Assessment of Spanish-speaking Populations ,2000 Guide to Psychological Assessment with Hispanics Lorraine T. Benuto,2012-09-19 This book focuses on diversity culture and ethnicity as they relate to psychological assessment of Hispanics It is a how to guide for clinicians researchers and instructors working with Hispanic clients Each chapter contains an overview of cultural considerations needed for assessing the Hispanic client followed by a specific exploration of the assessment measures available and the research that has been conducted on these measures with Hispanic participants An exploration of the strengths and limitations of each assessment measure is included Considering that ethnocultural minority individuals who are of Hispanic Latino origin make up the largest ethnocultural minority group in the United States guidelines for working with this population are a must Given that a large subset of this percentage is composed of immigrants many of whom do not speak English or who have learned English as a second language special considerations for effective psychological assessment are necessary This book fills a gap in the scientific literature by consolidating the research on psychological assessment with Hispanic samples into one comprehensive volume and providing simple recommendations for the psychological assessment of Hispanic clients An exploration of the general psychological assessment domains e g personality intelligence is included with references to research on the major assessment measures used in the field A more specific exploration of psychodiagnostic assessment measures follows including the assessment of mood disorders anxiety disorders sexual dysfunction psychosis etc Several chapters are dedicated to specialized assessment including neuropsychological assessment forensic assessment and school based assessment overall creating the most comprehensive up to date research based compendium of psychological assessment measures for use with Hispanic clients

Neuropsychological Evaluation of the Spanish Speaker Alfredo Ardila,Monica Rosselli,Antonio E. Puente,2013-06-29 This book is the culmination of a research program conducted in Colombia during the past several years The fundamental aim of the program was to develop neuropsychological tests for Spanish speakers especially elderly individuals and those with limited educational attainment The lack of norms for these populations represents a significant practical problem not only in developing countries but also in more developed countries For example norms are usually obtained with middle class Anglo Saxon English speaking populations often university students and such norms do not usually include individuals older than 65 years Furthermore very few neuropsychological tests have been developed for Spanish speakers frequently tests are translated into Spanish often poor translations at that but the norms used are still those obtained from English speaking populations This volume summarizes the normative results of this research program We anticipate that these tests and norms will be particularly useful in the neuropsychological evaluation of Spanish speakers especially those with limited educational attainment and the elderly The United States represents the fifth largest Spanish speaking country in the world after Mexico Spain Argentina and Colombia with over 20 million speakers It is anticipated that by the year 2025 there will be as many

Hispanics in the United States as members of all other ethnic minority groups combined Further about 10% of the U S population are considered functionally illiterate with Hispanics representing an unusually large segment
