K. Taimni, 1994 Papers presented at an International Symposium on Management of Rural Cooperatives organized by Institute of Rural Management Anand during December 1992 Promotion of Small Farmers' Cooperatives in Asia G. N.

Lamming, Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 1980-01-01 Cooperatives in Asia K. K. Taimni, 2001

Comprises a collection of 16 papers divided into four parts covering the response of Asian cooperatives to external threats such as globalization and the Asian financial crisis public policies on cooperative development the relationships between primary cooperatives and the federal structure and cooperative support services Cooperatives As A Catalyst For

Sustainability: Lessons Learned From Asian Models Leo-paul Dana, Naman Sharma, Sneha Kumari, K K Tripathy, B P

Pillai, R Jayalaxmi, 2023-01-04 The cooperative movement has played a vital role in economic development around the world

Cooperatives also contribute to the achievement of the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals SDGs They generate revenue for economic growth support the development of communities and local culture and help protect the environment

Cooperatives in Asia have been leaders in their approaches with comprehensive and supportive policies Across Asia there are unique models of cooperatives some of which can be replicated internationally They utilise collectivisation as an economic model with the cooperation of their populations Cooperatives from Bangladesh India Israel Japan Nepal and the United Arab Emirates are also well known for their proactive approach to sustainability This book seeks to document the governance leadership and sustainable best practices of cooperatives to pave the way for the development of cooperatives internationally utilising the sustainable cooperatives of Asia as examples Addressing the current gap in research about cooperatives the chapters showcase lessons for the cooperative world in its movement towards sustainability through the examination of original case studies as well as quantitative studies The volume offers new insights to researchers and policymakers to understand the ecosystem surrounding cooperatives and actions to take to work towards their strengthening and welfare

Asian Economic Cooperation in the New Millennium Calla Wiemer, Heping Cao, American Committee on Asian

Economic Studies, 2004 This volume is the outgrowth of a conference held at Peking University in May 2002 jointly sponsored by the American Committee on Asian Economic Studies the Peking University School of Economics and the China Reform

Forum The contributors include leading scholars from Asia as well as specialists on Asia from the US Europe and Australia

The book delves into issues of trade and investment exchange rates and macroeconomic policy and preferential trade agreements and other forms of economic cooperation The overall message is one of regional dynamism animated by concerted efforts to build a favorable institutional environment China is a great motivating force in this dynamism and a key player in the development of regional agreements Making Change Happen Kevin Cook, Heather Goodall, 2013-09-11 This book is a unique window into a dynamic time in the politics and history of Australia. The two decades from 1970 to the Bicentennial in 1988 saw the emergence of a new landscape in Australian Indigenous politics. There were struggles, triumphs and defeats around land rights, community control of organisations, national coalitions and the international movement for Indigenous rights. The changes of these years generated new roles for Aboriginal people. Leaders had to grapple with demands to be administrators and managers as well as spokespeople and lobbyists. The challenges were personal as well as organisational, with a central one being how to retain personal integrity in the highly politicised atmosphere of the Aboriginal Industry. Kevin Cook was in the middle of many of these changes as a unionist, educator, land rights campaigner, cultural activist and advocate for liberation movements in Southern Africa, the Pacific and around the world. But Cookie has not wanted to tell the story of his own life in these pages. Instead, with Heather Goodall, a long time friend, he has gathered together many of the activists with whom he worked to tell their stories of this important time. Readers are invited into the frank and vivid conversations Cookie had with forty-five black and white activists about what they wanted to achieve, the plans they made and the risks they took to make change happen. You never doubted Kevin Cook. His very presence made you confident because the guiding hand is always there. Equal attention is given to all. I am one of many who worked with Cookie and Judy through the Tranby days and in particular the 1988 Bicentennial March for Freedom, Justice and Hope. What days they were! I'm glad this story is being told. Linda Burney, MLA, New South Wales. Kevin Cook was a giant in the post-war struggle for Aboriginal rights. His ability to connect the dots and make things happen was important in both the political and cultural resurgence of the 1970s onwards. Meredith Burgmann, former MLC, New South Wales. Kevin has had a transformative effect on the direction of my life and the lives of so many other people. This book is an important contribution to understanding not only Kevin's life but also the broader struggles for social and economic justice, for community empowerment and of the cooperative progressive movement. It will greatly assist the ongoing campaign for full and sustainable reconciliation. Paddy Crumlin, National Secretary, Maritime Union of Australia. Cookie has made great contributions in enhancing the struggles of our people. He is a motivator, an astute strategist and an excellent communicator with wonderful people skills. It's a pleasure to be able to call him a mate and a brother. John Ah Kit, former MLA, Northern Territory.

