The Scientific Nomenclature of Birds in the Upper Midwest James Sandrock, Jean C. Prior, 2014-03 The translation and explanation of genus and species names yield markers to help us identify birds in the field as well as remember distinctive traits Having a basic understanding of the scientific and common names of birds reveals insights into their color behavior habitat or geography Knowing that Cyanocitta means blue chatterer and cristata means crested tufted or that Anas means a duck and clypeata means armed with a shield tells you just about everything you need to identify a Blue Jay or a Northern Shoveler In this portable reference book James Sandrock and Jean Prior explain the science and history behind the names of some 450 birds of the Upper Midwest states of Illinois Indiana Iowa Kansas Michigan Minnesota Missouri Nebraska North and South Dakota Ohio and Wisconsin Since many of these birds occur throughout the United States this handbook can also be used by birders in other parts of the country The authors examine the roots stems and construction of scientific names from their classical Latin and Greek or other linguistic origins The translations of these words and insights into their sources yield quirky tantalizing facts about the people geography habitat and mythology behind bird names Each entry also includes the bird's common name as well as local or regional names Beginning birders confused by scientific names as well as more experienced birders curious about such names will find that the book opens unexpected connections into linguistic historical biological artistic biographical and even aesthetic realms Highlighting the obvious and not so obvious links between birds and language this practical guide continues a long scholarly tradition of such books by and for those afoot in the field Whether you are hiking with binoculars or watching a backyard bird feeder or reading at home The Scientific Nomenclature of Birds in the Upper Midwest will greatly enhance your appreciation of birds

Naturally Curious Day by Day Mary Holland, 2016-11-07 This follow up to Naturally Curious a National Outdoor Book Award winner is a day by day account of nature observations throughout the year Daily entries include entertaining and enlightening observations about specific animal or plant activity happening in eastern North America on that date Set up as a naturalist's journal entries describe in detail sightings and events in the natural world and are accompanied by stunning color photographs of birds animals insects plants and more Essays throughout describe specific events in nature happening during each month while sidebars supply natural history facts and information pertinent to the topics of the month or the time of year
