Black Beach:

White Sand Black Beach Bush, Gregory W, 2016-07-20 Florida Historical Society Harry T and Harriette V Moore Award Florida Book Awards Silver Medal for Florida Nonfiction In May 1945 activists staged a wade in at a whites only beach in Miami protesting the Jim Crow era laws that denied blacks access to recreational waterfront areas Pressured by protestors in this first postwar civil rights demonstration the Dade County Commission ultimately designated the difficult to access Virginia Key as a beach for African Americans The beach became vitally important to the community offering a place to congregate with family and friends and to enjoy the natural wonders of the area It was also a tangible victory in the continuing struggle for civil rights in public space As Florida beaches were later desegregated many viewed Virginia Key as symbolic of an oppressive past and ceased to patronize it At the same time white leaders responded to desegregation by decreasing attention to and funding for public spaces in general The beach was largely ignored and eventually shut down In White Sand Black Beach historian and longtime Miami activist Gregory Bush recounts this unique story and the current state of the public waterfront in Miami Recently environmentalists community leaders and civil rights activists have come together to revitalize the beach and Bush highlights the potential to stimulate civic engagement in public planning processes While local governments defer to booster and lobbying interests pushing for destination casinos and boat shows Bush calls for a land ethic that connects people to the local environment He seeks to shift the local political divisions beyond established interest groups and neoliberalism to a broader vision that simplifies human needs and reconnects people to fundamental values such as health A place of fellowship relaxation and interaction with nature this beach Bush argues offers a common ground of hope for a better future

The Stories of Building the Black Beach Community of Ocean City, North Carolina Hope W. Jackson, 2021-11-16 The Stories of Building the Black Beach Community of Ocean City North Carolina shares a provocative story about a small Black beach community on North Topsail Island North Carolina Hope Jackson argues that stories like these not only offer a rich untold perspective about Black lives but also shares the depth of this Black community despite originating under the threat of violence in the segregated South Brick by Brick acknowledges the defiance of a group of Black individuals who collectively provided a recreational oceanfront haven These radical Black folks created a safe harbor for Blacks to visit live worship and recreate in the midst of de facto segregation The author reveals an embedded narrative which highlights the rebelliousness of Ocean City women s strategic mothering Jackson shares how the impact of this location extended beyond a vacation by creating Christian worship opportunities and an Episcopal summer youth camp for Black youth The Ocean City stories remind readers that despite Jim Crow s demise the need for a safe recreational space remains necessary for Black people in today s society

Scarred Landscapes Stephanie Lewthwaite, 2025-09-30 Scarred Landscapes is a groundbreaking exploration of the rich and complex works of Caribbean Latinx artists. Scholar Stephanie Lewthwaite documents the work of ten influential artists of Cuban, Dominican, and Puerto Rican descent based in New York City from the 1970s to the present. Through their diverse practices including painting, printmaking, photography, sculpture, installation, video, and performance art, these artists confront the legacies of colonial trauma and their own experiences of diasporic unbelonging and artworld marginality. The book combines formal analysis with artist testimony, exhibition histories, and theoretical frameworks from trauma, memory, and archipelagic studies to offer a multifaceted examination of Caribbean Latinx art. Lewthwaite explores how these artists practice archipelagic memory, a generative decolonial and coalitional form of memory work that envisions alternative modes of belonging in difference and solidarity with others. By connecting different people, pasts, and places, Caribbean Latinx artists expose the reverberations of trauma while imagining other worlds beyond it. This work puts Caribbean Latinx artists at the center of debates about the exclusions of dominant memory narratives and contemporary art worlds, highlighting their contributions to a wider decolonial project of remembrance. By revealing the interconnectedness of traumatic histories and the potential for art to foster empathy and justice, Lewthwaite's work underscores the importance of relational and decolonial thought for imagining a better society.

African American Sites in Florida Kevin M. McCarthy, 2019-07-24 African Americans have risen from the slave plantations of nineteenth-century Florida to become the heads of corporations and members of Congress in the twenty-first century. They have played an important role in making Florida the successful state it is today. This book takes you on a tour through the 67 counties of the sites that commemorate the role of African Americans in Florida's history. If we can learn more about our past, both the good and the not so good, we can make better decisions in the future. Behind the hundreds of sites in this book are the courageous African Americans like Brevard County's Malissa Moore who hosted many Saturday night dinners to raise money to build a church, and Miami Dade's Gedar Walker who built the first-rate Lyric Theater for black performers. And of course also featured are the more famous black Floridians like Zora Neale Hurston, Jackie Robinson, Mary McCleod Bethune, and Ray Charles.
