situating colorism in an educational context this book offers suggestions for how educators may engage and confront this form of discrimination Policing Black Lives, Revised and Expanded Edition Robyn Maynard, 2025-10-15T00:00:00Z The bestselling first edition of Policing Black Lives became a mainstay of bookshelves and classrooms across North America and Europe as the first comprehensive account of the state sanctioned surveillance criminalization and punishment of Black lives in Canada This revised and expanded edition updates the original text in the wake of global Black uprisings in 2020 and offers new insights on how to build liveable futures without policing Delving behind Canada's veneer of multiculturalism and tolerance award winning scholar and activist Robyn Maynard traces the afterlives of slavery across multiple institutions Maynard sheds light on the state's role in perpetuating colonial dispossession racial profiling police killings incarceration immigration detention deportation exploitative migrant labour practices disproportionate child removal and the school to prison pipeline as well as the ubiquity of Black resistance The first new chapter meticulously documents how half a century of police reforms have served to undermine Black freedom struggles while expanding the scope and scale of policing in Canadian society In the second Maynard advances a compelling vision for making policing obsolete and building new forms of safety Multicultural Literature for Children and Young Adults Mingshui Cai, 2002-10-30 There is much discussion of multiculturalism in education This is especially true of multicultural literature for children and young adults The rise of multicultural literature is a political rather than a literary movement it is a movement to claim space in literature and in education for historically marginalized social groups rather than one to renovate the craft of literature itself Multicultural literature has been closely bound with the cause of multiculturalism in general and thus has been confronted with resistance from conservatives This book discusses many of the controversial issues surrounding multicultural literature for children and young adults The volume begins with a look at some of the foundational and theoretical issues related to multicultural literature The second part of the book addresses issues related to the creation and critique of multicultural literature including the authorship of such works and the role of the reader in determining whether or not a work is multicultural The third looks at the place of multicultural literature in the education of children and young adults Throughout its discussion the book makes extensive references to a large body of multicultural fiction and provides a thorough review of research on this important topic Notable Black American Women Jessie Carney Smith, Shirelle Phelps, 1992 Arranged alphabetically from Alice of Dunk's Ferry to Jean Childs Young this volume profiles 312 Black American women who have achieved national or international prominence Racial and Cultural Minorities George Eaton Simpson, J. Milton Yinger, 2013-06-29 We need scarcely note that the topic of this book is the stuff of headlines Around the world political economic educational military religious and social relations of every variety have a racial or ethnic component One cannot begin to understand the history or contemporary situation of the United States the Soviet Union China Zimbabwe South Africa Great Britain Lebanon Mexico Canada indeed almost any land without careful attention to the influence of cultural and racial divisions Preparation of this new edition has brought a strong sense of déjà vu with regard both to the persistence of old patterns of discrimination even if in new guises and also to the persistence of limited and constraining explanations. We have also found however rich new empirical studies, new theoretical perspectives and greatly expanded activity and analyses from members of minority groups. Although this edition is an extensive revision with reference both to the data used and the theoretical approaches examined, we have not shifted from our basically analytical perspective. We strongly support efforts to reduce discrimination and prejudice but these can be successful only if we try to understand where we are and what forces are creating the existing situation. We hope to reduce the tendency to use declarations and condemnations of other persons' actions as substitutes for an investigation of their causes and consequences. Immigration, Racial and Ethnic Studies in 150 Years of Canada

,2019-01-21 Canada's history since its birth as a nation one hundred and fifty years ago is one of immigration, nation building and contested racial and ethnic relations. In Immigration, Racial and Ethnic Studies in 150 Years of Canada: Retrospects and Prospects, scholars provide a wide-ranging overview of this history with a core theme being one of enduring racial and ethnic conflict and inequality. The volume is organized around four themes where in each theme selected racial and ethnic issues are examined critically. Part 1 focuses on the history of Canadian immigration and nation building while Part 2 looks at situating contemporary Canada in terms of the debates in the literature on ethnicity and race. Part 3 revisits specific racial and ethnic studies in Canada and finally in Part 4 a state of the art is provided on immigration and racial and ethnic studies while providing prospects for the future. Contributors are Victor Armony, David Este, Augie Fleras, Peter R. Institutions Sonya Faber, Monnica T. Williams, Matthew D. Skinta, Bia Labate, 2024-04-01 Individuals and systems are rife with prejudices leading to discrimination and inequities. Examples of this include rejection of stigmatized groups e.g. Black Americans, Indigenous people in Canada, Roma peoples in Europe, structural racism e.g. inequitable distribution of resources for public schools, disenfranchisement of women, employees e.g. the glass ceiling, barriers to higher education e.g. biased admissions requirements, heterosexism, economic oppression and colonization. When we take a closer look we find the core of the problem is imbalance in the distribution of power and its misuse. The Crisis, 2003-07 The Crisis founded by W. E. B. Du Bois as the official publication of the NAACP is a journal of civil rights, history, politics and culture and seeks to educate and challenge its readers about issues that continue to plague African Americans and other communities of color. For nearly 100 years The Crisis has been the magazine of opinion and thought leaders, decision makers, peacemakers and justice seekers. It has chronicled, informed, educated, entertained and in many instances set the economic, political and social agenda for our nation and its multi-ethnic citizens. Encyclopedia of Race, Ethnicity, and Society Richard T.
