Married to Another Man Ghada Karmi,2007-05-20 Two rabbis visiting Palestine in 1897 observed that the land was like a bride beautiful but married to another man By which they meant that if a place was to be found for Israel in Palestine where would the people of Palestine go This is a dilemma that Israel has never been able to resolve No conflict today is more dangerous than that between Israel and the Palestinians The implications it has for regional and global security cannot be overstated The peace process as we know it is dead and no solution is in sight Nor as this book argues will that change until everyone involved in finding a solution accepts the real causes of conflict and its consequences on the ground Leading writer Ghada Karmi explains in fascinating detail the difficulties Israel's existence created for the Arab world and why the search for a solution has been so elusive Ultimately she argues that the conflict will end only once the needs of both Arabs and Israelis are accommodated equally Her startling conclusions overturn conventional thinking but they are hard to refute

The Moral Psychology of Terrorism Nathan Lean, Jalil Roshandel, 2013-07-29 Terrorism of the past ten years has been driven by the interface of psychology morality faith religion and politics This modern terrorism reflects terrorists pursuit of their beliefs and the aggressive promotion of the exclusivity of their world views at the expense of the lives of those who do not share them In this sense acts of terrorism are fueled by arguments of morality and views that are rooted in the psyches and beliefs of terrorists Thus it is critically important to examine the growing phenomenon of terrorism through not only a political lens but a psychological one as well where questions about the cognitive mappings of those who are considered terrorists are probed The examination of the moral psychology of terrorism opens up new insights into the real threats that face the global community This important volume brings out that discussion and seeks to understand what motivates people to kill both themselves and innocent bystanders How can we better understand this tragic human path towards violence Providing perspectives from several continents and academic disciplines the editors and contributors of this work move the study of terrorism away from its traditional center in the academic worlds of political science and security studies and present a wide range of perspectives that focus on psychology philosophy and questions of morality linguistics history religious studies and ethics Intended for the academic community and the general public alike these rich presentations and analyses are sure to foster a healthier more productive and more effective conversation about terrorism the minds of terrorists and how to reach a place where this violent phenomenon is less prevalent

Evaluation of regulatory impact assessments 2006-07 Great Britain: National Audit Office,2007-07-11 This NAO report evaluates the quality of Regulatory Impact Assessments RIAs produced by the Department of Health and the Department for Communities and Local Government and considers how these departments are seeking to raise standards and improve their use The aim of RIAs is to assess the need for and impact of proposed regulations and amendments to existing regulations They are a tool to help policy makers understand the consequences of possible Government regulation RIAs are required for all forms of government intervention that impose or reduce costs on businesses the third sector or the public sector The NAO concludes that RIAs were not always being used effectively That they often did not form an integral part of the policy making process from initial development through to implementation and review The quality of RIAs as used by both departments was mixed with assessment of costs and benefits the weakest area and insufficient consideration of the impact of regulations following implementation Further RIAs were often not commissioned or used early enough in policy formation Also RIAs were only occasionally used by Parliamentary Committees and to inform Parliamentary debate Among the recommendations set out by the NAO include that RIAs should consider more explicitly the impacts of legislation when it comes into force that Departments should ensure their guidance training and procedures emphasise the need for high quality analysis that Departmental RIAs need to ensure there are clear statements on how and when post implementation reviews will be conducted and that Departments need to develop a targeted package of training and support which integrates RIAs into mainstream policy development

