Black Body Women Colonialism And Space:

Black Body Radhika Mohanram, 1999 From Algeria to the Antipodes the female black body when viewed through the colonial lens represents all that is dangerous and unknown in an alien land Its true significance can be understood only through the concept of space because a black body is understood as black only outside of its context its place and a female black body is doubly out of place Yet for all its importance to racial identity Radhika Mohanram argues space has been submerged and overlooked in postcolonial theory Accordingly she develops in Black Body a theory of identity situated within space and place rather than the more familiar models of identity formation that emphasize time Mohanram's emphasis on space brings out the connections among various strands in postcolonial studies the politics of displacement the concept of diasporic identity versus indigenous identity the identity of woman in the nation and the spatial construction of femininity the association of the black body with nature and landscape and the white body with knowledge Drawing on the work of Fanon Merleau Ponty and Levi Strauss Black Body interrogates theories produced in the Northern Hemisphere and questions their value for the Southern Hemisphere The relationship between the female black body and the white male body effectively and tellingly parallels the relationship between the two hemispheres

Race, Space, and the Law Sherene Razack, 2002 Race Space and the Law belongs to a growing field of exploration that spans critical geography sociology law education and critical race and feminist studies Writers who share this terrain reject the idea that spaces and the arrangement of bodies in them emerge naturally over time Instead they look at how spaces are created and the role of law in shaping and supporting them They expose hierarchies that emerge from and in turn produce oppressive spatial categories The authors unmapping takes us through drinking establishments parks slums classrooms urban spaces of prostitution parliaments the main streets of cities mosques and the U S Canada and U S Mexico borders Each example demonstrates that place as a Manitoba Court of Appeal judge concluded after analyzing a section of the Indian Act becomes race

Gender Relations in Global Perspective Nancy Cook, 2007 Faced with an increasingly diverse student population an expanding field of gender scholarship and an academic emphasis on multidisciplinary social science professors often struggle to address and integrate such a broad array of gender issues in their courses This book addresses that challenge by increasing students understandings of gender relations in multiple social fields across time and space Gender Relations in Global Perspective is truly multidisciplinary It is partially drawn from the work of sociologists but articles written by gender scholars from the disciplines of cultural studies history political science geography and literary theory are also included The readings examine historically persistent cross culturally relevant and empirically grounded concerns such as men s position in the family and women s relationship to work media and the global economy as well as the gendered problems of violence sexuality and reproduction and racism This book presents an engaging range of comparative and cross cultural gender analyses from various world regions including the Middle East South Asia South East Asia Europe the Americas and Africa As the articles are dialogically situated in this text readers will be able to analyse gender similarities and differences around the globe and learn about the diversity of gender experiences across cultures and regions This range of analyses demonstrates how a global perspective enriches feminist analyses Students will quickly learn that to investigate gender dynamics adequately attention must be paid simultaneously to the processes of racialization class colonialism and imperialism and sexuality that interweave with gender to produce complex forms of oppression Cassidy et al.: Women and Empire, 1750-1939, Vol. I Susan Martin, 2021-12-24 First published in 2008 Women and Empire 1750 1939 functions to extend significantly the range of the History of Feminism series co published by Routledge and Edition Synapse bringing together the histories of British and American women s emancipation represented in earlier sets into juxtaposition with histories produced by different kinds of imperial and colonial governments The alignment of writings from a range of Anglo imperial contexts reveals the overlapping histories and problems while foregrounding cultural specificities and contextual inflections of imperialism The volumes focus on countries regions or continents formerly colonized in part by Britain Volume I Australia Volume II New Zealand Volume III Africa Volume IV India Volume V Canada Perhaps the most novel aspect of this collection is its capacity to highlight the common aspects of the functions of empire in their impact on women and their production of gender and conversely to demonstrate the actual specificity of particular regional manifestations Concerning questions of power gender class and race this new Routledge Edition Synapse Major Work will be of particular interest to scholars and students of imperialism colonization women s history and women s writing Spanish National Identity, Colonial Power, and the Portrayal of Muslims and Jews During the Rif War (1909-27) Elisabeth Bolorinos Allard, 2021 Runner up for the 2017 18 AHGBI Spanish Embassy Publication Prize This book examines how anxieties about colonial power and national identity are reflected in Spanish literature journalism and photography of Moroccan Muslim and Jewish cultures during the Spanish colonisation of Northern Morocco from 1909 to 1927 This understudied period known as the Rif War is highly significant because of its role in shaping the identities that came into conflict in the Spanish Civil War 1936 39 Furthermore the book makes a key contribution to Spanish colonial studies by offering a comparative analysis of Spanish representations of the Iberian Peninsula s cultural and historical relationship with Moroccan Muslims and Jews in this context showing how conflicting visions of Spanish identity are portrayed through and in relation to them ELISABETH BOLORINOS ALLARD is a Fellow by Examination in Modern Languages at Magdalen College Oxford

