new leadership's perceptions of the challenges facing it how it defines its priorities builds up political support for its policy programmes and overcomes the resistance of vested interests Attempts will also be made to evaluate its achievements so far Published by City University of Hong Kong Press Strategising Energy: An Asian Perspective ,2014-01-15 As energy has become one of the crucial factors in ensuring the economic growth and the sustainable development of people nations societies and ultimately human civilisation in the 21st century global scenario there is a pressing need for treating energy as a strategic commodity and for analysing national regional and global strategies concerning energy This is an attempt to debate and discuss various facets economic technological and political of such strategies and at the same time to encompass concepts like energy security and energy diplomacy that form significant components of such strategies Strategising of energy is an issue that is inextricably linked with the domestic and foreign policies of a nation or a region and it is characteristically futuristic as strategies are supposed to be made with a long term perspective Contemporary Asian realities serve as the perspective of such an analysis for several reasons Asia is the home of two fast growing and energy thirsty countries like China and India as well as Japan and the ASEAN countries There are at least three energy producing regions in Asia that are crucial for global energy security like West Asia the traditional one two upcoming regions of Central Asia and the area around South China Sea The Indian Ocean is one of the most important energy transit routes for international energy transport Even the smallest disruption in the production and transport chain of energy within Asia has the potential of upsetting the global energy balance This volume attempts to focus on a number of significant issues concerning the theme of strategising of energy Contributors analyse debate and discuss the questions from different viewpoints and different angles Thus this volume represents a wide spectrum of views from a scientist's vision of a world with cleaner energy to the strategist's comments on solutions to national energy issues from journalists views on the development of governmental policies on energy to academicians analyses of regional energy strategies and from historians analyses of the restructuring of the national energy infrastructure and the re prioritising of national energy strategies to debates on national regional as well as maritime energy strategies by specialists on international relations Asian Perspectives on Digital Culture Sun Sun Lim,Cheryll Soriano,2016-01-08 In Asia amidst its varied levels of economic development and diverse cultural traditions and political regimes the Internet and mobile communications are increasingly used in every aspect of life Yet the analytical frames used to understand the impact of digital media on Asia predominantly originate from the Global North neither rooted in Asia's rich philosophical traditions nor reflective of the sociocultural practices of this dynamic region This volume examines digital phenomena and its impact on Asia by drawing on specifically Asian perspectives Contributors apply a variety of Asian theoretical frameworks including guanxi face qing dharma and karma With chapters focusing on emerging digital trends in China Hong Kong India Japan Korea Philippines Singapore and Taiwan the book presents compelling and diverse research on identity and selfhood spirituality social networking corporate image and national identity as shaped by and articulated through digital communication platforms Managing the China Challenge Quansheng Zhao,Guoli

Liu,2008-09-25 This edited volume addresses one of the most significant issues in international strategic studies today how to meet the challenge of a rising China The contributors take a global view of the topic offering unique and often controversial perspectives on the nature of the China challenge The book approaches the subject from a variety of angles including realist offensive realist institutional power transition interdependence and constructivist perspectives Chapters explore such issues as the US response to the China challenge Japan's shifting strategy toward a rising China EU China relations China's strategic partnership with Russia and India and the implications of unipolarity for China the US and the world In doing so the volume offers insights into some of the key questions surrounding China's grand strategy and its potential effects on to the existing international order Complex Interdependence and China-Australia Relations Lei Yu,Sophia Sui,2023-09-08

