Weak Regionalism in East Asia Works Well Luna Ge Lai,2024-10-31 This book investigates the reasons why regionalism in East Asia has been much weaker than in Western Europe and North America It focuses particularly on economic factors examining the regional and global linkages of production networks Through a focused exploration of regional and global production networks it argues that East Asia was not as regionally concentrated as was Western Europe or North America lacking a regionally oriented productional basis to support the institutional arrangement of East Asia as a stand alone economic community Moreover the regional production networks of each national economy in the region are influenced by a different set of value added components from different global and regional origins This divergence in their positions accounts for the mushrooming of divergent initiatives and projects for regional institutional arrangement Finally the institutional choices of the states to join Comprehensive and Progressive Agreement for Trans Pacific Partnership CP TPP and or Regional Comprehensive Economic Partnership RCEP are found to be strongly influenced by the sectoral focuses and priorities of their economies Demonstrating how the unique economic factors of each nation override other considerations for greater regional integration this book will be a valuable resource to students and scholars of international trade Asian politics and economics

The Oxford Handbook of Comparative Regionalism Tanja A. Börzel, Thomas Risse, 2016. The Oxford Handbook of Comparative Regionalism, the first of its kind, offers a systematic and wide-ranging survey of the scholarship on regionalism, regionalization and regional governance. Unpacking the major debates, leading authors of the field synthesize the state of the art, provide a guide to the comparative study of regionalism and identify future avenues of research. Twenty-seven chapters review the theoretical and empirical scholarship with regard to the emergence of regionalism, the institutional design of regional organizations and issue-specific governance, as well as the effects of regionalism and its relationship with processes of regionalization. The authors explore theories of cooperation, integration and diffusion, explaining the rise and the different forms of regionalism. The handbook also discusses the state of the art on the world regions: North America, Latin America, Europe, Eurasia, Asia, North Africa and the Middle East, and Sub-Saharan Africa. Various chapters survey the literature on regional governance in major issue areas such as security and peace, trade and finance, environment, migration, social and gender policies, as well as democracy and human rights. Finally, the handbook engages in cross-regional comparisons with regard to institutional design, dispute settlement, identities and communities, legitimacy and democracy, as well as inter and transregionalism.
