Hill, 1999-06-10 In the context of growing diversity Shirley A Hill examines the work parents do in raising their children Based on interviews and survey data African American Children includes blacks of various social classes as well as a comparative sample of whites It covers major areas of child socialization teaching values discipline strategies gender socialization racial socialization extended families showing how both race and class make a difference and emphasizing patterns that challenge existing research that views black families as a monolithic group

Black Families Harriette Pipes McAdoo, 2007 Publisher Description The Handbook of Race and Adult Education Vanessa Sheared, Juanita Johnson-Bailey, Scipio A. J. Colin, III, Elizabeth Peterson, Stephen D. Brookfield, 2010-05-24 The Handbook of Race and Adult Education While much attention has been given to inclusion diversity and multiculturalism within adult education The Handbook of Race and Adult Education is the first comprehensive work to engage in a dialogue specifically about race and racism and the effect these factors have on the marginalization or oppression of groups and individuals This landmark book provides the field of adult and continuing education with a model for the discussion of race and racism from social educational political and psychological perspectives and seeks to articulate a conceptual challenge to the ethnocentric focus of the discussion in the field It offers adult education scholars as well as those engaged in research and teaching about race an opportunity to engage in a discourse about race and racism including examinations of how these factors have been seen through multiple theoretical frameworks how they have affected many lived experiences at work home and within educational settings and how they have served to privilege some and not others The book offers an exploration into how these factors need to be centered in a discourse and perspective that can provide those in the margins as well as in the center with ways to think about creating changes in their classrooms communities and homes This volume is a timely addition to the intense racial debate occurring in this country today It is a long overdue medium through which those in higher education as well as the general adult education field can engage in a discussion that leads to critical understanding and moves us into meaningful change

Mothering Inner-city Children Katherine Brown Rosier,2000
Based on three years of interviews and observations with Indianapolis mothers analyzing the families in their homes schools and other social settings this book brings forth the voices of mothers in creating a portrait of low income African American families rearing children

Gender Roles Janice W. Lee,2005 Gender encompasses biological sex but extends beyond it to the socially prescribed roles deemed appropriate for each sex by the culture in which we live The gender roles we each carry out are highly individualistic built on our biological and physical traits appearance and personality life experiences such as childhood career and education and history of sexual and romantic interactions Each element influences perceptions and expectations Gender related experiences influence and shape the ways we think about others and ourselves including self image behaviour mood social advancement and coping strategies This new book brings together leading international research devoted to this subject

African American Family Life Vonnie C. McLoyd,Nancy E. Hill,Kenneth A. Dodge,2005-09-26 This volume brings together leading experts from different disciplines to offer new perspectives on contemporary African American families A wealth of knowledge is presented on the heterogeneity of Black family life today the challenges and opportunities facing parents children and communities and the impact on health and development of key cultural and social processes Comprehensive and authoritative the book critically evaluates current policies and service delivery models and sets forth cogent recommendations for supporting families strengths Following an overview that traces the ongoing evolution of theory and research in the field the book examines how African American families fare on numerous indicators of well being Throughout contributors identify factors that promote or hinder healthy child and family development writing from a culturally sensitive nonpathologizing stance The concluding chapter provides an up to date framework for culturally competent mental health practice Communication, Race, and Family Thomas J. Socha,Rhunette C. Diggs,1999-08-01 This groundbreaking volume explores how family communication influences the perennial and controversial topic of race In assembling this collection editors Thomas J Socha and Rhunette C Diggs argue that the hope for managing America s troubles with race lies not only with communicating about race at public meetings in school and in the media but also and more fundamentally with families communicating constructively about race at home African American and European American family communication researchers come together in this volume to investigate such topics as how Black families communicate to manage the issue of racism how Black parent child communication is used to manage the derogation of Black children the role of television in family communication about race the similarities and differences between and among communication in Black White and biracial couples and families and how family communication education can contribute to a brighter future for all With the aim of developing a clearer understanding of the role that family communication plays in society's move toward a multicultural world this volume provides a crucial examination of how families struggle with issues of ethnic cultural diversity African-American Women Norma J.
