On the Heights Berthold Auerbach, 2022-09-16 In On the Heights Berthold Auerbach masterfully weaves a tapestry of Jewish life and culture in 19th century Europe encapsulating the struggles aspirations and triumphs of his characters against the backdrop of societal change Auerbach employs a rich poetic style imbuing the narrative with vivid imagery and emotional depth while also reflecting the influence of Romanticism The novel unfolds in a rural village illustrating the interplay between tradition and modernity showcasing the resilience of the human spirit as it grapples with displacement and identity in a rapidly evolving world Born in 1812 in Germany Auerbach's own experiences as a Jewish intellectual in a time marked by both enlightenment and prejudice deeply informed his writing His nuanced understanding of the social dynamics and cultural heritage of his people allows him to portray their experiences with authenticity and compassion Auerbach was also notable for advocating for Jewish rights and addressing the social injustices faced by minorities themes that reverberate throughout his work including this poignant narrative On the Heights is highly recommended for readers interested in exploring the intersection of culture identity and social change Auerbach's richly crafted prose and profound insights into human nature will resonate with anyone seeking a deeper understanding of the complexities of life during a transformative era in history On the Heights Berthold Auerbach, 1876 The Foreign Quarterly Review, 1836 The New Abelard Robert Buchanan, 2020-08-04 Reproduction of the original The New Abelard by Robert Buchanan The Gentleman's Magazine, 1884 Shaping the Normative Landscape David Owens, 2012-09-20 Shaping the Normative Landscape is an investigation of the value of obligations and of rights of forgiveness of consent and refusal of promise and request David Owens shows that these are all instruments by which we exercise control over our normative environment Philosophers from Hume to Scanlon have supposed that when we make promises and give our consent our real interest is in controlling or being able to anticipate what people will actually do and that our interest in rights and obligations is a by product of this more fundamental interest In fact we value for its own sake the ability to decide who is obliged to do what to determine when blame is appropriate to settle whether an act wrongs us Owens explores how we control the rights and obligations of ourselves and of those around us We do so by making friends and thereby creating the rights and obligations of friendship We do so by making promises and so binding ourselves to perform We do so by consenting to medical treatment and thereby giving the doctor the right to go ahead The normative character of our world matters to us on its own account To make sense of promise consent friendship and other related phenomena we must acknowledge that normative interests are amongst our fundamental interests We must also rethink the psychology of agency and the nature of social convention From The Thames To The Tiber J.
