Aspects Of Sheffield No 1 Discovering Local History:

Back from the Edge: The Fall & Rise of Yorkshire's Wildlife Ian D. Rotherham, Christine Handley, Margaret Atherden, 2018 We show here how through the efforts of a range of governmental and non governmental organisations habitats and species are now being managed to preserve our biodiversity for the future In this period of rapid environmental change and ever increasing human impact the success of such conservation initiatives has never been more vital Over the past half century there have been many changes in the Yorkshire countryside Deciduous woodlands have been felled and replaced by conifer plantations wetlands and ponds have been drained grasslands have been reseeded and arable fields have been intensively farmed Our river systems and coastline have also been subjected to increasing pressure and pollution All these changes have had dramatic effects on Yorkshire's semi natural habitats and their associated wildlife Added to these effects our climate is altering more rapidly than at any time in the last 10 000 years leading to further challenges for plants and animals

The Making of Sheffield Melvyn Jones, 2004-09-30 Covering thousands of years and a multitude of topics the book tells the story of the development from a group of small agricultural settlements into a town and then a modern city It covers success disappointments miserable periods and glorious episodes that have marked the city's evolution B&W

Working & Walking Vol1 Ian D. Rotherham, Melvyn Jones, Christine Handley (eds.), 2012-09-14 The conference at which the chapters in this book were originally presented as papers Working and Walking in the Footsteps of Ghosts took place at Sheffield Hallam University between 29th May and 1st June 2003 The conference proceedings were published at the event as a bound volume of abstracts and longer papers This was a landmark conference It was a large conference of more than 300 delegates who came from all parts of Britain including the Republic of Ireland and from continental Europe Belgium France Hungary Italy the Netherlands and Sweden It marked the tenth anniversary of the first national woodland conference in Sheffield organised by The Landscape Conservation Forum The delegates came from a very wide range of backgrounds academic professional forestry land managers Wildlife Trusts the Forestry Commission English Nature English Heritage Scottish Natural Heritage the Woodland Trust and members of woodland conservation and wildlife groups Forest

History Mauro Agnoletti, S. Anderson, 2000-06-09 This book presents edited and revised versions of more than 30 papers selected from those presented at a major conference on History and Forest Resources held in Florence in 1998 The conference was organised by the Italian Academy of Forestry Science and working group on Forest History of the International Union of Forestry Research Organisations IUFRO As a whole the papers present detailed analyses of the interrelationships between forest ecosystems and socioeconomic development from thirteen different countries of the world Main economic and social factors techniques and local practices as well as legal and political aspects related to forest changes are discussed according to the latest achievements in forest history research The book is a companion volume to Methods and Approaches in Forest History Industrial Clusters John F. Wilson, Chris Corker, Joe Lane, 2022-07-01

Industrial Clusters shows the latest state of knowledge on the topic of industrial clusters with a particular focus on clustering in the UK bringing together a chronological coverage of the phenomenon This set of original essays by a group of leading business and industrial historians offers fresh perspectives about clusters and clustering A primary emphasis of the collection is how knowledge is generated and disseminated across a cluster and whether these processes stimulated innovation and consequently longer term sustainability This analysis also prompts questions about which unit of analysis to examine from the entrepreneurs and firms they created through to the industry as a whole and district in which they are located or whether one should look outside the region for explanatory factors Covering regions as diverse as North Wales the Scottish Highlands the City of London the Potteries Sheffield and Lancashire the essays have been channelled to provide a detailed understanding of these issues The editors have also provided a challenging Conclusion that suggests a new research agenda that could well unravel some of the mysteries associated with clustering This edited collection will be of interest to international researchers academics and students in the fields of business and management history innovation industrialisation and clusters The Industrial Legacy & Landscapes of Sheffield and South Yorkshire Ian D.

Rotherham,Christine Handley (eds),2017 The chapters in the book reflect some of the breadth of industrial development and its effects that took place in and around Sheffield South Yorkshire from the eighteenth century onwards It looks at great landowners and at ordinary townsfolk and the impacts that industrial development had on them and their environment Containing chapters by Professors Ian Rotherham David Hey and Melvyn Jones and Dr Leonie Skelton Trees Beyond the Wood (colour) Ian D. Rotherham,Christine Handley,Mauro Agnoletti,Tomasz Samojlik,2013-07-05 Trees Beyond the Wood was written for a conference organised to celebrate twenty years of work since the first major conference on the theme of ancient trees and woodlands held in Sheffield UK It was held almost ten years after the landmark 2003 Working and Walking in the Footsteps of Ghosts event which started to raise issues and challenge assumptions about what is ancient or natural and what is meant by the terms wood or woodland Since then on going work in a range of disciplines across ecology biology landscape history archaeology forestry and nature conservation has continued the process of research and evaluation across the subject area The collection of papers by contributors from across Europe reflects this broad range of interests and disciplines Edward M. Curr and the Tide of History Samuel Furphy,2013-03-01 The idea that Curr s writings posthumously defeated the Yorta Yorta native title claim has a chilling irony about it given his earlier appropriation of Yorta Yorta lands for pastoral purposes During the long Yorta Yorta claim therefore Edward M Curr became something of an historical celebrity highlighting the need for a detailed appraisal of his life his biases his opinions and his attitudes towards Aboriginal people This book responds to that need by offering a biography of a man who more than a century after his death became a crucial witness in a major native title case Prologue The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells,2003 The Arboricultural Journal ,2004 Trees, Forested Landscapes and Grazing Animals Ian D.

