Racism on African American Families Paul C. Rosenblatt, 2016-03-03 In spite of the existence of statistics and numerical data on various aspects of African American life including housing earnings assets unemployment household violence teen pregnancy and encounters with the criminal justice system social science literature on how racism affects the everyday interactions of African American families is limited How does racism come home to and affect African American families If a father in an African American family is denied employment on the basis of his race or a wife is demeaned at work by racist slurs how is their family life affected Given the lack of social science literature responding to these questions this volume turns to an alternative source in order to address them literature Engaging with novels written by African American authors it explores their rich depictions of African American family life showing how these can contribute to our sociological knowledge and making the case for the novel as an object and source of social research As such it will appeal to scholars and students of the sociology of the family race and ethnicity cultural studies and literature Mothering While Black Dawn Marie Dow, 2019-03-05 Mothering While Black examines the complex lives of the African American middle class in particular black mothers and the strategies they use to raise their children to maintain class status while simultaneously defining and protecting their children's authentically black identities Sociologist Dawn Marie Dow shows how the frameworks typically used to research middle class families focus on white mothers' experiences inadequately capturing the experiences of African American middle and upper middle class mothers These limitations become apparent when Dow considers how these mothers apply different parenting strategies for black boys and for black girls and how they navigate different expectations about breadwinning and childrearing from the African American community At the intersection of race ethnicity gender work family and culture Mothering While Black sheds light on the exclusion of African American middle class mothers from the dominant cultural experience of middle class motherhood In doing so it reveals the painful truth of the decisions that black mothers must make to ensure the safety well being and future prospects of their children

The Black Family Lee N.

June, 1991 In the fifteen chapters that comprise this comprehensive look at the Black family today each of the contributors deals with an aspect of family life that pertains especially to the Black community The topics include the extended family single female parenting teenagers male female relationships the role of the church pastoral counseling marital counseling sexuality money management sexual abuse drug abuse and evangelizing the Black male Wade in the Water Jones, Arthur C., 2023-06-29 A study of African American spirituals which emerged out of slavery and reflect a blend of spirituality and yearning for liberation The Privileged Poor Anthony Abraham Jack, 2019-03-01 An NPR Favorite Book of the Year Breaks new ground on social and educational questions of great import Washington Post An essential work humane and candid that challenges and expands our understanding of the lives of contemporary college students Paul Tough author of Helping Children Succeed Eye opening Brings home the pain and reality of on campus poverty and puts the blame squarely on elite institutions Washington Post Jack's investigation redirects attention from the matter of access to the matter of inclusion His book challenges universities to support the diversity they indulge in advertising New Yorker The Ivy League looks different than it used to College presidents and deans of admission have opened their doors and their coffers to support a more diverse student body But is it enough just to admit these students In this bracing expos Anthony Jack shows that many students struggles continue long after they've settled in their dorms Admission they quickly learn is not the same as acceptance This powerfully argued book documents how university policies and campus culture can exacerbate preexisting inequalities and reveals why some students are harder hit than others The Complexity of Connection Judith V. Jordan, Linda M. Hartling, Maureen Walker, 2004-04-23 In this important third volume from the Stone Center at Wellesley College founding scholars and new voices expand and deepen the Center's widely embraced psychological theory of connection as the core of human growth and development Demonstrating the increasing sophistication of Relational Cultural Theory RCT the volume presents an absorbing and practical examination of connection and disconnection at both individual and societal levels Chapters explore how experiences of race ethnicity sexual orientation class and gender influence relationships and how people can connect across difference and disagreement Also discussed are practical implications of the theory for psychotherapy for the raising of sons and for workplace and organizational issues Space-Time Integration in Geography and GIScience Mei-Po Kwan, Douglas Richardson, Donggen Wang, Chenghu Zhou, 2014-09-18 Space time analysis is a rapidly growing research frontier in geography GIS and GIScience Advances in integrated GPS GIS technologies the availability of large datasets over time and space and increased capacity to manage integrate model and visualize complex data in near real time offer the GIS and geography communities extraordinary opportunities to begin to integrate sophisticated space time analysis and models in the study of complex environmental and social systems from climate change to infectious disease transmission This volume specifically focuses on research frontiers comparative research and research and application interactions in this field in the US and China arguably the two most dynamic loci for this work today The contributions to this book by top researchers in China and the US productively highlight the differences and similarities in approaches and directions for space time analysis in the two countries In light of the recent rapid progress in GIScience research on space time integration in both countries the book s focus on research frontiers in these two countries will attract great interest in both countries and in other parts of the world as well as among related disciplines In addition the book also explores the impact of collaborative research and publications underway in this area between the US and China and will provide an overview of these collaborative efforts and programs This book will not only be of interest to university based GIS researchers and students but also to those interested in this new area of research and applications like researchers and developers in business internet mapping and GIS and location based services LBS

