Marks of the Body of Christ Carl E. Braaten, Robert W. Jenson, 1999 Martin Luther once listed seven marks of the church those defining ecclesial features that show where the true church is to be found This insightful volume brings together essays by ten leading Catholic Episcopal Lutheran Methodist and Orthodox theologians each analyzing one of the seven traditional marks of the church and discussing how it is found or not found in today s churches Writing about each mark of the church are these scholars Gerhard O Forde and Richard Lischer on proclamation Susan K Wood and John H Erickson on baptism K Paul Wesche and Richard A Norris Jr on the eucharist David S Yeago on the office of the Keys Carl E Braaten on ordination Robert W Jenson on catechesis and William J Abraham on

A Bishop's Ministry David Tustin, 2013-09 Few books on episcopacy deal with the inner life or practical problems of being a bishop but this volume gives an inside view It describes the initial challenge of adjusting to a new role with little preparation and indicates the main ongoing pressures This account combines personal experience with theological reflection Convinced that being comes before doing David Tustin first considers vital elements in the bishop's personal way of life inner life outer lifestyle home and hospitality and careful use of time The rationale of what bishops actually do is then examined in seven key areas together with suggestions about translating ideals into reality teamwork caring for people within and beyond the church conducting worship spreading the Christian message sending new ministers building bridges in society and within the church fostering visible Christian unity Emphasis is laid on bishops sharing their ministry with others and reaching out beyond the church This book offers examples of good practice It draws together resources useful for new bishops including excerpts from classic writers Gregory the Great and Bernard of Clairvaux and pointers to an ecumenical range of contemporary material unlikely to be in the hands of most readers It is relevant to all who share in senior church leadership A bibliography and index are included The closing section argues that bishops no less than other ministers need good initial training periodic review and continuing professional development It also looks at how bishops can adjust to active retirement

The Letters of Bishop Basil of Caesarea: Instruments of Communion Silouan Fotineas, 2018 As its title suggests this thesis will explore the letters of Bishop Basil of Caesarea as instruments of communion In particular I will examine how Basil used his letters as instruments for arriving at maintaining and expressing communion within a pro Nicene church For Basil the divinity of the Father Son and Holy Spirit was affirmed best through doxological worship and had ecclesiastical communion as its lasting expression Basil's letters became the instruments through which he nurtured the fulfilment of his ecclesiological vision of the church as communion His pastoral and theological message although often set in an individual and local setting persistently upheld a social and universal outlook expressed in terms of the church's communion He insisted that the most fervent relationship with God involves communion with human persons as well Personal being within the church is intrinsically relational and communal When Christians are united in communion with God through partaking of the Eucharist in any given worshipping community they are united without division and without confusion with all believers and across all periods of time Basil not only addressed and communicated with people from various walks of life but also became a voice for them as well Whether letters were addressed to clergy magistrates civil or military officials ascetics youth widows friends or congregations they found their way to being copied and circulated amongst the faithful and proved to be foundational in bringing into communion the churches of the East Basil regarded maintaining and expressing communion as of the highest importance for the ministry of the bishop The act of letterwriting between bishops facilitated their being in communion within the Nicene church and when required served as proof of this communion through establishing a canon of communion Amongst Nicene bishops an affirmation of a creed in writing became the guarantor of a bishop's communion and a sign of his collegiality with all other bishops The collective voice of the bishops on issues of faith doctrine and morals was essential not only to safeguard the church's communion but also to enhance its accessibility As instruments of communion Basil's letters reveal what he understood as the characteristics of ecclesial communion This thesis concludes that key characteristics of communion for Basil are that it be Eucharistic in the Spirit and in Christ Trinitarian inspired by the New Testament traditional nicene episcopal ascetical institutional identifying with the poor catholic accessible and safeguarded mutually responsible doing God's will and beneficial Abstract Conference of Bishops of the Anglican Communion, Holden at Lambeth Palace July 6 to August 5, 1908 Church of England, 1908 *A Replie unto M.
