The Altering Eye Robert Phillip Kolker, 2009 The Altering Eye covers a golden age of international cinema from the end of WWII through to the New German Cinema of the 1970s. Kolker's book has become a much quoted classic in the field of film studies, providing essential reading for anybody interested in understanding the history of European and international cinema. Altering Eye Robert Kolker Phillip, 2012 The Aesthetics of Antifascist Film Jennifer Lynde Barker, 2013 Through a series of detailed film case histories ranging from The Great Dictator to Hiroshima mon amour to The Lives of Others, The Aesthetics of Antifascist Film Radical Projection explores the genesis and recurrence of antifascist aesthetics as it manifests in the WWII, Cold War, and Post Wall historical periods. Emerging during a critical moment in film history, the 1930s and 1940s Hollywood cinematic antifascism was representative of the international nature of antifascist alliances with the amalgam of film styles generated in migr Hollywood during the WWII period, reflecting a dialogue between an urgent political commitment to antifascism and an equally intense commitment to aesthetic complexity. Opposed to a fascist aesthetics based on homogeneity, purity, and spectacle, these antifascist films project a radical beauty of distortion, heterogeneity, fragmentation, and loss. By juxtaposing documentation and the modernist techniques of surrealism and expressionism, the filmmakers were able to manifest a non-totalizing work of art that still had political impact. Drawing on insights from film and cultural studies, aesthetic and ethical philosophy, and socio-political theory, this book argues that the artistic struggles with political commitment and modernist strategies of representation during the 1930s and 40s resulted in a distinctive radical aesthetic form that represents an alternate strand of post-modernism.

The Films of Wim Wenders Robert Phillip Kolker, Peter Beicken, 1993-01-29 The authors trace the development of one of the most well-known directors of the New German Cinema that flourished in the 1970s and early 1980s. Examining Wim Wenders' career from his early film school productions through his mature works of the 1970s this book also analyses the most recent works as well as the themes and preoccupations that unite his oeuvre As the authors note Wenders works have been profoundly influenced by American films especially the road movie genre His own work often features characters who are always on the move in an attempt to capture a glimpse of their identity and place in the world They also represent a generation of postwar Germans seeking to redeem themselves and the history of their country by turning to American popular culture particularly its music and movies

Aesthetics and the Cinematic Narrative Michael Peter Bolus, 2019-08-26 Since the inception of cinema in the late nineteenth century filmmakers have employed a wide array of precursory aesthetic strategies in the conception and creation of their disparate works The existence of these traditional antecedents have afforded filmmakers a diverse range of technical and artistic applications towards the construction of their respective cinematic narratives Furthermore the socio political and cultural contexts in which films are conceived often inform the manner in which particular aesthetic sensibilities are selected and deployed Aesthetics and the Cinematic Narrative provides a concise historical survey of Aesthetics as a practical philosophical discipline and applies several of its underlying principles to the examination of filmic storytelling

The Films of Werner Herzog Timothy Corrigan, 2013-12-17 Given Herzog's own pronouncement that film is not the art of scholars but of illiterates it is not surprising that his work has aroused ambivalent and contradictory responses Visually and philosophically ambitious and at the same time provocatively eccentric Herzog's films have been greeted equally by extreme adulation and extreme condemnation Even as Herzog's rebellious images have gained him a reputation as a master of the German New Wave he has been attacked for indulging in a romantic naiveté and wilful self absorption To his hardest critics Herzog's films appear as little more than Hollywood fantasies disguised as high seriousness This book is an attempt to illuminate these contradictions It gathers essays that focus from a variety of angles on Herzog and his work The contributors move beyond the myths of Herzog to investigate the merits of his work and its place in film history A challenging range of films is covered from Fata Morgana and Aguirre the Wrath of God to more recent features such as Nosferatu and Where the Green Ants Dream offering the reader ways of understanding why whatever the controversies surrounding Herzog and his films he remains a major and popular international filmmaker Originally published in 1986
