If Not Us Frank Tayell, If not us who If not now when As the much depleted United Nations meets in Canberra the scale of the global catastrophe becomes clear The tsunami left Brisbane a flooded ruin Vanuatu has disappeared The Madagascan evacuation has failed Vancouver has been reduced to a radioactive crater For as far west as Mozambique as far to the east as Chile and as far north as Canada the world is a catalogue of devastation From the Atlantic there has been no news since the early days of the outbreak four weeks ago With the satellite networks down searching for survivors is difficult With the relief fleets destroyed rescue is impossible While the fallout is still settling the collective minds of the refugees in Australia focus on rebuilding as a distraction from the rising risk of radiation and extinction Commissioner Tess Qwong has a different duty She must find those responsible for this ultimate crime against humanity Her investigation into the failed coup provides the identity of those behind the outbreak and the location of their lab With her misfit group of Special Forces and civilian conscripts she heads to Mozambique There a New Zealand frigate will take them on into the unknown dangers of the Atlantic But while they hunt the radioactive seas for the war criminals below the waves their enemy is hunting for them From Perth to

Panama from South Africa to South America from paradise islands to radioactive wastelands the battle against extinction continues Cultural Sustainability in Rural Communities Catherine Driscoll, Kate Darian-Smith, David

Nichols, 2017-07-06 There has been a recent expansion of interest in cultural approaches to rural communities and to the economic and social situation of rurality more broadly This interest has been particularly prominent in Australia in recent years spurring the emergence of an interdisciplinary field called rural cultural studies This collection is framed by a large interdisciplinary research project that is part of that emergence particularly focused on what the idea of cultural sustainability might mean for understanding experiences of growth decline change and heritage in small Australian country towns However it extends beyond the initial parameters of that research bringing together a range of senior and emerging Australian researchers who offer diverse approaches to rural culture The essays collected here explore the diverse forms that rural cultural studies might take and how these intersect with other disciplinary approaches offering a uniquely diverse but also careful account of life in country Australia Yet in its emphasis on the simultaneous specificity and cross cultural recognisability of rural communities this book also outlines a field of inquiry and a set of critical strategies that are more broadly applicable to thinking about the rural in the early twenty first century This book will be valuable reading for students and academics of Geography History Literary Studies Cultural Studies Anthropology and Sociology introducing rural cultural studies as a new dynamic and integrative discipline Lonely Planet Australia's Best Trips Lonely Planet, Anthony