This book examines China and Australia's economic and security relations against the background of China's increasing economic and political role Utilizing the theory of complex interdependence the authors consider whether greater interdependence between Beijing and Canberra augments closer economic cooperation and trade or prompts political leverage and a security challenge Exploring China Australia relations from the mainstream Chinese perspective this book will be of interest to scholars and students of international relations Chinese studies global political economy governmental and intergovernmental organizations Strategic Asia 2011-12: Asia Responds to Its Rising Powers M. Asian Perspectives on Water Policy Cecilia Tortajada,Asit Biswas,2013-09-13 Asian countries are not homogenous They are in different stages of social and economic development with cultural conditions and institutional and legal frameworks varying from one country to another Therefore how water can be successfully managed differs from one country to another The book provides authoritative analyses of how water is being managed in different Asian countries ranging from the world's most populous countries like China and India to a city state like Singapore and an island country like Fiji It also analyses in depth several wide ranging issues like terrorism human rights water energy nexus and roles of media along with comprehensive discussions of legal institutional and regulatory frameworks in an Asian water management context The overall focus is on how water can be managed efficiently cost effectively and equitably in various Asian countries This book was based on a special issue of the International Journal of Water Resources Development Asian Perspective ,2007 Journal of international development Public Private Partnership: Asian Perspectives - Recommendations for Azerbaijan Mahir Humbatov,Nikita Singla,2016-12-12 As the world makes great strides on the path to development the gap between infrastructure needs and the resources governments possess to meet those needs is ever growing on account of governments razor thin budgets rapid urbanization and population growth Asia s overall infrastructure investment needs are estimated at USD 9 trillion till 2030 68% of which is for new capacity and 32% for maintaining and replacing existing infrastructure The average annual infrastructure investment during this period is about USD 750 billion As countries move up the value chain and urban populations expand demand for transport logistics and utilities will only continue to grow increasing the burden on public funds If cash flushed investors have an appetite for Asia s infrastructure projects what is keeping them at bay For infrastructure development statistics show that Asian nations have been turning to Public Private Partnerships PPP which seemed to be one of the main tools to attract financing and keep pace with rapid growth Although the PPP models are established in several Asian countries such as Singapore South Korea and Japan others are relatively immature Indonesia China and India in particular have announced ambitious infrastructure programs with governments developing mechanisms to encourage PPP investment and address barriers to PPP development The new game changers of the 21st century India and China are showing aggressive signs of opening their domestic markets to international investors While PPPs hold significant potential for Asia they also present formidable challenges Case studies of PPP markets in Australia China India Indonesia Japan Korea Malaysia Singapore and Thailand provide an Asian perspective enabling recommendations for Azerbaijan The Azerbaijani government has achieved great progress over the last decade in integrating the country into the global economic marketplace and increasing foreign investment mainly due to its oil resources Now the government s focus is on diversifying the economy outside the oil sector Azerbaijan is facing increasing demand for investment in infrastructure development overstressing the government s budget There is need for not only private sector investment but also private sector knowledge and expertise The traditional approach of the government for infrastructure development of any kind has been to use the state s own budget or privatization The first is markedly insufficient to meet the country s needs while the latter only works in a sound legal and financial framework and is not appropriate for all public service delivery projects So there is a need to see if the time is ripe for public private partnerships PPPs may not be the ultimate solution but they can help address many of the issues systemic to the region in the field of infrastructure development All it needs is a systematic approach undertaken through joint efforts of private and public sectors China and the Asia Pacific Economy C. Asia and the Pacific s green transition will have far reaching implications for the global economy Over the past decades the region has become the engine of global economic growth With relatively heavy reliance on coal and high energy intensity the region has recently become the largest contributor to growth in global GHG emissions accounting for nearly 40 percent of the total emissions in 2020 Achieving net zero by 2050 requires an energy transition at an unprecedented scale and speed even as the region must ensure energy security and affordability The region must also address its vulnerability to climate change as it comprises many countries highly exposed to climate hazards increasing in severity and frequency with global warming If managed well the green transformation in Asia and the Pacific will create opportunities for economies not only in the region but also around the world for inclusive and sustainable growth The global economy is still far from achieving net zero by 2050 and the Asia and the Pacific region must play its part to deliver on mitigation and adaptation goals Understanding Asia s perspectives on the constraints and issues with climate ambitions climate policy actions and constraints is central for devising climate strategies to meet climate goals To this end this chapter draws on novel surveys of country authorities and public in the region to distill climate ambitions and challenges faced and identify sources of major gaps in achieving mitigation and adaptation goals Measures to help close the gaps are drawn from policy discussions with country authorities in bilateral surveillance and related studies Asian Perspectives on Education: Inclusivity and Diversity Jie Zhang,Natalie Sarrazin,2025-01-07

