Alone in the Great Unknown Carroll Simpson, 2023-04-11 The inspiring story of how an urban woman came to own and operate a remote fishing lodge nestled deep in the British Columbian wilderness When Carroll Simpson fell in love with a cabin located on pristine Babine Lake in BC many miles away from her home in Washington State she knew her life was about to change After convincing her husband to abandon their dream of living aboard a sailboat they began the complicated process of buying the lodge and moving north For two years their adventure was a blissful dream Then tragedy struck

Following the sudden death of her husband Simpson was forced to decide her next move alone amidst deep grief would she sell the lodge or would she stay continuing the process of pursuing Canadian citizenship and running this remote lodge by herself No easy feat given accessing the lodge in summer required a forty mile round trip by boat and in the winter a passage on an ice breaker barge and a treacherous snowshoe trek This heartfelt memoir tells Simpson s story of living in the remote wilderness and managing the lodge becoming an accidental environmental activist fending off wild animals working as an angling guide and finally at the height of her career fighting off a proposed mining operation and participating in the development of a government land plan as a spokesperson for the wilderness tourism industry

Markedness and Language Change Viktor Elšik, Yaron Matras, 2008-08-22 Markedness is a central notion in linguistic theory This book is the first to provide a comprehensive survey of markedness relations across various grammatical categories in a sample of closely related speech varieties It is based on a sample of over 100 dialects of Romani collected and processed via the Romani Morpho Syntax RMS Database a comparative grammatical outline in electronic form constructed by the authors between 2000 2004 Romani dialects provide an exciting sample of language change phenomena they are oral languages which have been separated and dispersed from some six centuries and are strongly shaped by the influence of diverse contact languages The book takes a typological approach to markedness viewing it as a hierarchy among values that is conditioned by conceptual and cognitive universals But it introduces a functional pragmatic notion of markedness as a grammaticalised strategy employed in order to prioritise information In what is referred to as dynamic such prioritisation is influenced by an interplay of factors the values within a category and the conceptual notions that they represent the grammatical structure onto which the category values are mapped and the kind of strategy that is applied in order to prioritise certain value Consequently the book contains a thorough survey of some 20 categories e g Person Number Gender and so on and their formal representation in various grammatical structures across the sample The various accepted criteria for markedness e g Complexity Differentiation Erosion and so on are examined systematically in relation to the values of each and every category for each relevant structure The outcome is a novel picture of how different markedness criteria may cluster for certain categories giving a concrete reality to the hitherto rather vague notion of markedness Borrowing and its relation to markedness is also examined offering new insights into the motivations behind contact induced change