Ideating Pedagogy in Troubled Times Shalin Lena Raye, Stephanie Masta, Sarah Taylor Cook, Jake Burdick, 2019-10-01 We began the call for this book by asking authors to ideate on activism to take up and seek to extend the interbraided values from the Curriculum and Pedagogy group s espoused mission and vision collocating activist ideologies theoretical traditions and practical orientations as a means of creatively reflectively and productively responding to the increasingly dire social moment This moment is framed by a landscape denigrated beyond even Pinar s 2004 original declaration of the present as nightmare The current catastrophic political climate provides challenges and albeit scant opportunities for curriculum scholars and workers as we reflect on past and future directions of our field and grapple with our locations and roles as educators researchers practitioners and beings in the world These troubled times force us to think critically about our scholarship and pedagogy our influence on educational practices in multiple registers and the surrounding communities we claim to serve This is where the call began from a desire to think through modern conceptions regarding what counts as activism in the fields of education curriculum and pedagogy and to consider how activist voices and enactments might emerge differently through curriculum and pedagogy writ large A guiding source of inspiration for this book weaving among the emerging themes between the collected manuscripts reflections and poems was a passage in Sara Ahmed s 2013 book The Cultural Politics of Emotion In this passage Ahmed works through the complicated relationship between the testimonies of pain that injustice causes the recognition of this pain and the potential of these wounds to move us into a different relationship with healing p 200 The chapters reflections and poems within this volume thus effect a collective ideation on how specific cultural politics and deleterious ideological formations racism colonialism homophobia ableism to name only a few persist and mobilize The authors seek to expose and name some of these injustices asking readers not only see and hear these experiences but to inhabit our complicities in their promulgation It is important to acknowledge that these named social troubles do not exist in isolation and will enmesh weave wind and entangle with one another The section headings parallel Ahmed s 2013 own ideations testimony recognition and wounds not as a formula to follow as an activist call or as a model for a means to a more just end but as a way to engage in these issues as a trope of activist confrontation of readers who are as many of our authors suggest complicit in maintaining many of these social troubles The chapters do not need to be read in any particular order though the ordering of the chapters moves from the naming of social troubles to showing how teaching research and theory ask us to take a more active role in recognizing and acknowledging the prevalence of these issues and then theorizing ways to engage the wounds

Represent Patricia A. Banks, 2009-12-16 Patricia A Banks traverses the New York and Atlanta art worlds to uncover how black identities are cultivated through black art patronage Drawing on over 100 in depth interviews observations at arts events and photographs of art displayed in homes Banks elaborates a racial identity theory of consumption that highlights how upper middle class blacks forge black identities for themselves and their children through the consumption of black visual art She not only challenges common assumptions about elite cultural participation but also contributes to the heated debate about the significance of race for elite blacks and illuminates recent art world developments In doing so Banks documents how the salience of race extends into the cultural life of even the most socioeconomically successful blacks

