understanding directs future family research and serves these families through responsive policy and practice Offers more coverage of culturally diverse families than any other text Divided into three parts this comprehensive text first sets the stage of historical current and projected demographic trends pertaining to American families explores issues facing culturally diverse families from a thematic perspective and discusses of the impact of cultural diversity for family theory research service delivery and public policy Intended Audience This is an excellent text for advanced undergraduate and graduate courses such as Families in a Multicultural Society Ethnic Minority Families and Cultural Diversity in American Families in the departments of Human Development Family Studies Sociology and Family Social Work Raising the Race Riché J. Daniel Barnes, 2015-12-01 Winner of the 2017 Race Gender and Class Section Book Award from the American Sociological Association Popular discussions of professional women often dwell on the conflicts faced by the woman who attempts to have it all raising children while climbing up the corporate ladder Yet for all the articles and books written on this subject there has been little work that focuses on the experience of African American professional women or asks how their perspectives on work family balance might be unique Raising the Race is the first scholarly book to examine how black married career women juggle their relationships with their extended and nuclear families the expectations of the black community and their desires to raise healthy independent children Drawing from extensive interviews with twenty three Atlanta based professional women who left or modified careers as attorneys physicians executives and administrators anthropologist Rich J Daniel Barnes found that their decisions were deeply rooted in an awareness of black women s historical struggles Departing from the possessive individualistic discourse of having it all the women profiled here think beyond their own situation considering ways their decisions might help the entire black community Giving a voice to women whose perspectives have been underrepresented in debates about work family balance Barnes s profiles enable us to perceive these women as fully fledged individuals each with her own concerns and priorities Yet Barnes is also able to locate many common themes from these black women s experiences and uses them to propose policy initiatives that would improve the work and family lives of all Americans

Difficult Attachments Kathryn E. Goldfarb, Sandra Bamford, 2024-10-11 Anthropologists have long considered kinship as the basis for social solidarity Indeed the idea that kinship is grounded in positive sociality has found its way into most anthropological accounts and has served as an orienting framework directing decades of scholarly research But what about when it is not What about instances when kinship is anything but warm and fuzzy but is characterized instead by neglect violence negative affect or a lack of nurturance and care In the three interlinked sections of this volume the view that kinship is about solidarity and care is challenged by exploring how kin relations are not only about connection and inclusion but also about disconnection exclusion neglect and violence Kinship relationships that feel positive and good take a great deal of perseverance and work there is nothing natural about kinship ties as being based on positive sociality In these chapters the contributors take seriously the contingency of kinship relations the moments when kinship breaks down or is a source of suffering and how this prompts scholars to develop new theoretical and methodological perspectives Advances in Contemplative Psychotherapy Joseph Loizzo, Fiona Brandon, Emily J. Wolf, Miles Neale, 2023-05-30 Advances in Contemplative Psychotherapy offers mental health professionals of all disciplines and orientations the most comprehensive and rigorous introduction to the art of integrating contemplative psychology ethics and practices including mindfulness compassion and embodiment techniques It brings together clinicians scholars and thought leaders of unprecedented caliber featuring some of the most eminent pioneers in the rapidly growing field of contemplative psychotherapy The new edition offers an expanded array of effective contemplative interventions contemplative psychotherapies and contemplative approaches to clinical practice New chapters discuss how contemplative work can effect positive psychosocial change at the personal interpersonal and collective levels to address racial gender and other forms of systemic oppression The new edition also explores the cross cultural nuances in the integration of Buddhist psychology and healing practices by Western researchers and clinicians and includes the voices of leading Tibetan doctors Advances in Contemplative Psychotherapy offers a profound and synoptic overview of one of psychotherapy's most intriguing and promising fields The Color of Homeschooling Mahala Dyer Stewart, 2023-08-15 Through extensive interviews with Black and white middle class mothers The Color of Homeschooling explores how race class and gender shape families decisions around whether to homeschool their children Handbook of Women, Stress and Trauma Kathleen A. Kendall-Tackett, 2013-01-11 The Handbook of Women Stress and Trauma focuses on the stresses and traumas that are unique to the lives of women It is the first text to merge research from the fields of trauma and women's health and development Using a lifespan developmental approach the text begins by addressing specific issues women face in their lives drawing upon theories of development and exploring how women's relationships with others buffer or sometimes cause stress and trauma Combining aspects of female development with empirical data from the fields of women's health family violence and stress and coping this volume helps sensitive care providers to the specific needs of women exposed to traumatic events Matters of the Heart Monica L. Marks Ph.D., 2015-09-18 This book is a qualitative study on the influence of race and culture in the instructional planning within classrooms in a suburban school district The study was designed using a focus group of teachers in grades four through eight who demonstrated successful growth for African American students using growth measures on state assessments The focus group members met to answer predetermined research questions that tied to exploring the role of race and culture in the classroom The group met regularly over a period of time and conducted discussions centered around activities to help generate reflective thinking on instructional pedagogy This book provides readers with insight into the successful practices used when working to develop meaningful relationships using culturally responsive teaching practices Encyclopedia of Community DAVID