Mutual, Cooperative and Employee-Owned Businesses in the Asia Pacific Chris Rowley, Jonathan Michie, 2017-10-02. The 25 years leading up to the international financial crisis have been depicted as capitalism unleashed, containing deregulation, privatisation, demutualisation and financialisation. Yet remarkably, given this economic and political context, co-operatives and mutuals appear to have been gaining ground in many countries, albeit modestly, even before the international financial crisis and the resulting global recession from which the global economy is still only slowly recovering. The 2007-2008 international financial crisis called into question how appropriate the shareholder-owned model is, certainly if it is allowed to dominate the financial services sector. However, the International Co-operative Alliance is determined to make the mutual and co operative sector of the economy a dynamic sustainable and increasingly important sector of the global economy This book looks at the contribution of co operative mutual and employee owned firms to the Asia Pacific economy both currently and prospectively and the challenges the standard Western model faces regarding employment and output It also looks at the role of Governments the nature of co operatives in China and the role of the state and the future prospects for cross border growth of co operative and mutual business within Asia Pacific and more widely This book was originally published as a Special Issue of Asia Pacific Business Review Technical and Economic Assistance to Cooperative Enterprises Under the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961 United States. Congress. House. Committee on Banking and Currency. Subcommittee on International Finance,1966 Perspectives on Cooperative Law Willy Tadjudje,Ifigeneia Douvitsa,2022-06-23 This book contributes to the development of literature on cooperative law while paying tribute to Hagen Henr s significant impact on this field at a global scale Hagen Henr is one of the most influential scholars in the field of cooperative law His primary contribution has been in the area of public international cooperative law His other areas of scientific interest include development law and comparative law This honorary volume is focused on two main axes the essence of cooperatives as well as their activities and their governance The contributions throw light on how these two axes are addressed by cooperative legislation across countries regions and continents In the varied perspectives that the contributions put together both a theoretical and practical approach the authors address central current and crucial issues for the development of cooperative law The book is a great resource for researcher scholars as well as policy makers and industry players interested in the topic Hearings United States. Congress. House. Committee on Foreign Affairs,1966 Hearings United States. Congress. House,1966 Hearings, Reports and Prints of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs United States. Congress. House. Committee on Foreign Affairs (1789-1975),1966 Foreign Assistance Act of 1966 United States. Congress. House. Committee on Foreign Affairs,1966 Southeast Asia's Credit Revolution Aditya Goenka,David Henley,2013-09-05 The last twenty years have seen a transformation in the availability and use of credit among the less prosperous strata of Southeast Asian societies Drawing on experiences from across the whole region this book explores this important development focusing especially on the modern or formal part of the microfinance sector Rangelands of Central Asia ,2006 The 11 papers in this document address issues and needs in the development and stewardship of Central Asia rangelands and identify directions for future work With its vast rangelands and numerous pastoral populations Central Asia is a region of increasing importance to rangeland scientists managers and pastoral development specialists Five of the papers address rangeland issues in Mongolia three papers specifically address studies in China two papers address Kazakhstan and one paper addresses the use of satellite images for natural resource planning across Central Asia These papers comprise the proceedings from a general technical conference at the 2004 Annual Meeting of the Society for Range Management held at Salt Lake City Utah January 24 30 2004 As the 2004 SRM Conference theme was Rangelands in Transition these papers focus on an area of the world that has experienced dramatic socio economic changes in 20th Century associated with adoption of communism and command economies and the subsequent collapse of the command economies and the recent transition to a free market economies The changes in land use and land tenure policies that accompanied these shifts in socio economic regimes have had dramatic impacts on the region s rangelands and the people who use them Competition and Modernization in South Asia Hellen E. Ulrich,2003-06 Financing Higher Education and Economic Development in East Asia Shiro Armstrong,Bruce Chapman,2011-11-01 This volume addresses important issues to do with access to higher education and different models of its financing in the East Asia region It is enriched by diverse perspectives from vastly different starting points and by the historical and institutional settings in the region The issues are set out in the context of the value of higher education in economic development and how it contributes to the capacities to adopt and adapt to new technologies and undertake institutional innovation The established and well functioning higher education loan and financing systems such as those in Australia and the experience of different systems tried both in East Asia and in the United States are brought to bear in this volume 8th Near East-South Asia Regional Irrigation Practices Seminar ,1971 Survey of Rural Cooperatives in Countries in South East Asia ,1950
