Crash The Body In Crisis Body Story:

Crash Elaine Pascoe,2004 Go deep inside the body to see what happens when organs are injured See how ruptured arteries put deadly pressure on the brain and understand the impact of interrupted brain function throughout the body Then witness as the brain repairs itself and slowly regains the vital connections it had lost Nuclear Threats, Nuclear Fear and the Cold War of the 1980s Eckart Conze,Martin Klimke,Jeremy Varon,2017 The book brings together cutting edge scholarship from the United States and Europe to address political and cultural responses to the arms race of the 1980s

School Library Journal ,2004 Racialized Bodies, Disabling Worlds Parin Dossa,2009-01-01 In Racialized Bodies Disabling Worlds Parin Dossa explores the lives of Canadian Muslim women who share their stories of social marginalization and disenfranchisement in a disabling world She shows how these women who are subjected to social erasure in policy and research define their identities and claim their humanity using the language of everyday life Based on narrative ethnography Racialized Bodies Disabling Worlds makes a case for positive acknowledgement of perceived differences of nationality religion multiple abilities and gendered and race based identities It offers a powerful argument for bridging two disparate bodies of work disability studies and anti racist feminism Most significantly it shows how racialized Muslim women with disabilities are redefining the parameters of their social worlds and developing a distinctively pluralistic understanding of abilities This ground breaking work gives presence to the lives of people who are otherwise rendered socially invisible

Vint,2007-01-01 Bodies of Tomorrow argues for the importance of challenging visions of humanity in the future that overlook our responsibility as embodied beings connected to a material world Radiation Nation Natasha Zaretsky,2018-02-13 On March 28 1979 the worst nuclear reactor accident in U S history occurred at the Three Mile Island power plant in Central Pennsylvania Radiation Nation tells the story of what happened that day and in the months and years that followed as local residents tried to make sense of the emergency The near meltdown occurred at a pivotal moment when the New Deal coalition was unraveling trust in government was eroding conservatives were consolidating their power and the political left was becoming marginalized Using the accident to explore this turning point Natasha Zaretsky provides a fresh interpretation of the era by disclosing how atomic and ecological imaginaries shaped the conservative ascendancy Drawing on the testimony of the men and women who lived in the shadow of the reactor Radiation Nation shows that the region's citizens especially its mothers grew convinced that they had sustained radiological injuries that threatened their reproductive futures Taking inspiration from the antiwar environmental and feminist movements women at Three Mile Island crafted a homegrown ecological politics that wove together concerns over radiological threats to the body the struggle over abortion and reproductive rights and eroding trust in authority This politics was shaped above all by what Zaretsky calls biotic nationalism a new body centered nationalism that imagined the nation as a living mortal being and portrayed sickened Americans as evidence of betrayal The first cultural history of the accident Radiation Nation reveals the surprising ecological dimensions of post Vietnam conservatism while showing how growing anxieties surrounding bodily illness infused the political realignment of the 1970s in ways that blurred any easy distinction between left and right Revolutionary Bodies Emily Wilcox, 2018-10-23 At publication date a free ebook version of this title will be available through Luminos University of California Press's Open Access publishing program Visit www.luminosoa.org to learn more Revolutionary Bodies is the first English language primary source based history of concert dance in the People's Republic of China Combining over a decade of ethnographic and archival research Emily Wilcox analyzes major dance works by Chinese choreographers staged over an eighty year period from 1935 to 2015 Using previously unexamined film footage photographic documentation performance programs and other historical and contemporary sources Wilcox challenges the commonly accepted view that Soviet inspired revolutionary ballets are the primary legacy of the socialist era in China's dance field The digital edition of this title includes nineteen embedded videos of selected dance works discussed by the author Best Books for Children Catherine Barr, 2006 Contains more than 25 000 titles of books recommended for children in grades K 6 Murder by Accident Jody Enders, 2009-08-01 Over fifty years ago it became unfashionable even forbidden for students of literature to talk about an author's intentions for a given work In Murder by Accident Jody Enders boldly resurrects the long disgraced concept of intentionality especially as it relates to the theater Drawing on four fascinating medieval events in which a theatrical performance precipitated deadly consequences Enders contends that the marginalization of intention in critical discourse is a mirror for the marginalization and misunderstanding of theater Murder by Accident revisits the legal moral ethical and aesthetic limits of the living arts of the past pairing them with examples from the present whether they be reality television snuff films the accidental live broadcast of a suicide on a Los Angeles freeway or an actor who jokingly fired a stage revolver at his temple causing his eventual death This book will force scholars and students to rethink their assumptions about theory intention and performance both past and present The Abject of Desire Konstanze Kutzbach, Monika Mueller, 2007 The