Republic of Azerbaijan International Monetary Fund. Middle East and Central Asia Dept.,2019-09-18 This 2019 Article IV Consultation with the Republic of Azerbaijan highlights that the economy is continuing to recover from a banking crisis and recession Looking ahead economic growth is expected to reach 2.7 percent in 2019 on strong hydrocarbon production and robust domestic demand benefitting from new spending measures Gradual and growth friendly fiscal consolidation is needed to strengthen intergenerational and precautionary buffers while mitigating the adverse impact on the economy Consolidation could rely on prioritizing and improving the efficiency of spending rationalizing tax policy and improving revenue administration Reducing administrative burden for businesses encouraging competition and strengthening governance and transparency would reduce the cost of doing business foster entrepreneurship and attract foreign capital Prioritizing investment for healthcare and education improving its efficiency and better targeting of social protection would help nurture human capital and improve productivity Addressing governance weaknesses is essential to reduce vulnerabilities to corruption More integrated policies along with better data availability would support decision making and credibility and attract investment Minerals Yearbook ,2007

Principles of Sustainable Aquaculture Stuart W. Bunting,2013-01-25 Aquaculture is the farming of aquatic organisms principally fish molluscs crustaceans and marine algae It has seen phenomenal worldwide growth in the past fifty years and many people view it as the best solution for the provision of high quality protein to feed the world s growing population particularly with the rapid decline in wild marine fish populations Aquaculture now contributes approximately one third of the world s fish production and has increased by about eight per cent annually over the last thirty years while wild capture fishery production has remained static Focused on developing more sustainable aquaculture practices this book provides an ideal advanced level textbook It is based on extensive evidence and knowledge of best practices with guidance on appropriate adaptation and uptake in a variety of environmental geographic socio economic and political settings The author concentrates on low impact aquaculture systems and approaches which have minimal adverse effects on the environment He also emphasizes socially responsible and equitable aquaculture development to enhance the natural resource base and livelihoods Drawing on a range of case studies from around the world the objective is to show where progress in terms of developing ecologically sound and socially responsible forms of aquaculture has been made A tool box of approaches to support widespread adoption and appropriate adaptation of regenerating aquaculture strategies is provided ensuring the book will have practical relevance for both students and professionals Cape Wind Energy Project ,2009 The Army's Future Combat Systems Program and Alternatives ,2006 In today s environment of rapidly evolving conflicts the Army s goal is to have units that have the combat power of heavy units but that can be transported anywhere in the world in a matter of days To address concerns about the armored vehicle fleet s aging and the difficulties involved in transporting it as well as to equip the Army more suitably to conduct operations overseas on short notice using forces based in the United States the service created the Future Combat Systems FCS program in 2000 A major modernization effort the program is designed in part to develop and purchase vehicles to replace those now in the heavy forces the new vehicles would be much lighter thereby easing the deployment of units equipped with them In the analysis presented in this report the Congressional Budget Office CBO examined the current status of the Army s fleet of armored vehicles and assessed the speed of deployment of the service s heavy forces It also evaluated the FCS program considering the program s costs as well as its advantages and disadvantages and comparing it with several alternative plans for modernizing the Army s heavy forces Mauritius

International Monetary Fund,2011-05-04 Over the past two decades wide ranging structural reforms supported by prudent policies have established Mauritius as a top regional performer The Mauritian economy recovered in 2010 Real GDP growth is estimated to have accelerated to 4 percent 3 percent in 2009 driven by strong growth in fishing ICT and financial industries Against the backdrop of the European debt crisis and a depreciating Euro in mid 2010 the government adopted a second stimulus package Fiscal policy was less expansionary than originally envisaged

Environmental Assessment of the Areas Disengaged by Israel in the Gaza Strip United Nations Environment Programme,2006 This publication presents the findings of a survey carried out in 2005 by a UNEP team of eight experts to investigate and assess environmental risks or pollution in the Gaza Strip focusing on the 21 disengaged Israeli settlements and the Erez industrial site Using satellite imagery and reports about 100 areas of interest were identified including industrial buildings waste disposal sites agricultural plants and storage tanks Overall the report found that the environmental impact of the former Israeli settlements in the Gaza Strip was limited with the main concern being the amount of remaining asbestos in the rubble of demolished houses Once the rubble is removed asbestos disposed of in a safe manner and the identified areas of contamination are cleaned up there will be no environmental constraints to human settlement in these areas