Rotherham,2013-03-05 In this comprehensive book the critical components of the European landscape forest parkland and other grazed landscapes with trees are addressed The book considers the history of grazed treed landscapes of large grazing herbivores in Europe and the implications of the past in shaping our environment today and in the future Debates on the types of anciently grazed landscapes in Europe and what they tell us about past and present ecology have been especially topical and controversial recently This treatment brings the current discussions and the latest research to a much wider audience The book breaks new ground in broadening the scope of wood pasture and woodland research to address sites and ecologies that have previously been overlooked but which hold potential keys to understanding landscape dynamics Eminent contributors including Oliver Rackham and Frans Vera present a text which addresses the importance of history in understanding the past landscape and the relevance of historical ecology and landscape studies in providing a future vision

Wentworth Woodhouse: The House, the Estate and the Family Melvyn Jones,Joan Jones,Stephen Cooper,2021-06-09 It was the home of a knight a baron a viscount two marquises and nine earls The family had estates not only in South Yorkshire but also in North Yorkshire the Midlands and Ireland at their greatest extent covering nearly 120 000 acres One head of household was beheaded Another saw one of the last wolves in the British Isles One owner built the Palladian mansion at Wentworth which has the longest frontage of any country mansion in Britain and was one of the earliest growers of pineapples in this country One head of family was prime minister Twice Another provided financial assistance to more than 6 000 of his Irish tenants and their families to emigrate to Canada during the Great Famine Another had a christening attended by 7 000 official guests Yet another bought an ocean liner to go and search for buried treasure in the Pacific This copiously illustrated book explores the history of the house the estate and the family over more than 400 years drawing on a wide variety of sources particularly the family records the Wentworth Woodhouse Muniments held in Sheffield Archives

Animal, Man & Treescapes (b/w) Ian D. Rotherham,Christine Handley (eds.),2011 This book has been published as part of a major conference held in Sheffield UK on the theme of Animals Man and Treescapes which looked at the interactions between grazing animals humans and wooded landscapes It linked community projects and educational outputs throughout the UK across Europe and beyond The event promoted landscape ecology conservation through local national and international initiatives

The Boggart Dr. Simon Young,2022-03 Honourable mention for The American Folklore Society's Wayland D Hand Prize for outstanding book combining historical and folkloristic methods and materials Runner up for The Folklore Society's 2022 Katherine Briggs Award for most distinguished contribution to folklore studies The little studied and once much feared boggart is a supernatural being from the north of England Against the odds it survives today both in place names and in fantasy literature not least the Harry Potter universe This book pioneers two methods for collecting boggart folklore first the use of hundreds of thousands of words on the boggart from newly digitized ephemera second about 1 100 contemporary boggart memories from social media surveys and personal interviews relating to the interwar and postwar years Combining this new data with an interdisciplinary approach involving dialectology folklore Victorian history supernatural history oral history place name studies and sociology it is possible to reconstruct boggart beliefs experiences and tales The boggart was not as we have been led to believe a goblin Rather boggart was a much more general term encompassing all solitary supernatural beings from killer mermaids to headless phantoms from black dogs to shape changing ghouls The author shows how in the same period that such beliefs were dying out folklorists continually misrepresented the boggart and explores how the modern fantasy boggart was born of these misrepresentations As well as offering a fresh reading of associated traditions The Boggart demonstrates some of the ways in which recent advances in digitization can offer rich rewards

The Historical Archaeology of the Sheffield Cutlery and Tableware Industry, 1750-1900

Victoria Beauchamp, James Symonds, Joan Unwin, 2002 For more than 250 years the name Sheffield was synonymous with the cutlery industry although archaeological evidence shows that the industry goes back as far as the 12th century With many of the buildings rapidly disappearing or being redeveloped aside from those that have already been destroyed this type of publication forms a vital record of an important part of industrial England The contributors to this volume look at the development of the industry in the 18th century the production of cutlery and flatware forks and spoons the organisation of the labour and working practices and the geographical and structural development of workshops and other buildings associated with the industry

The Yorkshire Archaeological and Topographical Journal, 1870 South Yorkshire

Mining Villages Melvyn Jones, 2017-07-30 Over a period of more than 150 years between the late eighteenth century and the 1930s the South Yorkshire rural landscape was transformed by coal mining and the movement of coal But it was not just the development of collieries canals and railways that caused this transformation The population of the coalfield grew at a phenomenal rate and the new mining population many of them migrants from other parts of the country had to be housed near to the collieries where they worked Small residential colonies were built near the new collieries existing rural villages expanded new satellite villages were established and completely new mining communities were created the later ones carefully planned and laid out in the form of geometrically designed estates This copiously illustrated book explores the history of the physical and social development of these very varied mining communities drawing on a wide variety of sources It is the first book to cover this subject and includes topics such as the settlement that was specifically built for blackleg miners the development in one village of a large Welsh speaking colony how Earl Fitzwilliam housed his colliers and their families and the views of well known writers like Fred Kitchen Roger Dattler and George Orwell on the colliery villages The book will be of great interest not only to readers living in South Yorkshire but also to the descendants of South Yorkshire miners now living in other parts of the country and elsewhere
