Black and White Elites in Rural Rhodesia, 1973 Peasant Consciousness and Guerilla War in Zimbabwe Terence O. Ranger, T. O.

Ranger, 1985-01-01 Zimbabwe, a Country Study United States. Department of the Army, 1983 Gendering the Settler State Kate Law, 2015-11-06 White women cut an ambivalent figure in the transnational history of the British Empire They tend to be remembered as malicious haridans personifying the worst excesses of colonialism as vacuous fusspots whose lives were punctuated by a series of frivolous pastimes or as casualties of patriarchy constrained by male actions and gendered ideologies This book which places itself amongst other new imperial histories argues that the reality of the situation is of course much more intricate and complex Focusing on post war colonial Rhodesia Gendering the Settler State provides a fine grained analysis of the role s of white women in the colonial enterprise arguing that they held ambiguous and inconsistent views on a variety of issues including liberalism gender race and colonialism

Coloniality of Power in Postcolonial Africa Sabelo J. Ndlovu-Gatsheni, 2013 In this book the author examines the current state of postcolonial Africa with a focus on the liberation predicament and the crisis of epistemological cultural economic and political dependence created by colonialism and coloniality

The Moral Economy of the State William A. Munro, 1998 The Moral Economy of the State examines state formation in Zimbabwe from the colonial period through the first decade of independence Drawing on the works of Gramsci E P Thompson and James Scott William Munro develops a theory of moral economy that explores negotiations between rural citizens and state agents over legitimate state incursions in social life This analysis demonstrates how states try to shape the meanings of citizenship for agrarian populations by redefining conceptions of the public good property rights and community membership The book s focus on the moral economy of the state offers a refreshing perspective on the difficulties experienced by postcolonial African states in building stronger state and rural institutions

Proceedings, American Philosophical Society (vol. 122, No. 1, 1978) , African Farmers in Rhodesia A K H Weinrich, 2018-09-03 Originally published in 1975 this book analyses the factors making for success and failure in agricultural development among black Zimbabweans during the 20th century A detailed analysis is given of 2 tribal trust lands including government policies and administrative control of these areas voluntary and forced adjustment to land shortage and the economic resources and productivity of peasant cultivators Settlements under individual land tenure are examined as are government policies to these the internal transformation of these communities and their economic resources and productivity There is also a section on irrigation schemes and the reaction of people to irrigation farming This is an indispensable book in understanding the present day situation of agriculture in Zimbabwe Transforming Settler States Ronald Weitzer,2023-11-15 In the past two decades several settler regimes have collapsed and others seem increasingly vulnerable This study examines the rise and demise of two settler states with particular emphasis on the role of repressive institutions of law and order Drawing on field research in Northern Ireland and Zimbabwe Ronald Weitzer traces developments in internal security structures before and after major political transitions He concludes that thoroughgoing transformation of a repressive security apparatus seems to be an essential but often overlooked precondition for genuine democracy In an instructive comparative analysis Weitzer points out the divergent development of initially similar governmental systems For instance since independence in 1980 the government of Zimbabwe has retained and fortified basic features of the legal and organizational machinery of control inherited from the white Rhodesian state and has used this apparatus to neutralize obstacles to the installation of a one party state In contrast though liberalization is far from complete The British government has succeeded in reforming important features of the old security system since the abrupt termination of Protestant Unionist rule in Northern Ireland in 1972 The study makes a novel contribution to the scholarly literature on transitions from authoritarianism to democracy in its fresh emphasis on the pivotal role of police military and intelligence agencies in shaping political developments This title is part of UC Press s Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press s mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1990 An Ethnography of Knowledge Netsayi Noris Mudege,2008 The book analyses how social processes impact on knowledge production and dissemination investigates how differences between actors impact on knowledge dissemination and appropriation explores how existing knowledge frameworks affect knowledge analysis and acceptance and how people bridge the gap between outside and local forms of knowledge Natural Resource-Based Conflicts in Rural Zimbabwe Joshua Matanzima,Patience Chadambuka,Kirk Helliker,2024-08-02 This book investigates the range of conflicts over land and other natural resources in contemporary Zimbabwe considering the different forms these conflicts take and the ensuing outcomes Zimbabwe is a country rich in natural resources including land wildlife minerals and water resources These resources are integral to the formal and informal livelihoods of most Zimbabweans as well as supporting many key industries Wildlife land and water resources are also embedded in indigenous knowledge systems religious beliefs and rituals in many rural communities forming an important part of people s identity and sense of belonging However this book demonstrates the ways in which rural communities are being denied access to these resources and being displaced by extractive companies and the government Their response is often to turn to violence to try to reclaim their lands Drawing on original empirical research from different conflicts across Zimbabwe the book also considers the issue in the context of problems such as climate change human wildlife conflicts and politico economic crises This book will be useful to policy makers students conservationists and academics across the fields of sociology human geography development political science and environment studies
