Aspects Of Language And Culture:

Aspects of Language and Culture Carol M. Eastman, 1975 Aspects of Language and Culture, 1975 Language and Culture Claire Kramsch, 1998-08-20 This work investigates the close relationship between language and culture It explains key concepts such as social context and cultural authenticity using insights from fields which includes linguistics sociology and anthropology Aspects of Language and Learning M.A.K. Halliday, 2016-03-22 This book is based on a series of lectures which begin with a look at the history of the language that we use in order to encode our knowledge particularly our scientific knowledge i e the history of scientific English Prof M A K Halliday poses the question of how a growing child comes to master this kind of language and put it to his or her own use as a means of learning In subsequent chapters Halliday explores the relationship between language education and culture again taking the language of science as the focal point for the discussion and finally he draws these various themes together to construct a linguistic interpretation of how we learn and how we learn how to learn Language and Culture Karen Risager, 2006-01-01 The book presents a new theory of the relationship between language and culture in a transnational and global perspective The fundamental view is that languages spread across cultures and cultures spread across languages or in other words that linguistic and cultural practices flow through social networks in the world along partially different paths and across national structures and communities Language and Culture in the Intercultural World Vesna Mikolič, 2020-12-09 The intensification of contacts between cultures and languages has a major impact on all social spheres today Multiculturalism and multilingualism are important elements of the local regional national and global community Much of the world s conflict stems from the contrast between globalization and nationalism fuelled by religions racial divisions traditions and other cultural particularities Focusing mainly on the situation in Central and South eastern Europe this book addresses how cultural identities develop through tourism education literature and other social fields and how language and literature teaching should be planned in this context It consists of the following sections Language Culture and Tourism Interculturalism Multilingualism and Approaches to Language Learning and Culture in Literature and Translation The volume will be of interest to teachers and researchers of cultural and tourism studies linguistics and language learning literary studies and translation while also addressing wider readers interested in contemporary intercultural society Space and Time in Languages and Cultures Luna Filipovi?, Kasia M. Jaszczolt, Katarzyna M. Jaszczolt, 2012 This is an interdisciplinary volume that focuses on the central topic of the representation of events namely cross cultural differences in representing time and space as well as various aspects of the conceptualisation of space and time It brings together research on space and time from a variety of angles both theoretical and methodological Crossing boundaries between and among disciplines such as linguistics psychology philosophy or anthropology forms a creative platform in a bold attempt to reveal the complex interaction of language culture and cognition in the context of human communication and interaction The authors address the nature of spatial and temporal constructs from a number of perspectives such as cultural specificity in determining time intervals in an Amazonian culture distinct temporalities in a specific Mongolian hunter community Russian specific conceptualisation of temporal relations Seri and Yucatec frames of spatial reference memory of events in space and time and metaphorical meaning stemming from perception and spatial artefacts to name but a few themes The topic of space and time in language and culture is also represented from a different albeit related point of view in the sister volume Space and Time in Languages and Cultures Linguistic Diversity HCP 36 which focuses on the language specific vis vis universal aspects of linguistic representation of spatial and temporal reference

The Routledge Language and Cultural Theory Reader Lucy Burke, Tony Crowley, Alan Girvin, 2000 This is a core introduction to the most innovative and influential writings to have shaped and defined the relations between language culture and cultural identity

Space and Time in Languages and Cultures Luna Filipovi?, Kasia M. Jaszczolt, Katarzyna Jaszczolt, 2012 This volume offers novel insights into linguistic diversity in the domains of spatial and temporal reference searching for uniformity amongst diversity A number of authors discuss expression of dynamic spatial relations cross linguistically in a vast range of typologically different languages such as Bezhta French Hinuq Italian Japanese Polish Serbian and Spanish among others The contributions on linguistic expression of time all shed new light on pertinent questions regarding this cognitive domain such as the hotly debated relationship between cross linguistic differences in talking about time and universal principles of utterance interpretation modelling temporal inference through aspectual interactions as well as the complexity of the acquisition of tense aspect relations in a second language The topic of space and time in language and culture is also represented from a different point of view in the sister volume Space and Time in Languages and Cultures Language Culture and Cognition HCP 37 which discusses spatial and temporal constructs in human language cognition and culture in order to come closer to a better understanding of the interaction between shared and individual characteristics of language and culture that shape the way people interact with each other and exchange information about the spatio temporal constructs that underlie their cognitive social and linguistic foundations

Exploring Business Language and Culture Urszula Michalik, Paweł Zakrajewski, Iwona Sznicer, Anna Stwora, 2020-11-01 This book aims to present the results of research in the sphere of business language and culture as well as the experience of pedagogical staff and practitioners concerned with broadly understood business The highly complex nature of contemporary business environment approached from both the theoretical and practical standpoint does not cease to prove that research into business studies cannot be dissociated from the cultural and linguistic context The chapters included in this book were contributed by academics and practitioners alike which offers a balanced approach to the topic and ensures high levels of diversity together with an undeniable homogeneity They were gathered with a view to show various aspects of business language perceived both as a medium of communication and as a subject of research and teaching They are concerned with business culture as well including business ethics and representations of business in popular culture Owing to its multidisciplinary approach the book presents a roadmap towards successful functioning in business settings highlighting such issues as education for business purposes the study of language used in business contexts the aspects of cross cultural communication as well as ethical behaviour based upon different values in multicultural business environments Given its multifarious character the book surely appeals not only to academics but also to the interested laymen and students who wish to expand their knowledge of business studies and related phenomena

Literacy Across Languages and Cultures Bernardo M. Ferdman, Rose-Marie Weber, Arnulfo G. Ramirez, 1994-03-08 This book examines the linkage between literacy and linguistic diversity embedding them in their social and cultural contexts It illustrates that a more complete understanding of literacy among diverse populations and in multicultural societies requires attention to issues of literacy per se as well as to improving an educational process that has relevance beyond members of majority cultures and linguistic groups The focus of the book is on the social and cultural contexts in which literacy develops and is enacted with an emphasis on the North American situation Educators and researchers are discovering that cognitive approaches while very valuable are insufficient by themselves to answer important questions about literacy in heterogeneous societies By considering the implications of family school culture society and nation for literary processes the book answers the following questions In a multi ethnic context what does it mean to be literate What are the processes involved in becoming and being literate in a second language In what ways is literacy in a second language similar and in what ways is it different from mother tongue literacy What factors must be understood to better describe and facilitate literacy acquisition among members of ethnic and linguistic minorities What are some current approaches that are being used to accomplish this These are vital questions for researchers and educators in a world that has a large number of immigrants a variety of multi ethnic and multi lingual societies and an increasing degree of multinational activity Beyond addressing applied concerns attending to these questions can provide new insights into basic aspects of literacy Teaching Languages and Cultures Nina Lazarević, Ljiljana Marković, Tatjana Paunović, 2019-01-23 This volume offers diverse perspectives on language and culture teaching explored against the background of a fast paced globalized world of increased mobility and opportunity While teachers are pressed to reinvent and adapt the existing teaching practices researchers are invited to conduct studies with a view of implementing the findings in the classroom practice This collection presents discussions of different aspects of foreign language instruction language skills and learning strategies and foreign languages in professional contexts as well as the role of intercultural competence in language teaching and teacher education Offering insights into a variety of foreign language and culture teaching contexts throughout Europe this volume will be of interest to researchers and practitioners in applied linguistics and language and culture teaching methodology including both experienced and novice language teachers in the Balkan region and beyond Indo-European Language and Culture Benjamin W.