The idea of Asia is contested in the literature as a concept in terms of unification in any sense e g regionally economically and politically see Duara 1995 2019 Acharya 2010 which makes a book of this nature challenging The use of inclusion and diversity as a lens of discovery is not only synchronically topical but provides an important outlet for unheard voices and marginalized perspectives otherwise silenced or ignored in education and Asian literature The lens by which the book is written combines multiple streams of diversity and inclusion with that of K 12 and higher education in an Asian context and it allows room for individual Asian voices and perspectives both in and outside the classroom Inspired by a panel presented at the 2021 New York Conference on Asian Studies NYCAS on the very topic of inclusivity and diversity in Asian education the book broadened the original focus from the COVID centered to one that allowed the exploration of a wider geographic area and cultural area as well as new subjects Moreover our text includes a focus on individuals with disabilities multicultural education and cross disciplinary efforts across cultures This book covers broader topics regarding inclusivity and diversity in education from multiple Asian perspectives and ranges from various educational levels that is elementary secondary and post secondary institutions different school settings that is public and private schools and a variety of Asian countries and areas that is Bangladesh China India Indonesia Japan Jordan and Taiwan This book gives a well rounded representation of the issues through theoretical focus practical applications and research studies contributed by authors from various international institutions and countries or countries of origin including Bangladesh China Germany India Indonesia Japan Jordan and the United States

The Legality and Legitimacy of the Use of Force in Northeast Asia Brendan Howe, Boris Kondocho, 2013-06-06 In The Legality and Legitimacy of the Use of Force in Northeast Asia Brendan Howe and Boris Kondocho bring together distinguished authors with extensive Northeast Asian backgrounds to offer a diverse and comprehensive evaluation of when it is right from regional perspectives to use force in international relations The use of force in international relations has been severely curtailed by pragmatic considerations of international order and further constrained by positive international law In Northeast Asia the prohibition of aggression has remained uncontested Strict adherence to non intervention in Northeast Asia has however increasingly come under attack from internal and external normative communities The contributors therefore use regional legal normative cultural and historical insights to shed light on the contemporary positions of Northeast Asian political communities with regard to the use of force

German-Speaking Jewish Refugees in Asia, 1930-1950 Joanne Miyang Cho, Eric Kurlander, Douglas McGetchin, 2025-03-31 Although most perished hundreds of thousands of Central European Jews escaped the Holocaust tens of thousands of these Jewish refugees ended up in East Asia Southeast Asia or South Asia Taking a global and transnational approach this volume examines the cultural political and socioeconomic encounters among and between Asian and European states and empires Central European Jews and Asians between 1930 and 1950 offering important case studies that address the policies toward and experiences of German speaking Jews across East Asia Southeast Asia and South Asia The strength of this volume lies not only in its efforts to include multiple theoretical perspectives which integrate German Jewish Asian and Migration Studies but also in the original empirical research on which it is based Engaging directly with the rich and growing historiography on the origins course and consequences of the Holocaust in East Southeast and South Asia this volume provides a framework in which we can better understand how global traditions of empire and colonialism matter in our efforts to understand the Holocaust while indicating that Asian states and peoples were keenly aware of the so called Jewish Question and made efforts though widely differentiated to provide shelter from the Nazi storm German Speaking Jewish Refugees in Asia 1930 1950 will appeal to students and scholars alike interested in the history of Jewish refugees in the twentieth century as well as all those interested in the modern history of German speaking Central Europe and Asia

East Asian Perspectives on Political Legitimacy Joseph Chan, To-ch'öl Sin, Melissa S. Williams, 2016-11-17 A key exploration of political legitimacy in East Asian societies undertaken by normative political theorists and empirical political scientists

Globalizing China - Social and Governance Reforms Ka Ho Mok, 2022-12-30 Unlike most books which consider China s transformation and globalization over the last four decades by focusing on China s economic growth this book examines how the Chinese regime has handled the increasingly complex sociopolitical and socio economic challenges generated as a result of the country s economic growth and transformation challenges arising both from within the country and also from the external political environment Based on extensive original research the book outlines how China s economic development has generated social and governance pressures discusses the government s social educational and governance reforms and highlights how China s development experiences which differ from the Western economies with democratic political regimes have drawn increasing attention from other countries in the developing world as an example to follow
