Assessing Site Significance A Guide For Archaeologists And Historians:

Assessing Site Significance Donald L. Hardesty, Barbara J. Little, 2009-03-16 Assessing Site Significance is an invaluable resource for archaeologists and others who need guidance in determining whether sites are eligible for listing in the National Register of Historic Places NRHP. Because the register's eligibility criteria were largely developed for standing sites, it is difficult to know in any particular case whether a site known primarily through archaeological work has sufficient historical significance to be listed. Hardesty and Little address these challenges, describing how to file for NRHP eligibility and how to determine the historical significance of archaeological properties. This second edition brings everything up to date and includes new material on 17th and 18th century sites, traditional cultural properties, shipwrecks, Japanese internment camps, and military properties.

The Oxford Handbook of Industrial Archaeology Eleanor Casella, Michael Nevell, Hanna Steyne, 2022 Through international and multi-period chapters, this volume explores the origins and development of industrialization from its emergence in 18th century Europe to its contemporary ubiquity. It interrogates the widespread exploitation of natural resources that forged industrialization and its environmental and social legacy in our globalized world.

Encyclopedia of Historical Archaeology Charles E. Orser Jr., 2002-09-11 The Encyclopedia of Historical Archaeology is a ground-breaking compendium of information about this ever-growing field. Concentrating on the post-1400 period as well as containing generic explanations of historical archaeology where needed, the encyclopedia is compiled by over 120 experts from around the world and contains more than 370 entries covering important concepts and sites. Food Security and Food Safety for the Twenty-first Century Soraj Hongladarom, 2015-03-29 This book is a collection of selected papers that were presented at the First International Conference of the Asia Pacific Society for Agricultural and Food Ethics APSAFE 2013, which was held at Chulalongkorn University from November 28-30, 2013. The papers are interdisciplinary, containing insights into food security and food ethics from a variety of perspectives, including but not limited to philosophy, sociology, law, sociology, economics, as well as the natural sciences. The theme of the conference was to consider the interplay and balance between food security and food ethics as the world approaches the middle part of the twenty-first century.

Archaeological Investigation Martin Carver, 2013-10-18 Drawing its numerous examples from Britain and beyond

Archaeological Investigation explores the procedures used in field archaeology travelling over the whole process from discovery to publication Divided into four parts it argues for a set of principles in part one describes work in the field in part two and how to write up in part three Part four describes the modern world in which all types of archaeologist operate academic and professional The central chapter Projects Galore takes the reader on a whirlwind tour through different kinds of investigation including in caves gravel quarries towns historic buildings and underwater Archaeological Investigation intends to be a companion for a newcomer to professional archaeology from a student introduction part one to first practical work part two to the first responsibilities for producing reports part three and in part four to the tasks of project design and heritage curation that provide the meat and drink of the fully fledged professional The book also proposes new ways of doing things tried out over the author s thirty years in the field and brought together here for the first time This is no plodding manual but an inspiring provocative informative and entertaining book urging that archaeological investigation is one of the most important things society does

Historical Archaeology Through a Western Lens Mark Warner, Margaret Purser, 2017-06 A 2017 Choice Outstanding Academic Title The mythic American West with its perilous frontiers big skies and vast resources is frequently perceived as unchanging and timeless The work of many western based historical archaeologists over the past decade however has revealed narratives that often sharply challenge that timelessness Historical Archaeology Through a Western Lens reveals an archaeological past that is distinct to the region but not in ways that popular imagination might suggest Instead this volume highlights a western past characterized by rapid and ever changing interactions between diverse groups of people across a wide range of environmental and economic situations The dynamic and unpredictable lives of western communities have prompted a constant challenging and reimagining of both individual identities and collective understandings of their position within a broader national experience Indeed the archaeological West is one clearly characterized by mobility rather than stasis The archaeologies presented in this volume explore the impact of that pervasive human mobility on the West a world of transience impermanence seasonal migration and accelerated trade and technology at scales ranging from the local to the global By documenting the challenges of both local community building and global networking they provide an archaeology of the West that is ultimately from the West

The Oxford Handbook of Public Archaeology Robin Skeates, Carol McDavid, John Carman, 2012-01-05 Divided into four distinct sections and drawing across various disciplines this volume seeks to reappraise the place of archaeology in the contemporary world by providing a series of essays that critically engage with both old and current debates in the field of public archaeology

The Archaeology of Watercraft Abandonment Nathan Richards, Sami Kay Seeb, 2013-06-05 The historical importance and archaeological potential of deliberately discarded watercraft has not been a major feature of maritime archaeological enquiry While research on the topic has appeared since the 1970s as books chapters and articles most examples have been limited in focus and distribution and in most cases disseminated as unpublished archaeological reports i e the gray literature So too has there been a lack of a single source representing the diversity of geographical historic thematic and theoretical contexts that ships graveyard sites and deliberately abandoned vessels represent In contrast with much of the theoretical or case specific literature on the theme of watercraft discard this volume communicates to the reader the common heritage and global themes that ships graveyard sites represent It serves as a blueprint to illustrate how the remains of abandoned vessels in ships graveyards are sites of considerable research value Moreover the case studies in this volume assist researchers in understanding the evolution of maritime technologies economies and societies This volume is intended to expose research potential create discussion and reinforce the significance of a prevalent cultural resource that is often overlooked

Transforming Archaeology

Sonya Atalay, Lee Rains Clauss, Randall H McGuire, John R Welch, 2016-07 Archaeology for whom The dozen well known contributors to this innovative volume suggest nothing less than a transformation of the discipline into a service oriented community based endeavor They wish to replace the primacy of meeting academic demands with meeting the needs and values of those outside the field who may benefit most from our work They insist that we employ both rigorous scientific methods and an equally rigorous critique of those practices to ensure that our work addresses real world social environmental and political problems A transformed archaeology requires both personal engagement and a new toolkit Thus in addition to the theoretical grounding and case materials from around the world each contributor offers a personal statement of their goals and an outline of collaborative methods that can be adopted by other archaeologists
