Birmingham Uk Yesterday Its Places And People:

New Architecture and Urbanism Saswati Chetia, Deependra Prashad, 2010-01-08 This book on New Architecture and Urbanism Development of Indian Traditions builds on the contributions from various architects planners educationists decision makers others from across the world who gathered together to create a forum for the promotion of traditional processes and techniques for the creation of the built environment This forum was initiated by INTBAU India The International Network for Traditional Building Architecture and Urbanism in India and supported by The Nabha Foundation This book presents the arguments axioms and case studies related to Traditional Architecture and Urbanism in a sequential format Firstly it examines the New ways of looking at Heritage by separating it from pure history into a living and evolving process The book looks at what defines traditional methods and their relevance to the contemporary context It also examines the aspects of Continuity and Contextual frameworks in the built environment The section on Sustainable Buildings Places and Communities explores the many facets of locally driven processes from the viewpoint of tradition and sustainability These include many community based planning methods and their applications in shaping the built environment aspects of environmental sustainability and on how appropriateness could be ingrained into current architectural education Lastly the book delves into a number of executed examples in architecture seeking to learn from tradition and examples in place making urbanism which in turn promotes humane walkable and connected neighbourhoods The Borders Within

Michael Donnelly, 2025-05-29 Geographic divisions that exist internally within countries the borders within can be seen in how much people earn and levels of economic growth as well as in health and educational outcomes With fresh thinking this book explores what lies beneath these geographic divisions and what maintains them Its novel framework shows how different social class groups derive radically different meanings from place that heighten geographic divisions Drawing on research with over 200 young people across 17 different UK localities this book challenges orthodox policy understandings of regional development putting forward an alternative starting point for how we address borders within countries

Planning the Good Community Jill Grant, 2006 An examination of new urban approaches both in theory and in practice Taking a critical look at how new urbanism has lived up to its ideals the author asks whether new urban approaches offer a viable path to creating good communities With examples drawn principally from North America Europe and Japan Planning the Good Community explores new urban approaches in a wide range of settings It compares the movement for urban renaissance in Europe with the New Urbanism of the United States and Canada and asks whether the concerns that drive today's planning theory issues like power democracy spatial patterns and globalisation receive adequate attention in new urban approaches The issue of aesthetics is also raised as the author questions whether communities must be more than just attractive in order to be good With the benefit of twenty years hindsight and a world wide perspective this book offers the reader unparalleled insight as well as a rigorous and considered critical analysis Property for People, Not for Profit

Ulrich Duchrow, Franz J. Hinkelammert, 2008-02-29 The issue of private property and the rights it confers remain almost undiscussed in critiques of globalization and free market economics Yet property lies at the heart of an economic system geared to profit maximization The authors describe the historically specific and self consciously explicit manner in which it emerged They trace this history from earliest historical times and show how in the hands of Thomas Hobbes and John Locke in particular the notion of private property took on its absolutist nature and most extreme form a form which neoliberal economics is now imposing on humanity worldwide through the pressures of globalization They argue that avoiding the destruction of people s ways of living and of Nature requires reshaping our notions of private property They look at practical ways for social and ecumenical movements to press for alternatives

Transport and the economy Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Transport Committee, Louise Ellman, 2011-03-02 In this report the Transport Committee calls on the Government to publish a White Paper on its transport strategy explaining in particular how spending on transport will deliver economic growth and development Such a strategy must set objectives for all transport spending and explain the criteria Ministers will use to decide between different claims on limited financial resources The report welcomes the commitment to undertake transport investment that will deliver sustainable growth and enterprise including green industries balanced across all sectors and in a manner that will reduce regional disparities Ministers must however ensure that this vision for transport investment is backed up by a pro active and fully integrated economic development strategy This is so far absent The current Government has swept away the regional tier of planning and many institutions that played a key role in the development of strategic priorities for transport spending in support of economic development This has created a vacuum that has left regions without the institutions and arrangements they need to plan and prioritise sub national transport schemes and other significant transport infrastructure The Coalition also needs a much stronger strategy for developing the UK s major ports and airports The Government must also do more to correct regional disparities in transport investment The Department for Transport s New Approach To Appraisal process which plays such a major role in deciding which transport schemes get Government funding is highly controversial Small schemes including sustainable transport projects may be cut disproportionately under new transport funding arrangements
