African Literature Jonathan P.

Smithe, 2002 African literature like the continent itself is enormous and diverse East Africa's literature is different from West Africa's which is quite different from South Africa's which has different influences on it than North Africa's Africa's literature is based on a widespread heritage of oral literature some of which has now been recorded Arabic influence can be detected as well as European especially French and English Legends myths proverbs riddles and folktales form the mother load of the oral literature This book presents an overview of African literature as well as a comprehensive bibliography primarily of English language sources Accessed by subject author and title indexes Land and Nationalism in Fictions from Southern Africa James Graham, 2011-01-13 By employing a range of critical perspectives cultural materialist feminist and ecocritical Graham investigates the relation between land and nationalism in South African and Zimbabwean fiction from the 1960s to the present This study discusses a wide range of writing including novels by Coetzee Gordimer Head Hove and Vera The Companion to African Literatures G. D. Killam, Ruth Rowe, 2010 A comprehensive guide to works by African authors that were written in English this volume features entries in an alphabetical format on authors titles literary genres movements influences and connections and wider themes This comprehensive compendium will be a handy companion for anyone working on African literatures The entries are authoritative and up to date providing information on the hundreds of authors and texts that have contributed to a whole continent's literary flowering Killam and Rowe have left no stone unturned Bernth Lindfors North America Indiana U Press cloth edition South African Theatre as/and Intervention, 2021-11-22 One of the most striking features of cultural life in South Africa has been the extent to which one area of cultural practice theatre has more than any other testified to the present condition of the country now in transition between its colonial past and a decolonized future But in what sense and how far does the critical force of theatre in South Africa as a mode of intervention continue In the immediate post election moment theatre seemed to be pursuing an escapist nostalgic route relieved of its historical burden of protest and opposition But as the contributors to this volume show new voices have been emerging and a more complex politics of the theatre involving feminist and gay initiatives physical theatre festival theatre and theatre for education has become apparent Both new and familiar players in South African theatre studies from around the world here respond to or anticipate the altered conditions of the country while exploring the notion that theatre continues to intervene This broad focus enables a wide and stimulating range of approaches contributors examine strategies of intervention among audiences theatres established and fledgling writers canonical and new texts traditional and innovative critical perspectives The book concludes with four recent interviews with influential practitioners about the meaning and future of theatre in South Africa Athol Fugard Fatima Dike Reza de Wet and Janet Suzman The Columbia Guide to East African Literature in English Since 1945 Simon Gikandi, Evan Mwangi, 2007 The Columbia Guide to East African Literature in English Since 1945 challenges the conventional belief that the English language literary traditions of East Africa are restricted to the former British colonies of Kenya Uganda and Tanzania Instead these traditions stretch far into such neighboring countries as

Somalia and Ethiopia Simon Gikandi and Evan Mwangi assemble a truly inclusive list of major writers and trends They begin with a chronology of key historical events and an overview of the emergence and transformation of literary culture in the region Then they provide an alphabetical list of major writers and brief descriptions of their concerns and achievements Some of the writers discussed include the Kenyan novelists Grace Ogot and Ngugi wa Thiong'o Ugandan poet and essayist Taban Lo Liyong Ethiopian playwright and poet Tsegaye Gabre Medhin Tanzanian novelist and diplomat Peter Palangyo Ethiopian novelist Berhane Mariam Sahle Sellassie and the novelist M G Vassanji who portrays the Indian diaspora in Africa Europe and North America Separate entries within this list describe thematic concerns such as colonialism decolonization the black aesthetic and the language question the growth of genres like autobiography and popular literature important movements like cultural nationalism and feminism and the impact of major forces such as AIDS HIV Christian missions and urbanization Comprehensive and richly detailed this guide offers a fresh perspective on the role of East Africa in the development of African and world literature in English and a new understanding of the historical cultural and geopolitical boundaries of the region and class bias Unlike most references on Africa that concentrate on collection development this unique book focuses on the study of Africa making it a must have for academic librarians Africanist scholars and Africana librarians Specialists generalist librarians and end users all depend on tools designed to provide access to information in libraries and on the web including OPACs databases and search engines In this book these tools research methods and the accessibility of information on Africa are examined offering students and professionals a thorough guide to the most successful researching route Research Reference Services and Resources for the Study of Africa provides assistance in the research process according to a variety of categories including evaluating OPACs and similar databases for known item searching using keywords subject headings bias indexing full text searching terminology cataloguing user centered information services and other search strategies to find what you are looking for using Internet resources to your advantage using the partnerships between the U S and African libraries and scholarly institutions to help improve information access using techniques for reference librarians to act as a force increasing women s roles in the study of Africa and much more Research Reference Services and Resources for the Study of Africa offers all the information necessary to avoid research hang ups that affect the study of Africa and the necessary information to pass these skills on to students Neo-Imperialism in Children's Literature About Africa

Yulisa Amadu Maddy,Donnarae MacCann,2008-12-28 In this book the authors expose the neo imperialist overtones of contemporary children s fiction about Africa Examining the portrayal of African social customs religious philosophies and political structures in fiction for young people Maddy and MacCann reveal the Western biases that often infuse stories by well known Western authors North-south Linkages and Connections in Continental and Diaspora African Literatures

African Literature Association. Meeting,2005 This volume collects some of the best lectures at the African Literature Association s 25th annual conference held in 1999 The conference brought together for the first time a large number of scholars creative writers and artists from Northern Africa and their counterparts from Sub Saharan Africa The conference and this collection highlight the inspiring and stimulating dialogue between two literary and cultural areas that have often been artificially compartmentalised The essays draw suprising connections and illustrate the breadth and dynamism of African literature Companion to the New Literatures in English Christa Jansohn,2002 Urbanization and African Cultures Toyin Falola,Steven J. Salm,2005

Urbanization and African Cultures affirms the centrality of African cities in the modernization of African cultures showing how many have become firmly established in their settings and reflecting the impact of globalization Cities are presented as centers of culture and power and as powerful agencies that provide opportunities to generate new ideas The book shows how cities empower Africans with the opportunity to assert themselves to use culture to assert individual freedom and dignity to articulate ideas of ethnicity and group solidarity to portray class and even to show off poverty V aluable attention is paid to cities and urban phenomena off the paths beaten by most Western trained scholars African Studies Review This book successfully introduces readers to a range of cases that show the creative translocal processes taking place on the ground in African cities The International Journal of African Historical Studies Same and Other Mai Palmberg, Maria Eriksson Baaz, 2001 The idea of African Otherness has occupied a central role in discourses on cultural production in Africa whether film literature music or the arts These claims articulated both by Western and African critics and consumers means that particular criteria and standards are adopted in relation to cultural production in Africa The claim to African Otherness is gaining new strength in the wake of globalization but it is also increasingly challenged by a number of contemporary artists This book deals with the question of relevance and meaning of the signifier in various fields of contemporary cultural production in Africa