African American Family Life Vonnie C. McLoyd, Nancy E. Hill, Kenneth A. Dodge, 2005-09-26 This volume brings together leading experts from different disciplines to offer new perspectives on contemporary African American families A wealth of knowledge is presented on the heterogeneity of Black family life today the challenges and opportunities facing parents children and communities and the impact on health and development of key cultural and social processes Comprehensive and authoritative the book critically evaluates current policies and service delivery models and sets forth cogent recommendations for supporting families strengths Following an overview that traces the ongoing evolution of theory and research in the field the book examines how African American families fare on numerous indicators of well being Throughout contributors identify factors that promote or hinder healthy child and family development writing from a culturally sensitive nonpathologizing stance The concluding chapter provides an up to date framework for culturally competent mental health practice

Women's Growth in Diversity Judith V. Jordan, 1997-03-15 Essays discussing women's psychological development examine the experiences of women from diverse backgrounds

Handbook of the Sociology of Racial and Ethnic Relations Pinar Batur, Joe R. Feagin, 2018-06-11 The study of racial and ethnic relations has become one of the most written about aspects in sociology and sociological research In both North America and Europe many traditional cultures are feeling threatened by immigrants from Latin America Africa and Asia This handbook is a true international collaboration looking at racial and ethnic relations from an academic perspective It starts from the principle that sociology is at the hub of the human sciences concerned with racial and ethnic relations

Souls Looking Back Andrew Garrod, Janie Victoria Ward, Tracy L. Robinson, Robert Kilkenny, 2002-09-11 Most of what is written these days about young black men and women emphasizes incarceration and mortality rates teen pregnancy drug use and domestic strife This collection of sixteen autobiographical essays by African Americans Africans in America Afro Caribbean and biracial college students who have tackled significant obstacles to achieve success and degrees of self understanding offers a broader more hopeful portrait of the adolescent experiences of minority youth Here are emotionally honest and reflective stories of economic hardship racial bias loneliness and anger but also of positive role models spiritual awakening perseverance and racial pride In these essays students explore the process of self discovery and the realization of cultural identity The pieces are accompanied by commentary from prominent African American scholars such as Jewelle Taylor Gibbs and Peter C Murrell Jr Together they create a vivid portrait of what it is like to grow up as a black person in America and offer a springboard to current debates about self discovery cultural identity and assimilation Often raw and painful always honest and affecting this collection of personal stories written by young people stands as an eloquent tribute to the courage of today s youth and to the power of their own words

Diverse Histories of American Sociology Anthony Blasi,2005-06-01 This volume presents views of American sociology from minority groups and important intellectual movements that did not merge into the mainstream Coinciding with the centenary of the American Sociological Association it provides little known background information to the development of the field A first section highlights tensions between impartial scientific sociology and scientific social reform A second section uncovers the experiences of female African American and Latino pioneers in the field as well as a sociologist from a religious minority A third section traces the organizational history of the field including gendered racial regional and outsider perspectives A final section focuses on several neglected trajectories With this volume American sociology can be seen in its full context

An Introduction to Black Studies Eric R. Jackson,2023-01-31 For years the American public education system has neglected to fully examine and discuss the rich history of people of African descent who have played a pivotal role in the transformation of the United States The establishment of Black studies departments and programs represented a major victory for higher education and a vindication of Black scholars such as W E B Du Bois and Nathan Huggins This emerging field sought to address omissions from numerous disciplines as well as myriad distortions stereotypes and myths In An Introduction to Black Studies Eric R Jackson demonstrates the continuing need for Black studies also known as African American studies in university curricula Jackson connects the growth and impact of Black studies to the broader context of social justice movements emphasizing the historical and contemporary demand for the discipline This book features seventeen chapters that focus on the primary eight disciplines of Black studies history sociology psychology religion feminism education political science and the arts Each chapter includes a biographical vignette of an important figure in African American history such as Frederick Douglass Louis Armstrong and Madam C J Walker as well as student learning objectives that provide a starting point for educators This valuable work speaks to the strength and rigor of the field its importance to the formal educational process and its relevance to the United States and the world
