Coy, 2011-01-12 Part of the Research in Social Movements Conflicts and Change series this title contains three sections of data driven articles that address topics central to scholarship on social movements and conflict resolution It also showcases research on a variety of movements organizations and conflicts in ways that contribute to theory building People of the Dream Michael O. Emerson, 2010-12-16 It is sometimes said that the most segregated time of the week in the United States is Sunday morning Even as workplaces and public institutions such as the military have become racially integrated racial separation in Christian religious congregations is the norm And yet some congregations remain stubbornly racially mixed People of the Dream is the most complete study of this phenomenon ever undertaken Author Michael Emerson explores such questions as how do racially mixed congregations come together How are they sustained Who attends them how did they get there and what are their experiences Engagingly written the book enters the worlds of these congregations through national surveys and in depth studies of those attending racially mixed churches Data for the book was collected over seven years by the author and his research team It includes more than 2 500 telephone interviews hundreds of written surveys and extensive visits to mixed race congregations throughout the United States People of the Dream argues that multiracial congregations are bridge organizations that gather and facilitate cross racial friendships disproportionately housing people who have substantially more racially diverse social networks than do other Americans The book concludes that multiracial congregations and the people in them may be harbingers of racial change to come in the United States Leading in Black and White Ancella Livers, Keith Caver, 2003-02-03 Many blacks in the workplace face a set of dynamics unique to being African American in a traditionally white male dominated world In this landmark book authors Ancella Livers and Keith Caver co facilitators of the Center for Creative Leadership s African American Leadership Program for the past five years explain how the leadership experience for blacks is radically different from the experiences of their white colleagues These differences of which most white managers are unaware can lead to miscues and distortions in communication and ultimately get in the way of effective performance and optimal productivity for organizations In Leading in Black and White the authors not only clearly explain how things go wrong they also provide sensible solutions for both the white manager and the black manager on how to make them right The Harvard Guide to African-American History Evelyn Brooks

Track Two Diplomacy in Theory and Practice Peter Jones, 2015-09-02 Jones provides a nuanced perspective on both the promise and limits of this unheralded form of unofficial diplomacy Stephen J Del Rosso Director International Peace and Security Carnegie Corporation of New York Track Two diplomacy consists of informal dialogues among actors such as academics religious leaders retired senior officials and NGO officials that can bring new ideas and new relationships to the official process of diplomacy Sadly those involved in official diplomacy often have little understanding of and appreciation for the complex and nuanced role that Track Two can play or for its limitations And many Track Two practitioners are often unaware of the realities and pressures of the policy and diplomatic worlds and not particularly adept at framing their efforts to make them accessible to hard pressed officials At the same time those interested in the academic study of Track Two sometimes fail to understand the realities faced by either set of practitioners A need therefore exists for a work to bridge the divides between these constituencies and between the different types of Track Two practice and this book crosses disciplines and traditions in order to do just that It explores the various dimensions and guises of Track Two the theory and practice of how they work and how both practitioners and academics could more profitably assess Track Two Overall it provides a comprehensive picture of the range of activities pursued under this title to provoke new thinking about how these activities relate to each other to official diplomacy and to academe This book will be a classic that defines the field of Track Two diplomacy an exemplary work Esra Cuhadar Bilkent University

Corporate Tribalism Thomas Kochman, Jean Mavrelis, 2009-08-01 The 2008 elections shattered historical precedents and pushed race and gender back to the forefront of our national consciousness The wide range of reactions to the efforts of Barack Obama Hillary Clinton and Sarah Palin dramatically reflected ongoing conflicts over diversity in our society especially in the venue where people are most likely to encounter them work As more and more people who aren't white men enter corporate America we urgently need to learn how to avoid clashes over these issues and how to resolve them when they do occur Thomas Kochman and Jean Mavrelis have been helping corporations successfully do that for over twenty years Their diversity training and consulting firm has helped managers and employees at numerous companies recognize and overcome the cultural bases of miscommunication between ethnic groups and across gender lines and in Corporate Tribalism they seek to share their expertise with the world In the first half of the book Kochman addresses white men explicating the ways that their cultural background can motivate their behavior work style and perspective on others Then Mavrelis turns to white women focusing on the particular problems they face including conflicts with men other women and themselves Together they emphasize the need for a multicultural rather than homogenizing approach and offer constructive ideas for turning the workplace into a more interactive community for everyone who works there Written with the wisdom and clarity gained from two decades of hands on work Corporate Tribalism will be an invaluable resource as we look toward a future beyond the glass ceiling Communication, Race, and Family Thomas J. Latino students performing less well than their Asian and White peers in classes and on exams Researchers have argued that African American and Latino students who rebel against acting white doom themselves to lower levels of scholastic economic and social achievement In Keepin It Real School Success beyond Black and White Prudence Carter turns the conventional wisdom on its head arguing that what is needed is a broader recognition of the unique cultural styles and practices that non white students bring to the classroom Based on extensive interviews and surveys of students in New York she demonstrates that the most successful negotiators of our school systems are the multicultural navigators culturally savvy teens who draw from multiple traditions whether it be knowledge of hip hop or of classical music to achieve their high ambitions Keepin it Real refutes the common wisdom about teenage behavior and racial difference and shows how intercultural communication rather than assimilation can help close the black white gap
