Alone Through The Roaring Forties:

Alone Through the Roaring Forties Vito Dumas, 2003-04 Alone Through the Roaring Forties is the story of Vito Dumas's wartime voyage from Argentina eastward around the globe in the 31 foot canoe sterned ketch Lehg II. By any measure it was a remarkable unprecedented voyage over what Dumas justly called the impossible route south of the Cape of Good Hope south of Australia south of Cape Horn. Leaving Buenos Aires in June 1942 he made the 20 000 mile voyage singlehanded becoming the first to do so. He was also the first solo sailor to round Cape Horn and survive and the first to sail around the world with only three landfalls. Dumas completed his high latitude voyage through the great Southern Ocean where prevailing westerly gales push huge seas unimpeded around and around the bottom of the globe. His gear and provisions were makeshift; he suffered inordinately because his tattered clothing provided no protection from the cold wind and water but his boat though very small was tough and well mannered. He was awarded the Slocum Prize in 1957 to honour the extraordinary voyages made by the greatest solitary navigator in the world. Alone Through the Roaring Forties was first published in Spanish then in French and finally Alone Through the Roaring Forties Vito Dumas, 1960 Cruising World, 1982-07 Winter in Fireland Nicholas Coghlan, 2012-08-15 After tough assignments as a Canadian diplomat abroad Nicholas Coghlan and his wife Jenny unwind by sailing Bosun Bird a 27 foot sailboat from Cape Town South Africa across the South Atlantic and into the stormy winter waters around Tierra del Fuego South America. Coghlan recounts earlier adventures in Patagonia when taking time off from his job as a schoolteacher in Buenos Aires in the late 1970s he and Jenny explored the region of southern Argentina and Chile over three successive summers. This time as they negotiate the labyrinth of channels and inlets around snow covered Fireland he reflects on voyages of past explorers Magellan Cook Darwin and others. Sailing enthusiasts and readers of true adventures will want to add Coghlan's world wise narrative to their libraries.

Sailing Alone Richard J. King, 2023-09-07 An exceptional book Sailing Alone belongs on the very small shelf of the true classics of the sea. Peter Nichols author of Sea Change and A Voyage for Madmen Colourful and inventive The Times Sailing on a boat by yourself out at sea and out of sight of land can be exhilarating or terrifying compelling or tedious sometimes it can be all of these things just in one morning. It is an adventure at odds with our normal sociable lives carried out floating on a medium wholly inimical to our existence. But the deep ocean is also a remarkable place on which to think. Richard King's enormously engaging and curious new book is about the debt we owe to solo sailors women and men young and old who have set out alone. Spending weeks and months alone slowly quietly and close to the ocean surface is to create the world's largest laboratory an endlessly changing capricious and startling place in which to observe oneself the weather the stars and myriad sea creatures from the tiniest to the most massive and threatening. This is a book for anyone who is fascinated by sailing.

solitude and the vast seas that cover so much of our planet Ancient Ocean Crossings Stephen C. Jett, 2017-06-06 Paints a compelling picture of impressive pre Columbian cultures and Old World civilizations that contrary to many prevailing notions were not isolated from one another In Ancient Ocean Crossings Reconsidering the Case for Contacts with the Pre Columbian Americas Stephen Jett encourages readers to reevaluate the common belief that there was no significant interchange between the chiefdoms and civilizations of Eurasia and Africa and peoples who occupied the alleged terra incognita beyond the great oceans More than a hundred centuries separate the time that Ice Age hunters are conventionally thought to have crossed a land bridge from Asia into North America and the arrival of Columbus in the Bahamas in 1492 Traditional belief has long held that earth's two hemispheres were essentially cut off from one another as a result of the post Pleistocene meltwater fed rising oceans that covered that bridge The oceans along with arctic climates and daunting terrestrial distances formed impermeable barriers to interhemispheric communication This viewpoint implies that the cultures of the Old World and those of the Americas developed independently Drawing on abundant and concrete evidence to support his theory for significant pre Columbian contacts Jett suggests that many ancient peoples had both the seafaring capabilities and the motives to cross the oceans and in fact did so repeatedly and with great impact His deep and broad work synthesizes information and ideas from archaeology geography linguistics climatology oceanography ethnobotany genetics medicine and the history of navigation and seafaring making an innovative and persuasive multidisciplinary case for a new understanding of human societies and their diffuse but interconnected development Cruising World , 1983-07 The Sea in the Literary Imagination Ekaterina V. Kobeleva, Ben P. Robertson, Shannon W. Thompson, 2019-01-03 This collection explores nautical themes in a variety of literary contexts from multiple cultures Including contributors from five continents it emphasizes the universality of human experience with the sea while focusing on literature that spans a millennium stretching from medieval romance to the twenty first century reimagining of classic literary texts in film These fresh essays engage in discussions of literature from the UK the USA India Chile Turkey Spain Japan Colombia and the Caribbean Scholars of maritime literature will find the collection interesting for the unique insights it offers on individual literary texts while general readers will be intrigued by the interconnectedness that it reveals in human experience with the sea Solo around Cape Horn Edward Allcard, 2016-12-31 The year is 1966 and a pioneering English yachtsman heads south alone towards Cape Horn and into a territory unknown to yachtsmen This is the tale of a wilderness cruise on the desert coast of Argentina and in the snowy Chilean fjords but between the two halves at the summit of the adventure is the story of a sailor fighting for his life Last Voyages Nicholas Gray, 2017-01-06 Looking back at the lives and sailing careers of some of our lifetime's finest yachtsmen this collection of eleven original moving accounts is just as much a celebration of the good tales of hope achievement and courageous spirit as it is an account of their tragic final voyages Included are world renowned racers like Eric Tabarly and Rob James highly experienced cruisers and adventurers like Peter Tangvald and Bill Tilman and the notoriously ill prepared Donald Crowhurst as well as other famous and some less well known sailors Starting with the sad loss of Frank Davison and Reliance in 1949 the book concludes with the amazing last voyage of Philip Walwyn in 2015 crossing the Atlantic single handed in his 12 Metre yacht Kate All of the men and women described were friends with or known to the author Nicholas Gray who himself competed in several short handed long distance races where he met and raced against many of these fascinating characters Peppered with photographs showcasing the sailors and their yachts this is a refreshing look at those who have helped to shape this sport s history honouring their lives and accomplishments before detailing their tragic last voyages