Lost Bodies Laura E. Tanner, 2018-07-05

If the dying body makes us flinch and look away struggling not to see what we have seen the lost body disappears from cultural view buried along with the sensory traces of its corporeal presence from the Introduction American popular culture conducts a passionate love affair with the healthy fit preferably beautiful body and in recent years theories of embodiment have assumed importance in various scholarly disciplines But what of the dying or dead body Why do we avert our gaze speak of it only as absence This thoughtful and beautifully written book illustrated with photographs by Shellburne Thurber and other remarkable images finds a place for the dying and lost body in the material intellectual and imaginary spaces of contemporary American culture Laura E Tanner focuses her keen attention on photographs of AIDS patients and abandoned living spaces newspaper accounts of September 11 literary works by Don DeLillo Donald Hall Sharon Olds Marilynne Robinson and others and material objects including the AIDS Quilt She analyzes the way in which these representations of the body reflect current cultural assumptions revealing how Americans read imagine and view the dynamics of illness and loss The disavowal of bodily dimensions of death and grief she asserts deepens rather than mitigates the isolation of the dying and the bereaved Lost Bodies will speak to anyone imperiled by the threat of loss Razing Africville Jennifer Nelson, 2009-05-16 In the 1960s the city of Halifax razed the black community of Africville under a program of urban renewal and slum clearance The city defended its actions by citing the deplorable living conditions in Africville ignoring its own role in the creation of these conditions through years of neglect and the refusal of essential services In the 1980s the city created a park on Africville's former site which has been a place of protest and commemoration for black citizens since its opening As yet however the city has not issued a formal apology to Africville residents and has paid no further compensation Razing Africville examines this history as the prolonged eviction of a community from its own space By examining a variety of sources urban planning texts city council documents news media and academic accounts Jennifer J Nelson illustrates how Africville went from a slum to a problem to be solved and more recently to a public space in which past violence is rendered invisible Reading historical texts as a critical map of decision making she argues that the ongoing measures taken to regulate black bodies and spaces amount to a geography of racism Through a geographic lens therefore she manages to analyse ways in which race requires space and how the control of space is a necessary component of delineating and controlling people A much needed re-examination of an important historical example Razing Africville applies contemporary spatial theory to the situation in Africville and offers critical observations about the function of racism Troubling Truth and Reconciliation in Canadian Education Sandra D. Styres, Arlo Kempf, 2022-05-31 Theoretical perspectives on Ir reconciliation Polishing the silver covenant chain Reconceptualizing reconciliation in education Teaching and learning in right relation Black Theology—Essays on Gender Perspectives Dwight N. Hopkins, 2017-06-15 What do African American men have to do with gender In this collection of riveting and wide ranging essays Dwight N Hopkins draws on over thirty five years of wrestling with these questions Too often gender is seen as a woman's only discussion But in reality men have a gender too Some say it is biological others claim it has to do with socialization Hopkins's career has focused on defining what a black American man is and how he builds bridges of support and engagement with women Hopkins's research as a theologian and his experiences substantiate that the importance of religious viewpoints principled values and future hope remain key to any successful creation of a new African American male and new healthy male female interactions Decolonial Pedagogy Njoki Nathani Wane, Kimberly L. Todd, 2018-11-12 Through innovative and critical research this anthology inquires and challenges issues of race and positionality empirical sciences colonial education models and indigenous knowledges Chapter authors from diverse backgrounds present empirical explorations that examine how decolonial work and Indigenous knowledges disrupt problematize challenge and transform ongoing colonial oppression and colonial paradigm This book utilizes provocative and critical research that takes up issues of race the shortfalls of empirical sciences colonial education models and the need for a resurgence in Indigenous knowledges to usher in a new public sphere This book is a testament of hope that places decolonization at the heart of our human community Handbook of Research in the Social Foundations of Education Steven Tozer, Bernardo P. Gallegos, Annette Henry, Mary Bushnell Greiner, Paula Groves Price, 2011-07-05 This groundbreaking volume helps readers understand the history evolution and significance of this wide ranging often misunderstood and increasingly important field of study Lawscape Nicole Graham, 2010-07-07 Lawscape Property Environment Law considers the ways in which property law transforms both natural environments and social economies Addressing law's relationship to land and natural resources through its property regime Lawscape engages the abstract philosophy of property law with the material environments of place Whilst most accounts of land law have contributed cultural analyses of historical and political value predominantly through the lens of property rights few have contributed analyses of the natural consequences of property law through the lens of property responsibilities Lawscape does this by addressing the relationship between the commodification of land instituted in and by property law and ecological and economic histories Its synthesis of property law and environmental law provides a genuinely transdisciplinary analysis of the particular cultural concepts and practices of land tenure that have been created and exported across the globe Caribbean Women Writers, 2024-06-24
